YOUR HOROSCOPE.

INTRODUCTION.

Ye Stars which are the poetry of Heaven !
If, in your bright leaves we read the fate
Of men and empires—'tis to be forgiven,
That in our aspirations to be great,
Our destinies o'erleap this mortal state
And claim a kindred with you ; for ye are A beauty and a mystery and create
In us such love and reverence from afar,
That Life, Fame, Power and Fortune have named themselves a star *—

The value and practice of the science of Astrology were well understood in India by the ancient Aryans at a period of hoary antiquity. The question of the time at which the science arose is, probably, one in regard to which it is extremely difficult to arrive at a confident conclusion. It is, however, a well-known fact that in the earliest literature of the ancient Hindus, Astrology holds a prominent place. It was the first sketch of science of the ancient Brahmanas to whom a knowledge of astronomical positions was indispensable in order to determine the proper time for commencing and ending their sacrifices, "principally, the so-called Sutras or sacrificial sessions" which "could not be known without an accurate knowledge of the time of the Sun's northern or southern progress. The knowledge of the calendar forms such an essential part of the ritual that many important conditions of the latter could not be carried on without the former." † The brilliant views on the dome of the universe which they witnessed from night to night must have been a delightful study to the great sages who, having effected a deliverance and a separation from the low cares of mortality, were absorbed in "looking through Nature up to Nature's God". It must be observed that a knowledge of the motions and influences of the heavenly bodies and the laws by which they are governed with such perfect order and harmony, though highly requisite for the Brahmanā for the performance of sacrifices, instituted according to a certain order of time, was in fact but a "circumstance" in the serene ascent of intense meditation on divine wisdom and goodness, to render himself that pure and perfect image of his Great Original. Our limited faculties cannot imagine that subtle communion with nature which guided their studies of "mystical" subjects and by the help of which alone they had discovered the revolution of the earth and other planets round the Sun, the twelve Signs of the Zodiac, the nature and causes of Eclipses and the planetary positions and conjunctions, centuries before Copernicus, Galileo, Tycho Brahe, Kepler and the illustrious Sir Isaac Newton were born. The vision of the ancient Brahmana was, then, the soil from which Astrology sprang. He alone could explain the theory of his basis, if any, and there is no tradition about it. The opinion prevailed for some time that the 12 Signs were discovered in Egypt at some remote period and that they had a reference to the division of the seasons and the agriculture of that country at the time. Sir William Jones ascribes the discovery to Anaximander about 560 B.C., affirming, at the same time, that they had been known to the Hindus from time immemorial. Now, Anaximander was one of Thales' scholars, the other being Pythagoras who travelled through India, Egypt and Chaldea in pursuit of knowledge. In India we are told he learnt the theory of the rotation of the earth and all the other planets round the Sun as their centre, a doctrine which was adopted by Copernicus and followed up by Sir Isaac Newton. It is reasonable to suppose that Pythagoras, returning from his travels in the East, communicated, among other things, the doctrine, imparted to him by the Hindus about the 12 Signs of the Zodiac, to his contemporary, Anaximander.

In tracing the evolution of astronomy of the Aryans one sees the grandeur and precision of the meditation of the ancient Brahmanas who were the first to cultivate it and through whom the science came to light. The frontiers of its province have been extended by the discoveries of modern science which has revealed the subtler powers of nature and the great reservoirs of energy and their compositions. But, from those very early times, Astrology has been in high favour in India. The course of ages has communicated to it a fascination to which no other science has any pretension. The feasts and fasts of the Hindus, the allegories of Hindu mythology, the chief incidents of the Ramayana and the Mahabharatha are all connected with the configuration of planets. The Mundaka Upanishad, one of the earliest of the Upanishads, refers to Astrology as one of the six Vedangas. Students of Samskrit literature are aware of that earliest treatise on Astronomy, the Vedanga Jyotisha, which treats of the regulation of time by astronomical positions. These remarks seem relevant because, in the first place, they throw light upon the practice by the ancients, from the earliest times, of the science of Astronomy and of its Life-Side, Astrology, and, secondly, how the most enlightened of the earliest inhabitants of the earth derived their knowledge of the science which is still the most astoundingly accurate and which is still carefully followed up and taught by men of superior intelligence of every nation from age to age.

To ask or search I blame thee not; for heaven
Is as the book of God before thee set,
Wherein to read His wondrous works, and learn
His seasons, hours, or days, or months, or years.*

By the help of telescopes, Western scientists have been able to discover, investigate and determine the positions and the compositions of the heavenly bodies, their immense distance from one another, their diversity in magnitude and the phenomena they produce. Years of observation and experience supply them with the materials wherewith to build up a principle or a theory of scientific importance. The system of the ancient sage in India is different. That the Highest dwells with him is his working hypothesis. Disengaged from all worldly concerns and purified from every stain by the doctrine of austere devotion to Him, meditation was his key to unlock the marvels of Nature, "the perennial miracle which the soul worketh". The science of Astrology is a signal illustration of the value and preciseness of his absorption of mind in the Divine. Well said the poet:—

* * * Celestial Light

Shine inward, and the mind through all her powers
Irradiate ; there plant eyes, all mist from thence Purge and disperse that I may see and tell
Of things invisible to mortal sight.

Verily, to use the words of a great poet, do His radiant Ministers proclaim to the sage "the dust of your feet is the sphere of our orbit." Verily, again, it is said that the universe is represented in a dust, in a moment of time. Astrology demands purity of character and power of effective meditation, the master secrets of one and all the philosophers who flourished in the days of the childhood of our race. Out of those two principles of man's nature grow sound memory and the faculty of deductive judgment, much safer guides to the study of Astrology than the presumptive reasoning of man, for it is a science of the Life-Side of the heavenly bodies, while Astronomy treats of its Form-Side; and a knowledge of those things such as the influence, power, quality and tendency of the nature forces which do not admit of being put into scientific moulds or of being established by mathematical calculations are only open to those who have faith and the power of right meditation which purify and strengthen the imagination and enable one to know the essence and nature of all things by Intuition.

Before proceeding to study the separate character of each of the planets and its habitat, the student must acquire a knowledge of the Ecliptic, the Zodiac, the planetary orbs and the stars recognised by the ancients. The Ecliptic is that great circle of that celestial sphere which is the apparent path of the Sun, among the stars, or that of the earth, as seen from the Sun. It is called the Ecliptic because when any heavenly body is near the circle it is liable to be eclipsed i.e., deprived of the Sun's light, by some intervening body. The Zodiac (Rasi-Mandalam) is a broad circle or belt, surrounding the heavens, about 16° wide, along the middle of which runs the ecliptic or the Sun's path. It includes the paths of the Moon and all the principal planets and contains the twelve Signs or Divisions reckoned in the order in which they are given below, from (Aries) the point of intersection of the ecliptic and the equator:—Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius and Pisces. Since the Zodiac contains 360 degrees, each sign is 30 degrees. A degree is the daily step of the Sun on his annual path round the sky, among the stars. It is a unit of astronomical calculation. The six planets,—the Moon, (Satellite of the Earth) Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn—revolve round the Sun from West to East according to the order of the signs in the ecliptic i.e., from Aries to Taurus, then to Gemini and so on. Nearest to the Sun is Mercury; next to him is Venus; then comes (the Earth and her Satellite) the Moon, next to which is Mars. Jupiter is next in order, and after him comes Saturn. The Moon is the nearest to the earth of all planets. Mercury is the smallest of all. He and Venus revolve in orbits which are included within that of the earth. They are continually changing places among the fixed stars and are never seen in opposition to the Sun i.e., they do not appear in the Western horizon in the morning when he is in the east nor in the eastern when he appears in the west. By far the most brilliant of the planets is Venus, second in order of the solar system. She is an evening star (Hesperus) when she appears east of the Sun and a morning star (Phosphorus) when she is seen west of him. Next to her is the Moon, nearest to the earth of all planets. She revolves from one point of the heavens to the same point again in 27 days 7 hours 43 minutes and 4.7 seconds. This is called her tropical revolution and forms the Tropical or Periodical month. The mean-time of her revolution (with reference to the Sun) from the New-Moon to the New-Moon again consists of 29 days 12 hours 44 minutes and 2.7 seconds. This forms the Synodic month. The mean time of her rotation from one star back to the same star is 27 days 7 hours 43 minutes and 11.5 seconds. This is called the Sidereal month. Another astronomical month is the Solar Month, the 12th part of a Solar Year, the average time taken by the Sun to pass through a sign of the zodiac. A month, then, is the measure of time corresponding to the period of the Moon's revolution. She is a body depending like the earth on the Sun for her light and heat. The Moon rotates, while revolving, shining by light reflected from the Sun and passing through her phases every month. She is New when in conjunction with the Sun and no part of her enlightened side is visible. She is Full when the earth is between her and the Sun, when all the illuminated hemisphere is turned to the earth. The fortnight during which, as the Moon goes on in her orbit, the enlightened part comes more and more into view till the Full-Moon when the whole of the illumined disk will be towards us is called Sukla Paksha. The next fortnight during which her enlightened side is turned more and more from us till she comes into conjunction with the Sun, forms Krishna Paksha. Each day of Sukla Paksha (bright fortnight) and of Krishna Paksha (dark fortnight) is called a Thithi and each of the Thithis from the Full-Moon or the New-Moon denotes a particular phase of the Moon, a proper notion of which may be gathered from her appearance.

It may not be out of place here to refer to the division of time into weeks. The period of seven days is distinguished by the names of the seven planets beginning in the order of their distance from the Earth, from which origin their present names are derived. Sunday is the Sun's day and its lord is the Sun. Monday is the Moon's day and the Moon is its lord. Tuesday (Tuesco's day) is presided over by Mars. Wednesday (Woden's day) is presided over by Mercury. The lord of Thursday (Thor's day) is Jupiter. Venus governs Friday (Friga's day). Saturday is Saterne's day and Saturn is its lord. We now proceed to Mars which is known in the heavens by a dusky red appearance. He completes a revolution round the Sun in 1 year and 321 days. Of immense magnitude is Jupiter, the largest of all planets distinguished by his peculiar brilliancy. His term of revolution round the Sun is 11 years 317 days 14 hours 2 minutes 8½ seconds. The most distant of the solar system is Saturn shining with a pale dead light. He performs his journey through the Zodiac in about $29\frac{1}{4}$ years. Then there are the Dragon's Head (Rahu) and the Dragon's Tail (Kethu). They are respectively the Ascending and the Descending Nodes or points where the ecliptic is crossed by the Moon. The one points northward where the Moon begins her north latitude and the other, where she begins her south latitude. "The deviation from the ecliptic made by a planet in passing from one node to the other seems, according to the fancy of some, to make a figure like that of a Dragon whose belly is where there is the greatest latitude, the intersections representing the Head and Tail." *The Dragon's Head is dark and the Dragon's Tail is of ruddy color.

This sketch of the planets and the divisions of time, necessarily brief and, in the main, a summary of what may be found in various treatises, brings me to the mystical aspect of the heavenly bodies. The conception of the sages does not stop with a superficial view of the stars and the planets and the celestial areas covered by them. They realise that the planets are entrusted with the duty of declaring clear and well-balanced instructions based on the laws of the First Cause in which we live and move and have our being and which are potent equally in every part of His realm. Fire, air, earth, water, planets and animals, are all subjected to, or, aided by the motions of the planets. They cannot be separated from anything that has life in it. To study the influence of the planets is to know what one is worth, what one can do and should do to prepare oneself, by purity, so as to reproduce His laws in all functions of life in process of evolution. Man is the being in whom the powers of truth and light and the powers of his own nature are at perpetual war, the one struggling to root out the other. In the material body which the Supreme Self has evolved we have two systems in which Its manifestation as Cosmos is complete—the one, the Mental, and the other, the Material, each having its own law of existence and working. These two systems constitute the Embodied Self: the one, the inner movement, and the other, the outward life, of the individual. Starting from this primary data, Astrology explains the past, present and future of these movements, their character and their capacity by the fundamental division of the planets into Benefics and Malefics. Jupiter, the largest of all planets, signifies the Universal Mind, the Divine within everything, possessed of its unity of all diversities, infinite in its scope but one in its works, in which these two movements are formed, the one creating and delivering currents of life and the other, using them, thus giving rise to the multitudinous activities of existence and all its inscrutable mysteries. Jupiter is a Full Benefic and his position in a horoscope indicates the measure of help which the individual will evoke from Above. Jupiter is therefore said to preside over the "Store-House"—the Store-House in which all forms exist, out of which all manifestations emanate, into which all these vanish. He is never a Malefic as he is beyond the sins of the Lower Self. He is the Ishwara of the Planetary Logos. His deity ‡ is Indra, the King of the Gods.

Next to Jupiter is Venus of overpowering lustre, the Jivatma of the Planetary Logos, a fragment of Ishwara with name and form, wrapped up in the body and held captive by the instincts of animal life in the universe. The Jivatma may either be stirred by true devotion to Him, and, redeeming his lower nature, evolve towards union with Ishwara, or, sense-struck, plunge into the ocean of desire and remain slave to Maya (Delusion). Venus proclaims the stage of evolution of the Jivatma. She is not a full Benefic. As a reflection of the splendour of Ishwara, she is all powerful, but by identification with the animal kingdom, built by Ishwara for her dwelling, she becomes ignorant and helpless—as far from the God-idea as she is near. Therefore, she is a Benefic and Malefic planet. Her Deity is Indrani, the wife of Indra.

‡ Idandra, changed into Indra, (Idam Pashyati, who sees This, who sees the not-Self) is the name of Ishwara.—The Aitareya Upanishad.

She is blind of one eye : and the products of her activity on the lower plane are those of a game of a blind man's bluff. Lower down the plane of Venus is the realm of abstract thought, creative reasoning and serene intelligence. Planet Mercury is bidden to reveal the nature and capacity of the individual on this plane. Mercury is said to preside over the Play-Ground, for there, in his plane, the twofold activities of the mind are set in play towards a definite end—a perpetual game of see-saw between the law of its own inward movement reflected from that which is beyond, on the one hand, and all forms of mental life on the other, so as to obtain a result conformable to the Parent Will. Therefore, Mercury, as far from the God-idea as he is near, is a Benefic and Malefic planet. His Deity is Vishnu, the Preserver of the Laws of the world, the God who follows nature in all her forms to maintain them. The fourth is the plane of the Moon, the plane of Manas (mind), the receptacle of an endless diversity of forms, names, assumptions and sensations. The Moon declares its nature and capacity. The Moon—Manas—may either be a luminous God in the individual, inspiring him to happier ascents and conquest of worldly desires, embracing a knowledge of the One from whom she derives her light, or, her growing splendour may be enshrouded in ignorance, her submission to the outer senses, to the animal man, may impede the bounty from the "Store-House" of the Planetary Logos. She is said to preside over the Natural Waters of the Earth. Mind, like a stream, runs through myriads of different channels and takes the color of its contacts. Water is the softest and, at the same time, the most potential on earth. Hence, mind, divine in its essential nature and, for that reason, a Benefic, is also a Malefic by union with the perishable. Her Deity is Varuna, the God of the Waters. These four entities constitute the Mental system.

Wrapping up and obscuring these entities is dense matter, the physical body, the seat of an unceasing lust for food and never-sated thirst, the eater and the self-nourisher. Mars is its God. He presides over the Fire-spot, for man is built up of a number of fire-atoms and is the summation of an endless process of combustion and alimentation through and through. Mars shows physical valour, so essential for the acquisition of existing objects, and the establishment of fertile fields for material pleasure. In the Vedas, Agni is described as the Son of Strength. Mars is a Malefic, because, eternally far from the God-idea, he sustains and nourishes the transient and perishable. He finds his salvation in the God Subramanya, the Ideal Child of Action, the Warrior God against the Asura (demoniacal qualities) in the battle field of the universe, the antagonism of the latter taking colossal forms. The two wives of the Deity emphasise His devotion to Matter. With terrible obstinacy the war is waged until the Asura grows into the recognition of his subsistence on the Deva. The eventual enthronement of the latter on the back of the former signifies the final adjustment between the two forces, the adaptation of the one to the other. Right activity consists in the harmonious combination of the material and the spiritual. United to and preserved in the physical body of man is its power of activity in the outer world—the scheme, “ungodly” in its nature, which descends into and drags, in the mire of degrading desires and superstitions of the world, the lower mind of man. Planet Saturn, lame, and of pale-dead colour, represents this form of physical activity. Mars claims the service of Saturn, both equally removed from the God-idea. Saturn takes hold of the advantages of the external world, pulls by his hand, bites with his teeth and tries to maintain them. He tumbles down of his own weight, under his ballast of goods, and, as comprehension increases, limps along in the wake of events and improves by what he rejects. One experience of his is swept away by another. Therefore, Saturn is said to preside over the place where Sweepings are gathered. All physical experiences and sensations, so much needed for the training and development of the evolving Ego, proceed from the plane of Saturn. Saturn, in the Planetary Logos, governs the domain of activities in which is rooted the processes of other planets and which blossom into experience. Saturn is the ‘Creator’ of the Planetary Logos and without him all other planets must go to sleep. Therefore, his Diety is Brahma, the Creator. Where, in a horoscope, Saturn is ill-placed, weak and besieged, the individual will be tactless, intractable and shallow-minded. Where he rises well-dignified, the individual is firm, considerate, austere, sympathetic and of an esoteric turn of mind. Saturn and Mars are malefics and when, in a horoscope, they rise powerful, in conjunction, the individual puffs with rage and folly and a heated imagination. One more planet remains and, that is, the Sun, the centre of the Solar System, round which the six Shining Ones revolve; for, the Sun in the Planetary Logos represents the Life-Energy of the universe—the Prana that sustains all inward and outward activities. The Upanishads tell us that without Prana, Atma itself cannot move. Its activity in man is sixfold. Proceeding upwards from the lowest plane that we know of, we find, there, Prana grasping, oppressive, and selfish under the encumbrance of ignorance; in the physical body Prana exists as hunger for food, thirst, lust, nourishment and strength; in the mental, we realise its existence as thought, impulse and sensation; in the plane of Mercury Prana is discrimination and contemplation; higher up, in the plane of the Jivatma, Prana is manifest in Will-Power; in the highest of these, the plane of Jupiter, the activity of Prana is the emanation of the teeming myriads of world-systems and universes in endless space. Therefore, verily, it is said that the Sun (Prana) presides over the Place of Worship: the Shining Ones will have neither existence nor movement where Prana does not abide.

It follows then that these two systems, the Mental and the Material, act on each other, the one representing the inward movement into the All, and the other, a multiplicity of forms constituted from it. The one thinks and the other works. Benefics on the Side of Thought and Malefics on the Side of Things. The one represents the God-idea and the other the Sense-idea. Malefics conduct the movements of the world and Benefics express the law of energy at work. Benefics furnish a solution of the world-problem, while Malefics render it more and more incomprehensible. Malefics improve by denials, while Benefics are self-sustaining. Benefics progress by comprehension, while Malefics improve by sweeping away ignorance. Benefics improve by what they take in and Malefics by what they ignore. Benefics belong to the higher plane and Malefics to the lower. The mutual dependence of the two systems is functional. In the purification of thought and assumptions is the solution and adjustment of the Side of Things. Malefics co-operate with and become Benefics by a process of dematerialisation—now receiving, now rejecting, now accepting, now denying. Both express the same law—the law of the timed operations of Nature—the Material merging into the Mental and the Mental falling to rest into the bosom of the Eternal. Astrology, then, is the lamp of the law of the world-systems, aiming at the affirmation of the Reality which is the recognised theme of all religions. I have enlarged on this occult side of the subject at some length, because a knowledge of it gives a clue to the labyrinths of Astrology. Did I aim at completeness, I might pursue these studies and describe the relation-values of planets and the methods of applying these principles to exactitude. But it would be too long to be included in a brief introduction like this. I reserve it for another book. I must also say a word on the Dragon's Head and the Dragon's Tail. Both are Malefics: where in a horoscope Rahu rises powerful, the individual receives a chequered career and learns the bitter lessons of life—by personal experience, experiment or speculation. Kethu, powerfully located, is less trying and progress comes to the individual—through analogy, observation and faith. Astrological occultism teaches us that these seven Planets represent the seven Planes of Consciousness, from dense material body to the innermost shrine wherein dwells the Supreme.

* * * the great world's altar-stairs
That slope through darkness up to God.

Here, is a theory of life which Astrology uses for the purpose of instructing the progressive soul as to his prior and future state of existence, warning him of the one law at work, indicating the right track and the right method of activity, the nature of his faculties and their limitations, the penalties of violations, the reward for merits on the great stage of the world's existence. It must be borne in mind that the narratives given of each of these planets such as the residences, statures, colours, characteristics and other details, which to the ignorant may seem a curiosity of antique literature, are all standpoints which the sages have adopted in order to teach us to determine the signification of the planets in respect of the several physical and mental qualities and enable us to purify activity, win merit and procure salvation. Let no man, then, be so simple as to suppose that the planets possess a jurisdiction similar to his own and that his own condition is perhaps as excellent as theirs. The attributes are merely cloaks. Common people, the barbarous and the uninstructed had no place in the scheme of the esoteric teaching of the Rishis. The true doctrine of the mysteries which was the mine of their intellectual wealth was divulged only to the "elect" candidates as a reward for their life-long practice of virtue and wisdom. That has been the rule with the sages of India from pre-Vedic times, and in Greece, Egypt and everywhere else.

Unto you is given to know the Mystery of the kingdom of God : but to them that are without all these things are done in parables.

The same enigmatical manner we trace in the pictorial representations of the Zodiacal signs the names of which are already familiar to the reader. The following lines will enable the reader to remember them and their order easily:—

The Ram, the Bull, the heavenly Twins,
And next the Crab, the Lion shines,
The Virgin and the Scales,
The Scorpion, the Archer and the Sea-Goat,
The man who holds the Watering Pot,
And Fish with glittering tails.

The twelve signs of the Zodiac respectively represent, the head, face, breast, heart, belly, navel, abdomen, genital organ, tooth, eyes, two knees, two ankles and the two feet of Kalapurusha. Astrology has thus given birth to Chiromancy, a branch of which is Palmistry in which the influence of the planets are indicated by the mounts, lines and marks on the palm. That this system of astrology flourished in the olden days, and was enjoyed to a wonderful degree, is evident from the several exhaustive works on the subject in India.

It may perhaps be useful to say a few words by way of defining the six systems which constitute the Science of Astrology. They are (1) Mundane or National Astrology (2) Atmospheric Astrology or the Annual Horoscope, (3) Genethliacal or Natal Astrology (4) Transit System, (5) Horary Astrology (6) Election System. Mundane astrology deals with celestial phenomena such as Equinoxes, Solstices, New-Moons, Eclipses, Planetary Conjunctions and Comets. The time of their occurrence is ascertained to the second by mathematical calculations. It also includes a study of the influence of these phenomena upon countries, nations and peoples. The study is more or less mechanical and much easier than that of any of the other systems. Our Almanacs are based upon this branch. Atmospheric Astrology or the Annual Horoscope is the art of foretelling the condition of the weather, the nature of the season—a function that is now attempted, in a way, by the Meteorological Department of the Government. Forecasts of weather registered by this Department are often known to prove incorrect. I venture to think that it would be well for the Government to encourage the study of at least this branch of the subject which, to be sure, will amply repay investigation. The observations recorded by the Department may be considerably strengthened by a study of this system. The results will then be far more satisfactory. Chapter 41 treats of the influence of the planets, under this system, on rainfall, agricultural growth, metals, fluid substances and seeds etc. Forecasts are made from the nature of the planet that presides over each of these during any given year. The most interesting, and at the same time the most complicated, is the Natal branch which deals with the individual horoscope and foretells the character and destiny of the native from the Rising Sign and the positions, aspects and conjunctions etc of planets at the moment of his birth. Chapter II of this book is a study of the effects of the Rising Sign (Ascendant) and the position of planets at the moment, of a child's birth by the ordinary rules of this branch.

The whole system turns upon the actual moment of birth ; and the determination of that moment and the then Rising Sign are the most important. The figure, commonly known as a horoscope, contains the twelve Divisions of the Zodiac, described above as the twelve Signs. It is usually drawn in a square form, the one recommended by Jaimini and which is easily understood. The zodiacal places of planets for the required time can be ascertained from the Dhriḡ-Ganitha almanac, or, The Indian Ephemeris. In Natal Astrology we realise that man has a sphere and a habitat in the system of the universe, that his individual power and fortune, in the course of his career, rest on universal law, the operation of which, before and behind him, is revealed by the celestial bodies, and that he is in the care of a Providence without whose knowledge no infant can cry. But the inner secret of the science, briefly outlined in the preceding pages, is only for those who, having realised that some light upon the problem of existence is attainable, approach it, not in the spirit of satisfying a low curiosity, such as, for instance, the determination of the date of a prospective promotion or a preferment merely, but to gain an insight into the actual nature and influence of the sublime forces at work, into the essence and nature of his origin, his powers of self-reliance which no human thought can span, and the grand possibility, which is the right of every child that has come to birth, of raising his own conduct and vision to the loftiness and precision of natural agents, no matter what prize he pays for it. It is then that he comprehends that his essential stature, as a physical and intellectual being, is such as no human legislation or propaganda can alter and that every confusion that besets his career can be converted into wholesome force. To the fool who thinks that he is perfect, that his mission on earth is a festival, horoscopy has no message. A brief outline of the Lunar Horoscope or Transit system is given on page 206. The Horary system deals with the art of foretelling the result of any undertaking or transaction. The Rising Sign and the zodiacal places of the planets are determined, for the moment of asking the question for horary answer. The scope of this branch is limited to the prediction of events relating to the immediate future.

I next come to the subject of this book, the Election system. Here, the work of astrology becomes complete. It is here that the science does substantial service to the student. The Election system is by far the simplest and the most useful, from the point of view of the daily life of every man. The study is based upon the principle that the condition of the celestial bodies has a significant and perpetual bearing upon every department of his activity. They cause regret or happiness, disgrace or respect, failure or success, profit or loss, poverty or wealth, according to their situation in the heavens and the quality and the quantity of the influence they shed upon the activity of the individual at the time. It is a study of the highest importance to every one wishing to understand the fortunate time for performing a function, for celebrating an event, for starting a concern, so that he may achieve the best possible results in accordance with his desire and efforts. The instructions are simple, clear and to the point. There is no important function left out that the man of the world may need. Every one has his fortunate and unfortunate moments, his own fruitful or good-for-nothing planets, his adverse Signs, Thithis and Asterisms. The Election system teaches us to think and help ourselves in our daily lives in the astrological way. The other five systems tell us mainly, among other things, what lies in the womb of the future, given the Rising Sign of the Zodiac and the planetary positions for a particular moment. The province of the Election system is different. It tells us what should be the Rising Sign and the configuration of planets etc. at the time of commencing a good function. Here, the reader understands the strength and quality of each planet or asterism, its separate and conjunctional influence, the measure and quality of its aspects and the particular function or functions in which it manifests its sympathy. In the Foreword, the learned author recommends daily study of the Panchangam, for a knowledge of the day, the Thithi, the asterism, the Yoga and the Karana is the first requisite for a correct application of its methods. This book and a copy of the Almanac are all that is required to enable one to follow the rules in practice. Every effort has been made in the translation to explain fully all astrological terms; explanatory notes and illustrations are also added, wherever necessary, so that any layman could apply the rules without the aid of an astrologer. The reader must first study the Appendix and become familiar with Thithis, Asterisms and Planets and other details. Chapters 33 and 34 may next be perused with advantage as they contain lists of most of the Constructive and the Destructive Yogas besides an explanation of technical words. This done, it would be easy to follow the other chapters.

There is a time for sowing, a time for reaping, a time to get married, a time for healing, for surgical operation, for taking medicine, for turning the first sod, for heaping up money or grains, for discharging a debt, for starting on a journey, for building, for buying and selling, and for the various other functions on which health, happiness and success depend. One outstanding feature of the 'Election' is the predominant influence ascribed to Asterisms. The Thithis and their Yogas also play an important part. Herein lies the completeness of the study of astrology. To study the Thithis, Asterisms, Yogas, and Karanas etc. is to study the Election system, and to understand the Election system is to understand the science of astrology in full. In Vedic times the celestial latitude was divided into 27 equal parts or Nakshathras. Modern science has divided it into degrees, minutes and seconds. Each Nakshathra (asterism) was divided by the ancients into 4 quarters, each quarter being known as a Nakshathra-Padha or a stellar-quarter. It is wonderful to think how the old-world geniuses discovered these minute points in the heavens and compelled them to a prophecy of the monsoons etc. The Vishnu Purana, one of the oldest of the Puranas, refers to Nakshathra-Padhas (stellar quarters) in ascertaining the vernal and the autumnal equinoxes. There were those, in the Vedic and pre-Vedic periods, who held that the total number of asterisms were 28, including Abijith. This asterism occurs in two or three places in this book. It is an intercalary asterism formed by the contiguous parts of the 21st and the 22nd asterisms—Utharashada and Sravana. The Lunar Zodiac, however, contains only twenty seven. Abijith was expunged long ago and does not occur in any of the other systems of astrology: as far as I know. The Samhithas make mention of twenty-eight, including Abijith, but writers like Prof. Max Muller are of opinion that the original number was twenty seven.

Want of space forbids further development of the subject and a detailed examination of the subtler principles. The farther we go into the study, the deeper the revelations. To one who has carefully examined the Six Systems, the whole universe will seem an Institution of Astrology. Planets foretell the condition of the atmosphere, the nature of the seasons, the condition of plant and animal life, the disposition of the mind, and the course of man's destiny. The mental and the physical qualities of man are moulded by the quality and influence of the stars and planets to which everything else in the world is subjected. Moving inwards the Clock of Astrology indicates the 'mental variety' in man, the path of experience and renunciation, by which the evolving Ego, abstracted from all earthly considerations, becomes one with the Divine. Moving outwards, the Clock declares the law of the world-events, the destinies of nations and of individuals, on every side of existence. This is its 'physical variety.' The inward movement of the clock shows the religious, as its outward movement, the business side, so to speak, of the One Life that pervades the universe. The world is the shop, the planets and the asterisms are the Directors, and Cause and Effect, the Chancellors of the Exchequer. It has been said that planets influence the destinies of nations. Furthermore, each planet has its own World-System—a Race of Humanity, specifically embodying the strength and qualities which that planet stands for. We have the Solar Race—the Race of the Sun, the planet who, as already observed, represents Prana. King Rama with his bow, illustrating the law of heaven to raise what is low and bring down what is high, Hanuman of indomitable spirit, of pervasive and ubiquitous nature, Ravana stern, severe and unbending were all manifestations, by the Jivatma, of Prana-Sakthi, the predominant quality of the Sun, which was generally distributed among the people of the Solar Race. We have next the Lunar Race. Yuddhishta, the meek, Bhima, the vindictive, Arjuna, the chivalrous, the diplomatic Krishna, the generous Karna, the devoted Ghandhari, the high-souled Bhishma, the blunt Balarama, the imperious Droupadhi, the loyal Drona, the jealous Dhuryodhana and the unprincipled Sakuni were all of the Lunar Race—the race of the Moon in which the qualities of the Mind—the realm of the Moon—were prominently brought into view by the Jivatma. Valour and heroism were the key-note of the Solar Race as ambition and chivalry were the key-note of the Lunar. The former represented the Sun (Prana-Sakthi); the latter the Moon (*Manas).

The present is the race of Mars, embodying the utilitarian spirit which is the predominant quality, as stated before, of Mars. Mars, as described in the preceding pages, is the Deva of the material plane. The growing spirit of utility has called to its assistance electricity and steam, has seized upon the hidden wealth in things and transformed them into handmaids to administer to all the wants of the body. In the unceasing struggle of life, he (Mars) spans the heavens by Zeppelins and sounds the depths and shoals of the ocean by sub-marines—all prompted by earth-hunger. The war that is now going on in Europe is a demonstration of the activity of the Jivatma, influenced by Mars—the utilitarian spirit. In the use that is now made of Zeppelins and sub-marines, we have witnessed the tragic phases of the activity attributed to him by the doctrine of astrology. Modern utilitarianism, distributed by Mars among the race, is making such revolutionary discoveries that one would wonder if the world will cease to marvel at the achievements of the heroes of the Solar and Lunar races. If valour and heroism, ambition and chivalry, were the respective distinctions of the Solar and the Lunar races, gluttony and utilitarianism mark the race of Mars. In the coming race, the influence of Mercury is bound to predominate, and the geniuses that now and then appear in different parts of the world, few and far between, give promise of a race wherein intellectualism will be the paramount force, manifested by the Jivatma.

* Manas is defined in the Upanishads as the organ of thinking, pervaded by the senses,

I have ventured to expatiate upon the subject of astrology, at some length, not because books are written but because I have found its truth attested in my deepest experience. In my present method of life is the confession that I do not know what to do with the promise of Brahma-Rundhra and I am pretty sure that, were it possible that I should not be born, there would be no gap in the system of the universe. But, having come to birth, the chief question is how to be guided in the pursuit of worldly happiness? It is easy to marry in haste, to unite in passion and propagate, to build a mansion and multiply luxuries ad infinitum. All these things are as much the need of the inferior animals as of mine. But the question of all questions is the question when shall I marry, when shall I unite in sexual love, how shall I build, enjoy, move, preserve health and prolong life and so discipline every function of existence as to evoke the true melody of life, and procure greater and more lasting achievements by co-operating with the laws of nature? If these are important matters for consideration, if marriage and sexual union are indispensable to respectability and happiness, on this side the grave, and if the universe is governed by a law, and is law itself, where is the wisdom in ignoring or denying the existence of a law for determining suitability of marriage and the time for celebrating it, so that the union may be fruitful of mutual bliss and the offspring, such as the married couple may be proud of? Divorces and futile marriages are only accounted for from the standpoints of astrology. Sir Bulwer Lytton, in pages so charming, has stated that the world's great question is "What will he do with it"? More momentous than that is the question "When and how will he do it"? To this astrology alone has the right answer. As in food, medicine, or music, so in Time, it is selection that determines the results.

What, it may be asked, about the objections raised against astrology? No good purpose is to be served by instancing in detail the misconceptions that obtain among some professional astrologers and among some of those who have sought their aid for astrological information. Want of skill in the astrologer is by no means the only cause for the failure of any prediction. There are also certain rules which the querist himself has to observe, even if the object of consulting astrology be, as in many instances, to satisfy a low, if not an insincere, curiosity. I, as an astrologer, deserve neither praise nor censure. My defects may be due either to poverty of genius or to imperfections of character. What matters it to astrology that my plea for the study of it here seems puerile and my style unconvincing? To reject the science on the score of an incorrect prediction by some astrologer is fatal to all sane investigation. There are only two methods of arriving at the truth—personal research and the testimony of others. One must approach the subject in the spirit of a humble pupil of the great sages and pursue its study, for a knowledge of astrology will alone reveal the secrets of astrology. A judgment not founded upon any of these two methods is not entitled to any weight. Nature unfolds her secret to him who pursues its study in a disinterested spirit. Those who study it merely from a professional point of view can scarcely hope to contribute to the advancement of the science.

It may, perhaps, be appropriate, in this connection, to quote the reassuring words of Dr. Huxley. "Looking at the question from the most rigidly scientific point of view, the assumption that, amidst the myriads of worlds scattered through endless space, there can be no intelligence as much greater than man's as his is greater than a black beetle's; no being endowed with the powers of influencing the course of nature as much greater than his as his is greater than a snail's, seems not merely baseless but impertinent. Without stepping beyond the analogy of that which is known it is easy to people the cosmos with entities in ascending scale until we reach something practically indistinguishable from Omniscience, Omnipotence and Omnipresence. If our limited intelligence can, in some matters, surely reproduce the past of thousands of years ago and anticipate the future, thousands of years hence, it is clearly within the limits of possibility that some greater intellect, even of the same order, can mirror the whole past and the whole future." This philosophy of a possibility, of Dr. Huxley, after the methods of Science, must slumber beside the visions of the mighty Sages of India, after the methods of Intuition. Science can go no further than recognise the possibility, in such matters, for it can only describe what is perceptible to sense. But the point on which I wish to insist is more clearly brought out by Dr. Richard Saunders, (1671) a voluminous writer on these subjects who seems to have felt something of the truth of this ancient and singularly fascinating science. "The stars", he says, "have such an influential power over us that we act by them, and though they are but Second Causes, their influences do so necessitate us that we cannot avoid their fatality, unless we have recourse to the First Cause which governs this all".

The precepts of astrology are founded upon the law of the First Cause the doors of which are open to the intuition of the Yogi. Galileo's law of falling bodies and Newton's law of motion were all intuitions. Indian astrology is waiting for some historic genius who, armed with a salutary love of science, will demonstrate its actuality at the bar of the Realism of modern thought. No human effort can deprive a science of its importance which the most enlightened of all ages have contributed to build up. And, as long as human judgment remains sound and well-balanced, the testimony of a Garga, Parasara, Varaha Mihira, Pulaha, Chayana, Brigu, Vyasa and other illustrious luminaries will be entitled to decided preference and veneration.

I must here express my gratitude to Pandit Sri. Saptharishi Bhaghavathar Avl. of Tanjore for his scholarly services in the uphill work of manipulating and editing the original Samskrit text. Those who are able to love Astrology will be interested to learn that an Association has been formed with the object of promoting the Study, Investigation and Practice of the Science, and that this Book is issued under its auspices, in the earnest belief that every reader will, by his affectionate attention to its precepts, call the blessings of the Hierarchy of Planets on his exertions, so requisite for his well-being.

KALAPRAKASIKA.

FOREWORD.

CHAPTER I.

I worship the Eternal Narasimha Deva, brilliant as the spotless crystal and eternally seated with the Goddess Maha Lakshmi on the throne resplendent with gems.

I adore Viswaksena, the Commander-in-Chief of Mahavishnu, the Wearer of the Discus, by meditation upon whom all impediments vanish at a distance.

I go unto the lotus feet of Vadhula Varadachary for shelter, by contemplating which all obstacles disperse.

I offer my humble salutation to Narasimharya, the head of the family of Vadhoola, who easily bestows on his devotees all enjoyments here, on earth, and salvation, hereafter.

I prostrate myself at the feet of Samarapungava who has received the grace of Kantopayantra Yogindra, and is well-versed in Logic, Grammar, Mimamsa and other sciences and whose incarnation has made the world happy.

Having thoroughly mastered the ancient text books on the science, I, Narasimhan, the son of Varadarya, of the family of Baradwaja at Proudarayapuram (Poli-Pakkam) distinguished for virtue, learning and parentage, propose to write this book, Kalaprakasika, embodying the essential principles of the science of Astrology.

The student trying to master the contents of the various ancient astrological works is likely to feel bewildered, finding them too high and elaborate ; only here and there does he find any nutriment to his mind. The aim of this compilation is to present the substance of the several astrological texts in a concise and intelligible form. In preference to other works, such as Muhoorta Paddhati, on the subject, I trust that this treatise of mine will be appreciated by the world for whose benefit it is intended.

Study of the Panchangam.—He who makes a study of the Panchangam (almanac)—the Tithi, the Varam, the Nakshatra, the Yoga and the Karana of every day—becomes free from all sins. Knowledge of Tithi brings prosperity; knowledge of Varam prolongs life; knowledge of Nakshatra causes the destruction of sins; knowledge of Yoga gives immunity from disease; knowledge of Karana leads to success in all endeavors. Thus, "Pancha-angam" (the five Angas or Limbs) bestows five kinds of blessing. To the best of "Dvijas" a knowledge of astrology is absolutely essential, for, thereby, he obtains the fourfold bliss, namely, Dharma, Artha, Kama and Moksha. He who, without a proper study of the authorities, professes to have a knowledge of astrology, administration of justice, penal laws, or medical science, is said to commit a sin equal to that of murdering a Brahmana. He who pretends to a knowledge of any science without a careful study of the authoritative texts thereon—be he painter, poet, physician or astrologer—is condemned to hell, as long as the Sun and the Moon endure. But he who interprets the science in the light of the authorities, with a knowledge of its theory and practice is said to meet with a reward greater than that bestowed upon the performer of Asvamedha sacrifice. In the same manner, the astrologer who has a thorough knowledge of the beneficial and adverse effects of a Muhoortha, receives a benefit, meritorious to him beyond measure and is praised in the three worlds. Any treatise on astrology should be based on accurate and well-grounded knowledge. Charlatanry is a crime. The true astrologer must be regarded as divine. One who does an act of dishonour to him loses the rewards due for all one's acts of virtue.

Just as a lighted lamp illuminates the objects around it, "Kalaprakasika" mirrors the quality of Time. Though there are more elaborate treatises on the subject, I trust that to those who have an eye for real merit this book will be of absorbing interest. Good and evil are the constitutive elements of Time. A day, absolutely auspicious and devoid of adverse moments, is rare even in the experience of the Devas; it is the duality of both. Innumerable are the adverse influences that manifest through each one of the twenty seven asterisms; and there is no asterism but manifests some unfavourable quality. As, therefore, it is impossible to find a wholly auspicious day it would be well to choose one in which there is a preponderance of benefic, over adverse, effects. * * The following texts have been consulted in the compilation of this work:— Vahsishtam, Kaladheepam, Kaladharsam. Paddhathi, Naradheeyam, Ahthrayam, Vachaspathyam and several other authorities.

JATHA-KARMA—THE CHILD'S NATIVITY.

CHAPTER II.

This Samskara, known as Jatha-Karma, should be done immediately after the child's birth. The learned say that the appropriate time for the function is before commencing to suckle the child or before cutting off the navel string. If, however, one should miss that period, an auspicious day, thereafter, (after cutting off the navel string) should be selected according to the rules. The father should have a look at the child at a very lucky moment so that their lives may be fruitful of mutual good. To see the child when the rising sign is a fixed one, and the moon well-dignified, improves health, prolongs life and increases prosperity.

Birth (by astrology) is determined in three ways—(1) The moment of appearance of the head, (2) The moment of appearance of the tip of the nose, (3) The moment of parturition of the child. The position of the planets must be noted the moment the nose is sighted. [In practice, however, the 3rd alone constitutes birth.] The father must look at the child soon after its birth. In doing so, it is stated that the father discharges his duty to his Pitris (fore-fathers). He should, then, with the permission of the Brahmanas, have his bath with clothes on, in a river or a tank, facing north. Anger, niggardliness, contempt for the Sastras, indifference to the advice of learned Brahmanas, ill-merited charity, atheistic turn of mind—all these should be flung away, for they prove fatal even to Indra's son. Gifts of cow, earth, gold, cloth, jewel and sesamum, and paddy seeds should be given away. This over, the strength of the Lagna (the Ascendant) should be considered, because the learned in astrology give much importance to the Lagna. The birth of the child must be made known to the astrologer who will note the configuration of the planets at the time. The astrologer must not however be approached empty-handed. If the father be an astrologer himself, he may reflect upon the quality of the horoscope himself.

* * * *

General Judgment on a Nativity.—The Sun, the Moon, Mars and Kethu, occupying the Lagna (Ascendant) affect the parents and the child adversely. The mother will die if the 2nd house be occupied by the Sun, Saturn and Mars.

Mercury in the 3rd house brings evil on the mother. Rahu in the 4th house hurts the child. The Sun, the Moon, Saturn and Mars in the 5th house cause evil to the parents, brothers and the native. The moon in the 6th house in conjunction with a malefic planet causes danger to the life of the mother.

Any malefic in the 7th house will cause evil to the mother.

The Moon in the 8th, 9th or 10th house, without Jupiter in any of the quadrants (1st, 4th, 7th and 10th houses from the Lagna) has an adverse effect on the son.

Any planet in the 11th house produces good. The Sun, Saturn and Mars in the 12th house bring evil on the parents and the son.

The Sun in the 5th house, the Moon in the 7th and Saturn in the 10th house prove fatal to the son, the mother and the father respectively.

Any planet in the 8th house produces evil. Mars in the 8th house causes danger to the uncle (of the native). Mars in the Lagna (Ascendant) with the Sun and Saturn in the 7th, 3rd or 2nd house causes danger to the child instantly. The Moon in the 4th house, and Mars in the 7th cause danger to the mother within seven days.

The Sun and Saturn in the 12th house, and waning Moon in the 7th cause danger to the father instantly; if aspected by benefic planets the father will live three years.

Rahu and Kethu in any of the Kendras (quadrants) aspected by malefics cause danger to the life of the son. The same planets in the 9th house, aspected by malefics, bring evil on the father in three days.

Malefics in the 3rd house have an adverse effect on the brothers. If the 3rd house be occupied by malefics, aspected by such, the brothers will be quickly affected. If aspected by benefics, they will be affected in eight years.

Saturn in the Lagna (Ascendant) in conjunction with another malefic, causes danger to the life of the native in sixteen years. Saturn and a malefic planet in the Lagna aspected by malefics cause the same result in a month or in a year.

The Sun, the Moon, Mars and Saturn occupying the 5th house have a tendency to affect the lives of the father, mother, brothers and of the native respectively.

Saturn in the 7th house affects the father. The Sun in the 7th house affects the mother. Mars in the 7th house affects the native.

The Sun, in conjunction with a malefic occupying any of the movable signs such as Aries or Cancer, affects the lives of the native and his father by means of poison, water or a weapon.

Saturn in the 4th house, the Moon in the 7th and Mars in the 10th cause danger to life by drowning in a well, or by means of a rebellion. The Sun and the Moon, stationed in Virgo, having the aspect of malefics, produce danger to life by means of water or rebellion, if Virgo be the Ascendant in the Radical—horoscope of the child at birth.

The Sun in Pisces, and the Moon in the 7th sign therefrom, (Virgo) in conjunction with a malefic surely produce danger to life through women living in the house of the native.

Death by fire or by trident occurs when the 4th house is occupied by the Sun or by Mars and the 8th or 9th house by the Moon. The Sun in the 4th, Mars in the 7th and Saturn in the 10th cause destruction by weapon, by fire or by apparition.

Saturn in the 2nd, the Moon in the 4th, and Mars in the 10th produce harm through wounds or vermin.

Mars in the 5th, the Sun in the 10th, and the Moon in the 8th cause death by means of trees, or conveyances such as carriage or horse. If Gemini or Virgo be the Ascendant, and the Sun and the Moon, aspected by malefics, occupy the same, there will be likelihood of death by drowning or from horned quadrupeds or from a tiger or any other beast having his teeth for his weapon.

Bhava relating to Son and Wife.—If the 5th house from the Lagna (Ascendant). or from the house occupied by the Moon be held by its lord, or by any other benefic, or aspected by a benefic, the native will have good sons; otherwise, there will be no son.

Mars in the 5th house causes danger to the life of the son.

If the 7th house from the Lagna (Ascendant) or from the house occupied by the Moon be ruled by benefics the native will have a virtuous wife. This effect will be vitiated if the 7th house be aspected by a malefic. The wife will be adversely affected if Virgo be the Lagna (Ascendant) and the Sun occupies it, with Saturn in Pisces. The issue will be the same if the 7th house be occupied by the Sun, with Venus in the 5th or in the 9th house from the Lagna—any Lagna.

If the 4th and 8th house from Venus be occupied by malefics, the wife will suffer by means of fire or from a fall.

If, at the time of the birth of a person, the house of Saturn or Mars be the Lagna the 7th house being occupied by the Moon and Venus, he will either lose his wife early or, she will remain barren of children.

If the 7th house be occupied by Venus or the Moon aspected by male planets, the native will marry a girl of suitable family.

The Sun in the 6th house and the Moon in the 12th tend to make the husband and the wife blind.

A person, born when the Moon is in the 10th house, Venus in the 7th and malefics in the 4th house from the Lagna (Ascendant), will himself bring about the ruin of his family and will be the last of his race.

The Moon in Taurus, Cancer or Scorpio makes the native liable to diseases of the skin.

If malefics, not in touch with benefics, aspect the Lagna (Ascendant) and the Moon, and if Jupiter occupies any house other than the Kendras (quadrants), danger to the life of the father must be predicted.

* * * *

Points relating to the life of the Native.—If Rahu occupies any of the Kendras (quadrants), the native will have the risk of losing his life in 10 or 16 years, and, earlier still, if that planet be aspected by malefics alone, and not by benefics.

If the Lord of the 8th house be Mars, and Jupiter occupies it, the Moon having the aspect of malefics, the native will likely meet with death in three years. if Venus does not aspect Jupiter or the Moon.

If the Lord of the 4th, 6th or 8th house be Mars and retrograde Venus occupies it, aspected by Mars, the native will be exposed to calamity in 2 years.

If Saturn be in combination with the Sun and the Moon in the 5th house, the Native will be liable to die in his 9th year.

If a malefic occupies the 8th house aspected by another malefic, death occurs in a year. •

A person born when the Moon is in Leo, and Venus in the 6th or 8th house, aspected by benefics, will die in six years.

If sign Cancer be the 6th or the 8th house from the Lagna (Ascendant) and Mercury occupies it (Cancer) aspected by the Moon, the native is likely to meet with ruin in a year.

Kethu occupying the Lagna (Ascendant) tends to cause danger to the life of the person in two months. Saturn with any other malefic occupying the Lagna (Ascendant) produces a similar effect in sixteen days.

If Saturn be in the Ascendant aspected to other malefics, the same effect will manifest in a month or in a year.

If the Moon occupies the 6th or the 8th house, there will be danger to life in a year. If the Moon be aspected by malefics the same effect will come to pass earlier. If she be aspected by benefics alone the same effect will appear in eight years; aspected by malefics and benefics together she produces the same effect in four years.

If the 8th house from the Sun be occupied by Saturn and Mars, bereft of the aspect of benefics, the father dies early.

If malefics occupy 7th, 8th and 9th houses from the Moon, both the mother and the child will be threatened with death.

If the Lagna (Ascendant) be Pisces and if the 3rd house be occupied by the Sun and the Moon the child will be liable to contract disease. The child will be exposed to the risk of losing its life in 3 days.

If the Ascendant, 5th or 9th house, therefrom, be occupied by the Moon, with the Sun in the 4th or the 8th house, the child will suffer from bad disease and will be liable to lose its life in 3 days.

If the 5th or the 9th house from the Moon be occupied by the Sun, the child will succumb to a bad disease in 20 days.

If, at the moment of birth, the 1st, 4th, 7th or 10th house from the Lagna (Ascendant) be occupied by Mars alone, without Jupiter in any of those houses, the issue will be a still-born child. It will pass away after birth, if the Sun occupies the Lagna, the 8th house therefrom being occupied by any planet, with Jupiter located anywhere except in a quadrant.

If the 8th house be occupied by several planets the child will be alive only for a week or a month.

If, at the moment of birth, the Lagna be occupied by Mars with Venus in a quadrant the child will die when Mars makes a round and comes again to the same point of the Zodiac.

If the 8th house be occupied by the lord of the Lagna aspected by all the malefics, death will be certain in four months.

If, at the moment of birth, the Sun occupies a movable sign, in combination with malefics, danger by means of poison, water or weapon must be predicted.

The Ears—If the 3rd or the 11th house from the Lagna (Ascendant) be occupied by the Moon in combination with malefics, the native will be in danger of losing his ears (power of hearing) at once; but, if aspected by malefics, the same will come to pass in course of time.

The Eyes—Saturn in the 12th house affects the right eye; and Mars in the 12th affects the left.

The Sun in the 8th house, the Moon in the 6th and Mars in the 12th cause injury to the eye by cruel diseases.

If malefics, occupying the 3rd, 5th, 9th or 10th house, be not aspected to benefics, the ears, the teeth or power of speech will be affected.

A person born when Rahu is in the Lagna and the Sun in the 7th house will become blind.

If the 6th or the 8th house be occupied by the Moon in conjunction with malefics, or, if the Sun and the Moon be in the 8th house, there will be loss of sight, if Rahu governs the Ascendant.

Influence of Asterisms. A son born during the first quarter of asterism Mula affects the life of the father; if birth takes place during the second quarter of that asterism the mother will suffer; if birth be in the third quarter, there will be loss of property; the fourth quarter of the asterism is good, and the son, born during that time, will have posterity, wealth, health, happiness and power of speech, besides being esteemed by kings, though possessed of a tendency to prove a source of distress to the family.

A person born under asterism Purvashada at a time when the Ascendant is Sagittarius, or, under asterism Pushya at a time when the Ascendant is Cancer, brings trouble on the father. Birth in the first quarter of Purvashada or Pushya causes trouble to the father; birth in the second quarter affects the mother; birth in the third quarter affects the native himself; birth in the fourth is disastrous to the (maternal) uncle.

A person born in the third quarter of the asterisms Hastha and Barani is likely to lose his parents.

A person born in the first quarter of asterism Uthara-Palguni, in the second quarter of Hastha, in the third quarter of Aslesha or in the fourth quarter of Barani affects the life of the parents, the father will suffer if the child be a male, and the mother if the child be a female.

A person, born under asterism Utharapalguni, Pushya, Purvashada, Chithra, Aslesha, Mula or Jyeshtha affects the life of the father. The adverse effects referred to will disappear if the father keeps aloof from the child for 2 months, 3 months, 8 months, 6 months, 9 months, 8 years and 15 days respectively.

Birth Under Asterism Jyeshtha.—Divide the total duration of asterism Jyeshtha into ten parts. Birth of the child in the first part affects the maternal grand-mother, in the second, it affects the maternal grand-father; in the third, the maternal uncle, in the fourth, the mother; in the fifth, the native himself; in the sixth, the family; in the seventh, the relations of the parents; in the eighth, the elder brother; in the ninth, the father-in-law; and in the tenth, it affects everybody. If the lord of the rising Navamsa, at the time, be the Sun, the father will be afflicted; the Moon, Mars and Saturn, as lords of the Navamsas, afflict the mother, the maternal uncle and the brother of the native respectively. Jupiter, Venus and Mercury have the same effect on the native if the moment of birth coincide with Thyajyam.

Dhina-Mrithyu and Dhina-Rogam.—If the Amsas, specified above, synchronise with Dhina-Mrithyu and Dhina-Rogam, the effect will be as stated above.

Gandantham.—The last two ghatikas of Aslesha, the first 2 ghatikas of Magha, the last two ghatikas of Jyeshtha, and the first two of Mula, the last two of Revathi and the first two of Aswini are called Gandantham. This is Nakshatra Gandantham.

The last two Ghatikas of Panchami, Dhasami, Full-Moon and New-Moon are Gandanthams. This is Thithi Gandantham.

The last Navamsas of Cancer, Scorpio, Pisces, and the first of Aries, Leo and Sagittarius are Rasi Gandanthams.

The Effect of Gandanthams.—Nakshathra Gandantham adversely affects the parents, brothers of the native and the native himself; Rasi Gandantham affects the family to which the native belongs; Thithi Gandantham affects his parents. Some writers think that Gandantham is a thoroughly malefic period and that it deals death all round.

A child, born during Gandantham, is not likely to live long. If alive, the parents and the brothers, the grand-father and the grand-mother of the child will be affected.

A person born (1) during Vishti, suffers from poverty; (2) during Gulika, will have deformed limbs; (3) during Yama-Ganda, will not have legs to stand on; (4) during Rikthai, will be a hermaphrodite; (5) during Vyattheepatham, will have defective limbs; (6) during Parigha, will lose his life; (7) during Soolam, his family will perish; he will be abandoned by his family and will have few enjoyments (8) during New-Moon, will be deprived of his lands; (9) during Vaidhrithi, the father will meet with death.

A person, born under an asterism affected by eclipse will be afflicted with disease; born under an asterism governed by a malefic, he will be troubled by his enemies.

Birth on Chathurdasi of the Dark Fortnight.—Divide the total ghatikas for Chathurdasi into six periods. Birth of a person during the first period produces no harm. Birth during the second, the third, the fourth, the fifth and the sixth periods adversely affects and causes disaster to the father, the mother, the uncle, the cattle and the children respectively.

Planets in Exaltation.—If, at the time of birth of a person, a single planet be exalted, the person will be free from all misfortunes; if two planets be exalted, he will be the ruler of a territory; if three planets be exalted, he will be a king; if four planets be exalted, he will be an emperor; if five planets be in their exaltation, he will have the sovereignty of the earth.

The effects of planets in debilitation will be the reverse of what is stated above for planets in their exaltation. The beneficial influence will diminish according to the degree of depression of the planets.

If, at the time of birth, the Sun be exalted, the person will become the commander of an army; if the Moon be exalted, he will have wealth and corn; if Mars be exalted, he will have authority over forest lands; if Mercury be exalted, he will have fortune from royalty; if Jupiter be exalted, he will be a wealthy king; if Venus be exalted, he will have wealth from royalty; if Saturn be exalted he will be as powerful as a king.

Illegitimacy.—If the Lord of the Hora, at birth, occupy an inimical sign, and if the Lagna (Ascendant) or the Rasi (sign occupied by the Moon at birth) be not aspected by Jupiter, the native must be deemed to have been born out of wedlock.

If the Sun and the Moon together occupy an inimical sign, and do not aspect the Lagna (Hora Lagna) the birth of the person should be considered illegitimate.

If the Sun and the Moon, occupying the same sign, be not aspected by Jupiter, or, if all these three be in debilitation, the birth is illegitimate.

Sterility.—A person born when the seventh and the twelfth houses are occupied by malefics and the 5th house by waning Moon, will have a wife barren of offspring—according to some astrologers.

Enlarged Testicles.—A person born at a time when the 7th house from the Ascendant is occupied by Mars in conjunction with Venus, aspected by malefics, will have enlarged testicles to be sure.

A person born during the intervals known as Dhina-Mrithyu and Dhina-Roga will also have similar testicles.

REMEDIAL FORCES.

If the planet occupying the Ascendant be also in exaltation, therein, all adverse effects will be extinguished.

If, at birth, the lord of the Ascendant, Jupiter or Venus, occupies quadrants, the native will be long-lived, will be very wealthy and will enjoy the favour of kings.

A person born at a time when any of the three planets (Mercury, Venus and Jupiter) occupies the quadrant and is strong will not be affected by the evil influences of other planets.

If, at birth, the Hora Lagna be occupied by Venus, and any of the quadrants by Jupiter, the native will live a hundred and twenty years, provided malefics do not occupy the 8th house.

A well-dignified benefic, located in a quadrant or in a trine, at birth, dispels all evil effects relating to the time of birth, as the Sun dispels darkness.

Rahu occupying the 3rd, 6th or 11th house, from the Ascendant, and aspected by benefics, destroys all impediments. Rahu, occupying Taurus, Cancer or Scorpio, produces the same effect.

Jupiter, at birth, in full strength, located in the Ascendant, in his own or friendly sign, in his exaltation, in quadrant or in trine, or in Virgottama position completely diminishes all the adverse effects of other planets.

The influence of the planets, Mercury and Venus, similarly located, is the same on adverse effects.

But Venus in the 7th house and Mercury in the 4th from the Ascendant produce no good.

Jupiter or Venus, occupying the Ascendant, gives the native a life of one hundred years. Besides, the evil effects produced by planets, located in the 8th house, will sink.

If the Ascendant be governed by its Lord, (a benefic) occupying the Navamsa of a benefic in Virgottama position, and aspected by benefics, the person will be free from the adverse effects of other planets. Some writers say that the malefic planets, located in the 3rd, 6th or 11th houses from the Ascendant and occupying Virgottama position possess the same influence, even if the Ascendant be aspected by a malefic.

If the Moon, occupying an evil sign, at birth, be aspected by its lord or any friendly planet, the native will watch over his child as a miser his store.

All adverse effects manifest in a horoscope will vanish, if the Moon be (1) well-dignified, (2) Full-Moon, (3) occupying Virgottama position, (4) aspected by benefic planets, (5) in conjunction with benefic planets, (6) in her maximum strength.

All the adverse effects produced by planets will be completely extinguished, if the Sun and the Moon be located in their own Virgas, or in those of their friends, or in the Virgas of benefic planets. or in conjunction with benefics or aspected by them. They should, besides, be free from the inimical aspects of, or association with, malefic or inimical planets and should be strong in the Shadvirgas.

If the 7th house be occupied by the Sun, and if the Sun be located in his own Navamsa, the husband will be amiable and voluptuous.

If the 7th house be occupied by Jupiter, and if he be located in his Navamsa, the husband of the woman will have good sense and wealth.

If the 7th house be occupied by Venus, and if she be located in her Navamsa, her husband will be handsome and endowed with wealth and corn.

If the 7th sign be occupied by Saturn, and if he be located in his Navamsa, her husband will be foolhardy and aged.

In this manner, matters connected with a woman's fortune and husband should be determined from the 7th house in the Radical.

The Ascendant—If Mercury be the lord of the Ascendant and Venus and the Moon occupy it, the woman will hate her husband, will have no comfort and will be self-willed.

If the Ascendant be occupied by the Moon and Mercury, the woman will be of a respectable family and extremely happy.

If the Ascendant be occupied by Venus and Mercury, the woman will be rich, fair and well-born.

If the Ascendant be occupied by the Moon, Mercury and Venus, the woman will indulge in many kinds of enjoyment.

If the Ascendant be occupied by jupiter, the woman will have abundant wealth and will be happy in her sons and friends.

If the 8th house be occupied by a malefic, and if that malefic occupies his own Navamsa, the woman will die in the Dasa period of that planet.

A malefic, occupying the Ascendant, does good if the Ascendant be his own house or house of exaltation.

If the Ascendant be Sagittarius, Pisces or Cancer, the woman will suffer grief through her husband, son etc, if malefics be there.

If the malefics occupying the Ascendant, the 8th or the 9th house, be not associated with benefics, the woman will go through several misfortunes.

Even if the 7th and 8th houses be occupied by malefics the woman will have a long and happy life with her husband and her sons, if the 9th house be occupied by a fortunate planet.

Thrimsamsa. The Thrimsamsa is largely used in reading the horoscope of women.

[Thrimsamsa is a part of a sign of the Zodiac divided into thirty equal parts, each part being a degree. The odd signs are Aries, Gemini, Leo, Libra, Sagittarius and Aquarius. The even signs are Taurus, Cancer, Virgo, Scorpio, Capricorn and Pisces. In the odd signs, the first 5 degrees are the Thrimsamsas of Mars, the next 5 degrees are those of Saturn; the next 8 degrees are those of Jupiter; the next 7 degrees are those of Mercury; and the last 5 are those of Venus. In the even signs the first 5 degrees are those of Venus, the next 7 are those of Mercury; the next 8 are those of Jupiter; the next 5 are those of Saturn and the last 5 are those of Mars. For odd signs—Mars 5 degrees. Saturn 5, Jupiter 8, Mercury 7, and Venus 5—total 30 degrees. For even signs:—Venus 5, Mercury 7, Jupiter 8, Saturn 5, Mars 5—total 30 degrees.]

PLANETARY THRIMSAMSA OF ZODIACAL SIGNS.

Aries or Scorpio.—If, at birth, the Ascendant be Aries or Scorpio, and Mars the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa, the woman will be disposed to wickedness and her children will die; if Saturn be the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa she will be of bad conduct; if Jupiter be the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa, she will have wealth and sons; if Mercury be the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa, she will be of bad conduct; if Venus be the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa, she will indulge in adultery.

Taurus or Libra.—If the Ascendant at birth be Taurus or Libra, and Mars the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa, at the time, the woman will be inclined to immorality and will have very few sons; if the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa be Saturn, her children will die and she will be inclined to prostitution; if the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa be Jupiter she will be chaste and good-natured; if the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa be Mercury, she will be full of virtuous qualities; if the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa be Venus, she will be rich and happy.

Gemini or Virgo.—If the Ascendant, at birth, be Gemini or Virgo and Mars the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa, at the time, the woman will be attached to paramours and will have very few sons; if the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa be Saturn, she will be adulterous and all her children will die; if it be Jupiter, she will be good and chaste; if it be Mercury, she will be full of good qualities; if it be Venus, she will be happy and enormously rich.

Cancer.—If the Ascendant, at birth, be Cancer, and the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa at the time be Mars, she will be of independent nature and the children, born of her, will pass away ; if the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa be Saturn, she will live in foreign countries and will turn out a prostitute ; if it be Jupiter, she will be connected with royalty ; if it be Mercury, she will have a knowledge of sculpture and will be much devoted to her husband ; if it be Venus, she will be unchaste and will have very few sons.

Leo.—If the Ascendant, at birth, be Leo, and Mars the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa, at the time, the woman will be wicked ; if the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa be Saturn she will be barren ; if it be Jupiter, she will be the wife of a king ; if it be Mercury, she will be of masculine nature ; if it be Venus, she will associate with people unsuited to her rank.

Sagittarius or Pisces.—If the Ascendant, at birth, be Sagittarius or Pisces, and Mars the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa, the woman will be good-natured and chaste ; if the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa be Saturn she will derive pleasure from very trivial matters ; if it be Jupiter, she will be virtuous and chaste ; if it be Mercury, she will be skilful and indifferent to the observance of religious formalities ; if it be Venus, she will be chaste.

Capricorn or Aquarius.—If the Ascendant, at birth, be Capricorn or Aquarius and Mars the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa, at the time, the woman will lose her children ; if the lord of the rising Thrimsamsa be Saturn, she will follow the religion of the lower castes ; if it be Jupiter, she will be attached to her husband ; if it be Mercury, she will be of bad conduct ; if it be Venus, she will be barren and will have a tendency to violate all religious rules.

Such are the delineations for Thrimsamsa of the planets in the Horoscopy of Woman.

Matters connected with the widowhood of a woman should be determined from the 8th house ; matters connected with the fortune and the husband of a woman should be determined from the 7th house ; her grace and beauty should be judged from the Ascendant ; and matters connected with her sons and their prosperity should be determined from the 9th house, from the Ascendant.

ORNAMENTATION.

CHAPTER III

To adorn a child with jewels, choose a day ruled by the 5th asterism from its Janma-Nakshatra—the asterism of the child, at birth.

Female infants, especially, are adorned with jewels in order that they may have a long and felicitous life. Yama, the God of Death, is supposed to come and menace the child on the 7th day of its birth. To safeguard the child against him and to prolong its life, it is customary to perform a (preservative) ceremony which consists in making an offering of sweetmeats in worship of the deity, in the evening, and install, in front of the house, a water-pot in the centre of a bed of palmyra leaves. Vedic Mantras are then chanted over the pot and the God of Death, who is supposed to knock at the door with pestles, is expelled by strokes with the palmyra leaves to the recital of incantations vivified by the sound of bells.

NAMAKARANAM--NAMING THE CHILD.

I next proceed to describe the ceremony of Namakaranam. The appropriate day for this function is the 10th, 12th or 16th day of the child's birth. Failing to perform it on any of these days, an auspicious day, say the Vedas, should be chosen for the purpose—after the 16th day of the child's birth.

The following asterisms are good:—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigashirsha, Ardhra. Punarvasu, Pushya. Utharapalguni, Hastha, Swathi, Anuradha. Sravana, Sravishtha, Sathabis and Revathi.

The Thithis to be avoided are :—The 4th, 6th, 8th, 9th, 12th, and 14th of the bright and dark halves of the lunar month, the Full-Moon and the New-Moon days.

Sakunam and Vishti Karanas should be avoided.

[The second half of the 14th day (Thithi) of the dark and bright halves of the lunar month is known as "Sakunam" which is an inauspicious Yoga. "Vishti Karanam" is also an inauspicious Yoga; it occurs during (1) the latter half of the 4th Thithi (2) the first half of the 8th Thithi (3) the latter half of the 11th Thithi of the bright fortnight (4) the first half of the Full-Moon (5) the second half of Thrithiyai, (6) the first half of Sapthami, (7) the second half of Dhasami, and (8) the first half of Chathurdasi, of the dark fortnight.]

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are good, as also the Amsa, the Lagna (rising sign), the Dhrekkana and Hora of Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and the Moon. Other days should be avoided.

The 8th house, from the rising sign, at the time, should be unoccupied.

Fixed signs (Taurus, Leo, Scorpio and Aquarius) are considered the best

Common signs (Gemini, Virgo, Sagittari and Pisces) are also approved, when occupied by a benefic.

The ceremony should be performed during the forenoon of the day and not at any other time. The child should be given the name of any of his forbears or that of some Deity. Titles conferred by kings, or earned by the performance of extraordinary acts of sacrifice should be added to the original name. It is also in vogue to give names to temples, elephants, horses, trees, rivers, wells, holy emblems, poems, poets and cattle.

Jupiter must occupy quadrant (Kendra) or Trine (Thrikona) from the rising sign, at the time of christening; a malefic must occupy the 11th house, with Mercury in a quadrant occupying a benefic Navamsa—this is considered a very fortunate time for celebrating the christening festival.

Another auspicious time is during the bright fortnight, (Sukla Paksha) when the 11th house from the rising sign (Lagna), at the time, is occupied by either Venus or a malefic. Jupiter or Moon occupying the quadrants (Kendras). This will produce, wealth, contentment and prosperity.

Yet another auspicious time is that when the rising sign (Lagna), at the time, is the house of a benefic with a malefic in the 3rd and Venus in the 12th house, the Moon being dignified.

CRADLING.

To cradle a child the best time is the 10th, 12th, 16th or the 32nd day after its birth.

TO FEED ON MILK.

A wise man will commence to feed the child on milk from a nursing chank on the 31st day of its birth; if that be not convenient, the day of the 10th asterism from the Jenma-Nakshatra of the child will be good.

The following asterisms are the best. — Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Sravishta, Utharashada, Sravana, Sathabis, Utharabadrpadma and Revathi.

Avoid the following Thithis. — Chathurthi, Navami, Shasti, Ashtami, Chathurdhasi and New Moon as also Sthirakarana and Vishtikarana.

Aries, Scorpio and Pisces as also "the sign occupied by the Sun" (Atha-Mugha Rasi) are inauspicious; the other Rasas are favourable.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the signs occupied or aspected by the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter, or Venus are auspicious for commencing to nourish the child.

If the 10th house from the rising sign at the time of feeding be occupied by any planet, there will be disaster.

The feeding must be done either in the fore-noon or at noon. Night-time should be avoided.

This function may also be performed at the time of feeding the child on cooked rice on the days specified for it.

TO TAKE THE CHILD OUT OF THE HOUSE.

In the 3rd month, the child should be taken out of the house in order that it may see the Sun; in the 4th month, the child should be made to see the brilliant Moon and the cow. The sacrament of Upa-Nishkramanam should be performed in the same month. Upa-Nishkramanam is the ceremony performed to invoke the blessings of the Gods on the child at the moment of its coming out of the house to see the world beyond. The child must be well-decked with jewels, and prayers of worship offered to Gods accompanied by the sprinkling of saffron-coloured rice in token of their benedictions and blessings on the child. The performance of this ceremony bestows wealth, long life and success on the child. If this ceremony be not done, the wealth and life of the child will be adversely affected. A procession should then be formed, with the child on horse-back, or in other conveyance. It is then the uncle's turn to make a present of jewels to the child and pronounce his blessings on it for a long and happy career. The relations and friends of the child should be invited to take part in the function. Outside the house, in the open air, the child should be seated on a floor set off for the purpose and smeared with a mixture of cow-dung and water. Consecrated grains are also sprinkled, the prescribed Mantras are chanted and, over the incantation of Mritha-Sanjivi Mantra, a string is tied round the waist of the child as an amulet. The guests are then treated to refreshments.

TO FEED ON RICE.

I now pass on to give the rules to be observed in the matter of commencing to feed a child on cooked rice in order that it may grow in strength and stature.

Start feeding the son in the 6th month, failing which in the 8th, 10th or 12th solar month. In the case of a daughter, the function should take place in the 7th, 9th or 11th month—in odd months.

The following are the most favourable asterisms—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigashirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sravana, Sravishta, Sathabis, Utharabhadrapada and Revathi.

The asterisms Ardhra, Krithika, Jyeshtha, Barani, Aslesha, Purvapalguni, Purvashada, Purvabhadrapada will cause misery, thoughtlessness and fear and so one should not start any function of feeding on those days.

Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Chathurthi, Chathurdasi—these Thithis should be totally avoided for this function.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are good, as also the time when the rising Navamsa is that of the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus.

Sunday, Tuesday and Saturday and the time when the rising Navamsa is that of the Sun, Mars or Saturn are unfavourable.

Taurus, Aquarius, Libra, Virgo, Leo, Cancer, Capricorn, Gemini and Sagittari are beneficent signs.

The 2nd, 4th, 6th, 8th, 10th, 11th, 13th, 15th, 17th and 19th asterisms from the asterism, at birth, are favourable.

The child should not be fed (for the first time) on a day ruled by its asterism at birth, for this will shorten its life. The function should not be performed at a time when the 8th house from the rising sign is occupied by Mars, or the 7th house by Venus, or the 9th by Mercury,

The 10th house from the rising sign at the time of feeding must be unoccupied.

Planets in the 6th house, benefic or malefic, cause ill-feeling among relations.

The most important element in the matter of starting to feed a child is the month; and so it does not matter if Jupiter and Venus be "Asthanga" at the time.

Abdhapoorthy.—On the first birth-day Anniversary the child should be taken in procession to the river for oil-bath, and dressed in clothes and with jewels; a string made of gold or silk, sanctified by ceremonial prayers, should then be tied round his loin. This should be repeated every year on the Jenma-Nakshatra day for the assuagement of all ills and for the increase of the happiness and prosperity of the subject. The practice is to bathe the child in water, consecrated by "Udaka-Santhi" Mantra the previous night and next day invest him with an amulet round his loin. This is followed by the worship of the Planets, Agni and the Deities. Making reverence to Brahmanas with gifts of new clothes and the distribution of sandal and pan supari bring the function to a close. This ceremony should be performed in a very generous spirit, without miserliness or mutilation of Mantras, as it repays the individual a hundred-fold. [The Mantras should not be mumbled over, nor pronounced with incredible velocity, as is the way with the Vaidhikas, ordinarily.]

EAR-BORING.

CHAPTER IV.

This function should be performed on the 12th or the 16th day of the birth of the child or in the 6th, 7th, 8th or the 10th month. "Nakshatra-Sandhi"—the time between the ending moments of one asterism and the beginning of its next—is inauspicious.

The auspicious asterisms are:—Mrigasirsha, Ardhra, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hasta, Chithra, Sravana, Sravishta and Revathi.

Dwithiyai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Shashti, Saptami, Dhasami, Ekadesi, Dwadesi and Thrayodasi are favourable. Other Thithis are not to be considered.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the time when the rising Navamsa is that of the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter or Venus are good. Avoid Sunday, Tuesday and Saturday and the Virgas of the Sun, Mars and Saturn.

Taurus Gemini, Cancer, Virgo, Libra, Sagittari and Pisces are considered the best signs. Aries and Capricorn are of middling quality. Leo, Scorpio and Aquarius should be avoided.

A day ruled by two asterisms or by two Thithis is bad. If this rule be not observed, the subject will be exposed to the risk of having his ears hurt.

The forenoon is the best time ; noon is pretty favourable ; afternoon, evening and the twilight time are inauspicious.

The 8th house from the rising sign, at the time, should be unoccupied.

Venus must not occupy the 6th house or the 8th. Mercury should not be in the 8th house.

The lobule of the ear must be pierced with a copper needle and white thread. Ear-boring ceremony should be performed according to the directions laid down here.

CHOULAM—TONSURE.

CHAPTER V.

The following are the delineations for the performance of "Tonsure Ceremony" for the child. The learned say that Choulam is a sacrament which has the effect of prolonging the life of the child. It may be performed in the 3rd, 5th or 7th year from date of its birth or from that of conception. The 3rd year of birth is considered the best. The 5th and the 7th are also acceptable. Some astrologers are of opinion that the commencement of the last quarter of the 3rd or the 5th year is good. The ceremony should not be performed when the mother of the child is pregnant, for, in that case, it will cause affliction to the parents besides being fatal to pregnancy. If, however, the child be over five years old, this rule need not be observed.

It would be most beneficent to have the Tonsure ceremony when the Sun is in northern course ; the other half of the year is unfavourable.

Tonsure, when the Sun is in Capricorn, will be fruitful of all prosperity.

The Sun in Aquarius, at the time of Choulam promotes progeny ; the Sun in Pisces, at the time, gives prolonged happiness ; the Sun in Aries is productive of all kinds of pecuniary gain ; in Taurus, success ; in Gemini, prosperity to the family.

The function should be done when benefics, such as Jupiter and Venus are not in combustion, but when they are in their brilliance and when malefic planets are weak.

The bright fortnight bestows longevity ; the dark fortnight tells upon life and fortune.

The first five Thithis of the dark fortnight are, however, beneficent. Some writers are of opinion that the first seven days of the dark fortnight are good.

The favourable asterisms are:—Aswini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Chithra. Sravana. Sravishta and Revathi.

The asterisms Rohini, Utharapalguni, Swathi Utharashada, Sathabis and Utharabaddhrapadha are pretty good. The remaining twelve asterisms should be avoided.

Tonsure during Aswini brings joy; during Bharani, it causes death; during Krithika, consumption, during Rohini, annihilation of all afflictions; during Mrigasirsha, affluence; Ardhra grief; Punarvasu, fortitude; Pushya, increase of riches; Aslesha, physical affliction; Magha, loss of property; Purvapalguni, disease; Utharapalguni annihilation of all disease; Hastha, imparts brightness.

Chithra, progress of well-being; Swathi, assuagement of all pains; Visakha and Anuradha, loss of money; Jyeshtha, loss of landed property; Mula and Purvashada, ruin of family; Utharashada, health. Sravana, bodily development; Sravishta, longevity; Sathabis, strength, Purvabaddhrapadha, death; Utharabaddhrapadha, well being; and Revathi, increase of property.

Anuradha is auspicious save for the first "Vapanam" shaving, cutting or trimming hair.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are beneficent. Sunday, Tuesday and Saturday are to be avoided.

Among malefic days, Sunday is favourable for Brahmanas; Tuesday for Kshathriyas; and Saturday for Vaisiyas and other castes.

Monday is good only during the bright fortnight (Suklapaksha) and not during the dark fortnight. Wednesday will not do, if on that day Mercury be associated with a malefic.

Shaving on Sunday, produces physical well-being; Monday, bright complexion; Tuesday, affects longevity; Wednesday, generates royal favour; Thursday success; Friday, universal respect; Saturday, decay of the physical body.

The fruitful Thithis are Dhwithiyai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Sapthami, Dhasami, Ekadasi, and Thrayodasi.

Those to be avoided are:—Chathurthi, Prathamai, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Chathurdhasi. the New-Moon and the Full-Moon days.

Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Virgo, Libra, Capricorn and Pisces are auspicious signs.

Avoid Aries, Leo, Scorpio and Sagittari.

Signs Leo and Scorpio breed disease and distress; Aries, great afflictions; Sagittari, fear of government; Aquarius, ruin of family. These signs are favourable, if occupied or aspected by benefic planets. In any case, Aquarius should be totally avoided.

Agricultural work, travelling, shaving, marriage, feeding, dressing and putting the child on horseback—the rising sign at the time of these functions should be the same as that occupied by the Moon in the Radical.

If at the time of tonsure, the 7th house from the rising sign be occupied by the Sun and Mars, the child will die—to be sure. If that house be occupied by Saturn, there will be loss of wealth ; if Venus be there, there will be loss of everything ; Rahu and Kethu in the 7th house, cause failure of business ; while other planets, in the same, produce pecuniary gain.

There should be no planet in the 8th house except Venus ; for, the location of Venus in that place confers all kinds of prosperity upon the child.

Avoid night-time. Not even a whisper of shaving should be uttered after nightfall. If, however, a mention of it be inevitable, the expression "Ayush-karma" should be used to convey the idea.

After tonsure, the first shaving should be on the 2nd, 6th, 8th or 9th day.

Avoid the 3rd, 5th, 7th and the 22nd day (after tonsure) as also "Chandrashtama"—the time when the Moon is in the 8th house from that occupied by her at birth.

The day ruled by your asterism at birth is also bad, as also the 10th and the 19th asterisms therefrom.

The first quarter of the 12th asterism, the fourth quarter of the 14th asterism from one's asterism at birth are inauspicious. The other parts are good. The 88th quarter from that of the asterism at birth should be avoided.

Shaving on an inauspicious day should be quickly followed by a shaving on an auspicious day.

The most fruitful time for tonsure is that when the rising sign is Pisces, Aries or Taurus, occupied by Venus or Mercury with the Sun in the 11th house.

Another beneficent time is that when the rising sign is Gemini, Cancer or Leo, occupied by Venus or Mercury with the Sun in the 11th or 12th house, in the Sukla-paksha.

Choose also the time when the rising sign, and the 11th. and the 12th houses therefrom are occupied by Venus, the Sun and Mercury respectively with the Moon located in the Navamsa of Venus.

Malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses with benefic planets (one, two or three) located in quadrants or trines —this makes a favourable time for the celebration of Tonsure.

TO LEARN THE ALPHABET.

CHAPTER VI.

I proceed to give the rules for commencing to learn the alphabet. This should be done in the fifth year of the boy, and during the northern course of the Sun ; only, avoid the month when the Sun is in Aquarius.

The study of the alphabet should be started before Upanayanam.

The student should begin the study, standing before his teacher, facing west.

The bright fortnight and the first five Thithis of the dark fortnight are good. All Thithis are good except Prathamai, Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami. Chathurdasi, the Full Moon and the New-Moon days

The following asterisms are favourable:— Aswini, Ardhra, Punarvasu, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Sravana and Revathi. The remaining asterisms should be avoided.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are auspicious ; Sunday and Monday are pretty favourable ; Tuesday and Saturday are bad. Some astrologers reject Sunday also.

The common signs such as Gemini, Virgo, Sagittari and Pisces are fruitful. Movable signs are neutral. Fixed signs should be totally avoided.

Forenoon is commendable, and the noon far more so ; afternoon, twilight and night-time should not be considered.

There should be no planet in the 8th house from the rising sign at the time of commencing study.

Mercury, Jupiter and Venus, located in the 5th house from the rising sign, cause much good.

Sthira-karana such as Sakunam should be avoided as also Vishti-karana.

The yoga of the asterism on the day chosen for the function should be beneficial ; and, if so, the result will be satisfactory.

UPANAYANAM—THREAD-MARRIAGE.

CHAPTER VII.

Upanayanam should be performed in the 5th or in the 8th year from the date of conception or of birth. The 5th year is preferable as it tends to promote intellectual development ; the 6th year is equally good, as it helps spiritual growth. So teaches Sukracharya.

The Guru who aims at the moral and intellectual development of his Sishya should perform his (Sishya's) Upanayana when he is just five years old.

Kshathriyas and Vaisyas may have this function in the 11th and 12th year respectively. The age-limit for this sacrament in the case of Brahmanas, Kshathriyas and Vaisyas is respectively 16, 20 and 24.

For Brahmanas, Chythra and Vysakha months, when the Sun is in Aries and Taurus; for Kshathriyas, Jyeshtha and Ashada i.e., the months when the Sun is in Gemini and Cancer; for Vaisyas, the months of Aswayuja and Krithika when the Sun is in Libra and Scorpio—these are the appropriate favourable periods for the three castes, according to learned writers.

The sign occupied by the Moon is the Body, and the rising sign at the time is the Jiva (life). Both these signs should be favourably aspected by Jupiter at the time of Upanayanam.

Jupiter in the 2nd, 5th, 7th, 9th or 11th house, from the rising sign, at the time of the function, produces much good. The same planet, occupying the rising sign, or the sign ruled by the Moon, the 3rd, 4th, 6th, 8th, or 12th house therefrom, inclines to cause sickness, death, fear, grief, danger and fall respectively.

That time is very fruitful when Jupiter occupies Sagittari or Pisces or Cancer, though these three signs may happen to be unfavourable in the light of the above rules.

The time for Upanayanam having been ordained by the Vedas, the function should not be stopped even if Jupiter be located in an unfavourable sign.

The movements of Jupiter are stated in the Smrithis. The Vedas being more authoritative than the Smrithis, Upanayanam should be performed at least in the beginning of the 8th year from the date of conception, offering, if necessary, propitiatory worship to Jupiter whose movements are variable.

The important element in respect of Upanayanam is the year, just as the month is in some cases.

The best season is when the Sun is in his northern course, between Capricorn and Gemini. The rest of the year will not do.

The bright fortnight and the first five Thithis of the dark fortnight are beneficial days.

Jupiter and Venus should not be "Asthagatha" * at the time.

Jupiter is the Lord of the Rigveda; Venus, of the Yajur-Veda; Mars, of the Sama Veda; and Mercury, of the Atharva-Veda.

Regard must be had to the position of the lord of the Veda to which the Sishya and his family belong. He must be in his strength at the time of the function.

The following asterisms are excellent:—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sravana, Sravishta, Sathabis, Utharabadhrapadha and Revathi.

Some are of opinion that Sravana, Sravishta and Sathabis are neutral.

* A Planet is said to be Asthagatha when he disappears within a particular limit from the Sun, his light being obscured by the Sun. Jupiter disappears within 11 degrees and Venus within 10 degrees from the Sun.

The Gurukkals (men in charge of the worship of the idols in a temple) in Sivite temples may perform the function during asterism Ardhra; and Gurukkals, employed in Vaishnavite temples, during asterism Sravana.

During the bright fortnight, Dwithiyai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Shashti, Sapthami, Dhasami and Thrayodhasi are auspicious.

Ekadhasi and Dhwadhasi are of middling quality. They, however, prove beneficial if the Moon be strong at the time.

Of the dark fortnight, Prathamai, Dwithiyai and Thrithiyai Thithis are considered auspicious. Some writers commend Thrayodhasi also.

The days to be avoided are :—Chathurthi, Ashtami, Navami, Chathurdhasi, the Full-moon and the New-moon days.

Brahmanas and others should celebrate Upanayanam on days that are auspicious for the study of the Vedas.

Chathurdhasi is commended as good for Upanayanam in case the subject is over the prescribed age.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are good. Sunday and Monday are middling; Saturday and Tuesday should be avoided as also Monday of the dark fortnight (Krishna-paksha).

Wednesday should be rejected if Mercury be "Asthagatha" (in combustion) at the time.

The Nakshatra Yoga of the day should be beneficial.

Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Sagittari and Pisces are favourable. The other signs should be avoided.

The Influence of the Zodiacal Signs.— If at the time of Upanayana the rising sign be Aries, the individual will acquire faculty of speech ; if it be Taurus, he will acquire wealth and learning ; if it be Gemini, he will be acquainted with the Vedas ; if it be Cancer, he will be able to earn a knowledge of the six Vedangas (Limbs of the Vedas) if it be Leo, he will become a sculptor ; if it be Virgo, he will be a Pandit ; if it be Libra, he will be a trader , if it be Scorpio, he will be the leader of wicked men ; if it be Sagittari, he will be well-informed and universally respected ; if it be Capricorn, he will be engaged in the business of Sudras ; if it be Aquarius, he will be in the service of the king ; if it be Pisces, he will be well-versed in the Sastras.

Even if the rising sign be malevolent, its bad effects will be reversed and good will come out of it, if the same sign be occupied or aspected by a benefic.

Planets in the 1st House.— If, at the time of Upanayanam, the rising sign be occupied by the Sun, there will be trouble through the king ; if it be occupied by the Moon, the boy will suffer from diseases ; if by Mars, there will be danger by weapons ; if by Mercury, he will become a savant ; if by Jupiter, he will become rich ; if by Venus, he will be learned in many arts ; if by Saturn, he will be a thief ; if by Rahu, he will have defective limbs ; if by Kethu, he will contract disease of the skin.

Planets in the 2nd House.— If, at the time of Upanayanam, the 2nd house from the rising sign be occupied by the Sun, the subject will become blind ; if Moon occupies the second house, he will have patience ; if Mars be there, he will become deaf ; if Mercury, he will suffer from loss of memory ; if Jupiter, he will acquire wide reputation ; if Venus, he will be free from sins ; if Saturn, he will contract disease.

Planets in the 3rd House.—Malefics as well as benefics contribute to the well-being of the individual.

Planets in the 4th House.—The Sun, in the 4th house from the rising sign at the time of Upanayanam, creates impediment; the Moon gives a disposition free from anger; Mars causes disease; Mercury bestows keen insight and perception; Jupiter inclines to the performance of Homas; Venus produces misery; Saturn causes disease; and Rahu and Kethu indicate leprosy.

Planets in the 5th House.—The Sun in the 5th house from the rising sign, at the time of Upanayanam, indicates absence of impediments; the Moon gives purity of life; Mars tends to dishonor; Mercury bestows keen intellect; Jupiter tends to favor Brahmanas; Venus conduces to the fruition of all religious practices; Saturn creates desire for gambling; and Rahu and Kethu incline to commit theft.

Planets in the 6th House.—Benefics signify evil; malefics increase well-being.

Planets in the 7th House.—The Sun in the 7th house from the rising sign, at the time of Upanayanam, gives dismay, the Moon inclines to learning; Mars shows a desire for using weapons; Mercury shows an aptitude for meditation; Jupiter favours learning, Venus causes loss of memory; Saturn gives leprosy; Rahu and Kethu produce epilepsy.

Planets in the 8th House.—The learned say that the 8th house should be unoccupied, for, there, benefics cause danger to the life of the teacher and malefics adversely affect the life of the Sishya.

Planets in the 9th House.—The Sun, in the 9th house from the rising sign at the time of Upanayanam, causes bad conduct; the Moon creates a desire for learning the sciences; Mars gives leprosy; Mercury shows intelligence; Jupiter inclines to sacrifice; Venus bestows insight into the practice of Yoga; Saturn creates ill-feeling; Rahu and Kethu are prone to adultery, Planets in the 10th House.—The Sun, in the 10th house from the rising sign at the time of Upanayanam, helps to make the individual a physician; the Moon gives a knowledge of the Vedas; Mars makes him a man of vanity; Mercury gives a knowledge of the Vedas; Jupiter, thorough accomplishment in logic; Venus favours knowledge of music; Saturn leads to the commission of sins; Rahu and Kethu tempt the individual to acts of sin.

Planets in the 11th House.—Any planet in the 11th house favors pecuniary gain and gain of corn.

Planets in the 12th House.—The Sun, in the 12th house from the rising sign at the time of Upanayanam, gives wealth; the Moon causes danger to life; Mars produces fear; Jupiter favours increased well-being; Venus promises reputation; Saturn stoops to do mean things; Rahu and Kethu incline to proselytize.

Planets occupying inimical signs produce no evil effect if they occupy friendly Navamsas, aspected by benefics.

If, at the time of Upanayanam, the Sun be in Aquarius, the individual will acquire a knowledge of the laws and duties of his religion; if he be in Pisces, he will be learned in the Sastras and rich; if he be in Aries, he will be accomplished in the Vedas and Vedangas; if he be in Taurus, he will be rich and skilled in the arts and sciences; if the Sun be in Gemini, he will have a respectable family and will be foremost among those well-versed in the Sastras.

The individual will acquire a thorough knowledge of the Vedas and Vedangas if, at the time of Upanayanam, Jupiter, Venus or the lord of the Veda to which the individual belongs, be in exaltation or exalted in Navamsa, occupy his own house or his own Amsa.

If the lord of the Veda, Jupiter or Venus, be in "Parama Uccha" (degree of main exaltation*) the individual will be an observer of fasts; will have enormous wealth, besides a full knowledge of the Vedas and the Vedangas.

If the lord of the Veda, Jupiter or Venus, be in a friendly sign or in the Amsa of a friendly sign, the individual will observe fasts and will be learned.

If at the moment of Upanayanam, the rising sign be the house of the lord of the Veda to which the individual belongs, or if he be in his own house or house of exaltation, fully dignified, or if he be the lord of the day† of celebration—it is a remarkably auspicious Yoga.

If the Moon be in beneficial Navamsa, the individual will be an observer of religious ordinances and well-accomplished in the arts.

* Note.—The following table shows the degree of main exaltation of the different Planets.

Sun	Aries	10.
Moon	Taurus	3.
Mars	Capricorn	28.
Mercury... ..	Virgo	15.
Jupiter	Cancer	5.
Venus	Pisces	27.
Saturn	Libra	20.

† The Hindu astrological order and names of Planets are the same as those of the days of the week. For instance, the lord of Sunday is the Sun, the lord of Monday, is the Moon and so on.

If the Moon be in the Navamsa of malefic the individual will become poor and miserable.

If the Moon be in the 4th quarter of the asterisms Sravana and Punarvasu, at the time of the function, the individual will respect the directions of his religion, will be wealthy and will have a knowledge of the Vedas and the Sastras.

The rising sign, at the time of Upanayanam, should not be occupied by the Moon, though in exaltation, for this position of the Moon brings an attack of consumption.

No manner of celebration should be held on days ruled by the 10th, 16th, 18th, 23rd and 25th asterisms from the "Jenma-Nakshathra" (one's asterism at birth). These asterisms are respectively known as Karmam, Sanghatham, Saamudhayam, Vinasanam and Manasam.

Spoorjitham—The Sun in a quadrant forms what is called Spoorjitham—this yoga should be avoided as it will cause the ruin of the family.

Sputitham—Mars occupying a quadrant forms Sputitham—this should be avoided, being fatal to the Guru and the Chela.

Rudhitham—Saturn occupying a quadrant is known as Rudhitham—this will cause an incurable disease and as such should be avoided.

Rundhram—Rahu occupying a quadrant is known as Rundhram—this also should be avoided as it will prove fatal to the mother.

Ugram—Kethu occupying a quadrant is known as Ugram which will spoil all education and wealth.

In these circumstances, the time chosen for Upanayanam should be bereft of these five adverse Yogas.

If, at the time of the function, the Moon be aspected by Mars, the individual will become blind ; if aspected by a benefic, the individual will do great deeds.

If, at the time of the function, the 12th house from the rising sign be occupied by the Sun aspected by strong Mars, the Acharya will become blind. If Mars in this case be weak, blindness will be gradual ; if aspected by Saturn the education of the individual will be impeded.

If the Moon be in the Navamsa of the Sun, there will be trouble by means of weapons ; if she be in her own Navamsa, the individual will become an outcast.

If the Moon be in her own Virga, in a benefic place, in a quadrant, on a good day aspected by a benefic, the individual will be possessed of good qualities.

If, at the time of Upanayanam, the lord of the Navamsa, occupied by the Moon, be Mars, the individual will be a sinner ; if it be Mercury, he will be learned and wealthy ; if it be Jupiter, he will be happy and well-educated, if it be Venus, he will be learned ; if it be Saturn, there will be death.

The asterisms to be avoided are the Janma-Nakshatra, and the 5th, 7th, 10th, 19th, 22nd and the 27th therefrom.

* The period of the Moon's passage through the 8th sign from that occupied by her at birth—is inauspicious.

* This is commonly known as Chandra-ashtama. If, at birth, for instance, the Moon in the Radical be located in Aries, the days taken by the Moon to pass through the sign Scorpio which is the 8th sign from Aries should be avoided.

The following periods are also inauspicious—The end of a season, of a month, of a Thithi, of an asterism; Thyajyam, Vishti-Karana, Shadaseethimukham, Vya-ghatham, Vajram, Vishkambam, Parigham, Vaidhrithi, Vyathipatham, Soolam, Gandam, Athigandam—all these should be avoided.

Avoid also Soonya-Nakshathra, Soonya Rasi, afternoons. nights, twilights, blind asterisms and Athimasam.

If these rules be not observed there will be loss of wealth, learning and life.

Mars aspecting the 12th house occupied by the Sun, will not cause blindness to the teacher. if the lord of that house be the Sun. If the same house be aspected by the Moon, the Guru will stick to the practice of virtue.
Refer to para 2 of page 51.

If the lord of the Lagna and the lord of 9th house or the Sun and Mars occupy an asterism of two-eyes, the Acharya that conducts the Upanayanam will not be affected.

Athi-yoga—The 6th, 7th or 8th house from the Moon occupied by at least one benefic constitutes Athi-yoga—this is a fruitful time for Upanayanam.

Another fortunate time is that when a quadrant or a trine is occupied by Jupiter. with the Sun or Venus in the 12th house, Mercury in the 2nd from the rising sign.

Equally good is the time when Mercury is in the 10th,
Sun in the 11th, Venus in the rising sign, with the Moon, in a beneficial Navamsa.

Very favourable is the time when the rising sign is Pisces, occupied by Jupiter or Venus, with the Sun in the 11th and Mercury in the 10th or 12th house.

Another happy time is that when the rising sign is Gemini with Mars in Aries, Venus in Taurus and the Moon located in Cancer.

EDUCATION.

CHAPTER VIII.

The planetary positions for starting education are set forth in this chapter.

“Vidhya” or Education proper, comprises the study of the four Vedas (Rig, Yajus, Sama and Atharva) the six Vedangas, (Siksha, Vyakarna, Chandrus, Niruktham, Jyothisha and Kalpa) Nyaya, Mimamsa, Dharmasastra and the Puranas. “Upavidhya” comprises the study of Medicine, Music, Finance and the use of Arms and Weapons.

The following are the most fruitful asterisms for commencing education:—Mrigasirsha, Ardhra, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Sravana, Sravishta. and Sathabis.

The neutral asterisms are :—Aswini, Rohini, Utharapalguni, Utharashada and Utharabhadrapadha and Revathi.

Some writers commend Aswini as one of the best asterisms. The remaining asterisms should be avoided.

Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Anuradha, Sravishta and Revathi are: favourable asterisms to commence the study of Vyakarna (Grammar).

Aswini, Rohini, Punarvasu, Pushya Utharapalguni, Hastha, Swathi, Utharashada, Sravana, Sathabis, Utharabhadrapadha—these are auspicious for beginning the study of Tharka (Logic).

Aswini, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Swathi, Mula, Sathabis and Revathi are beneficent asterisms for commencing study of Astrology and other Vedangas.

Pushya, Sravishta and Sravana are commendable asterisms to start the study of all Sastras, Vedas, and the Arts.

Asterism Sravishta is good for the study of the science of Ayur-Veda (the Science of Medicine) and Dhanur-Veda (the science of the use of bows and arrows etc).

The following Thithis are auspicious:—Prathamai, (of the dark half of the lunar month) Dhwithiyai, Thrithyai, Panchami, Shashti, Dhasami, and Ekadhasi.

Avoid Chathurthi, Navami, Ashtami, Chathurdhasi, Full-Moon and New-Moon days.

The remaining Thithis are neutral. Take care to avoid Saturday and Tuesday and the Amsas of Saturn and Mars, the lords of those days.

Sunday prolongs life; Monday makes the student dull; Tuesday brings death; Wednesday favours intelligence and insight (Pragna). Thursday bestows good sense; Friday produces success; Saturday shows incapacity.

Some writers are of opinion that starting education on Sunday will cause impediments to progress.

The Common signs are the best. Movable signs are of middling quality. Fixed signs are bad.

Wednesday morning is a very fruitful time for starting education. To conclude the study of a subject Monday evening should be chosen.

There should be no planet in the 8th house from the rising sign. Some are of opinion that the 4th house also must be unoccupied.

Malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses will increase happiness.

Malefics occupying benefic places will certainly cause obstruction.

The forenoon and the noon are the best; after-noon and night should be avoided.

Saaraswatha Yoga.—I proceed to describe Saaraswatha Yoga which is very highly commended for starting the study of the Vedas. This Yoga is variously formed as delineated below:—

1. Wednesday ruled by asterism Hastha, the rising sign at the time being Gemini or Virgo, with the Sun, Moon and Mercury located in the Amsa of Mercury;

2. At sunrise on Wednesday when Mercury is in Athi-Uccha, (15th degree of Virgo is the main exaltation of Mercury) the Sun occupying Virgo;

3. The Sun, the Moon and Mercury in exaltation, with benefics located in the signs of those three planets;

4. Mercury located in the rising sign and in the 3rd quarter of asterism Hastha on a Wednesday;

5. Sunday, Monday or Wednesday ruled by asterism Hastha with the Sun, the Moon or Mercury respectively, on those days occupying the rising sign, Mercury being the lord of the rising sign or of the Navamsa at the time ;

6. The Sun in his main exaltation (10th degree of Aries) with Mercury in Taurus, Venus in Pisces or both these planets in their Virgotthama †

7. The rising sign being Gemini—with Venus, the Sun and Mercury in quadrants, Mercury occupying the Navamsa of Jupiter on a Thrayodhasi ;

8. Mercury in exaltation occupying the rising sign on a Wednesday with the Sun in the 3rd Dhrekkana* of the sign Virgo (The 3rd Dhrekkana of Virgo is ruled by Venus, lord of the 9th house (Taurus) from Virgo.) ;

9. Mercury occupying the rising sign in his degree of main exaltation on all days except Saturday and Tuesday ;

10. Jupiter occupying the rising sign, in his degree of main exaltation on days except Saturday and Sunday.

† Of the Movable, Fixed and Common signs, the 1st, 5th and the last Navamsas are respectively known as Virgotthama positions. The Virgotthama places are:—

(1) The 1st Navamsas of the four Movable signs Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn.

(2) The 5th Navamsas of the four Fixed signs Taurus, Leo, Scorpio, and Aquarius.

(3) The 9th Navamsas of the Common signs (movable and fixed) Gemini, Virgo, Sagittari and Pisces.

These Navamsas bear the same names as the signs themselves. First Navamsa of the movable sign Aries is Aries ; the 5th Navamsa of the fixed sign Taurus is Taurus ; the 9th Navamsa of the Common sign Gemini is Gemini.

Vidhya-Yoga:—(1) Jupiter, located in the 5th degree of Cancer (the degree of his main exaltation) and in his Hora division, on a Thursday, produces Vidhya-Yoga.

(2) Venus in the 27th degree of Pisces on a Friday, Pisces being the rising sign, produces the same Yoga.

(3) The Yoga is also formed when any planet (except Jupiter and Venus) is in exaltation in the rising sign itself holding its Hora and on a day ruled by it.

(4) The Sun located in his own Hora of the rising sign produces the Yoga, if the day and its ruling asterism be auspicious.

One must have regard for these rules in commencing education ; otherwise, one will acquire very little education. An auspicious day should be very carefully selected according to these directions.

UPAKARMA.

CHAPTER IX.

Yajur-Vedis should perform Upakarman on the Full-Moon day, succeeding the New-Moon of the month of Ashada i.e., when the Sun is in Cancer ; Rig-Vedis have their Upakarman at the same time, but on the day when the ruling asterism is Sravana ; the Upakarman for Sama-Vedis is on the Panchami day of Sukla-Paksha (bright fortnight) combined with asterism Hastha in the month of Sravana. Eclipse and Surya Sankaranthi should not synchronise with these days.

Even if the Sun be not in Leo, Upakarma must be performed on the Full-Moon day in the month of Proshtapadha or Sravana.

No Upakarma should be performed during * Athimasam or † Malaimasam, nor on the day of (1) eclipse, (2) the King's death, (3) invasion by his enemy's army (4) Sankaranthi (5) when the Lord of your Veda happens to be "Moudhya planet" at the time.

Of the two, Sravana and Proshtapadha, that which has a less number of adverse elements must be chosen. If the adverse effects set forth above, be found in the months of Ashada, ‡ Sravana and § Proshtapadha, Upakarma should be done in the month of Sravana. People living in that part of the country to the south of the river Nirbadha should have Upakarma when the Sun is in Cancer; those living on the other side of her should have it when the Sun is in Leo.

In case of an eclipse or Sankaranthi, occurring before midnight, no Upakarma should be done on the day; eclipse or Sankaranthi after midnight does not matter.

According to Apasthamba, Upakarma has been ordained for the month of Sravana; and Pournami (Full-Moon) being the specified time it should be done only in that month but not in the month of Badhrapadha or Ashada.

* Athi-Masam is an intercalary month formed of the aggregate days omitted in reckoning the lunar month. Athi-Masam is a month of two New-Moons.

† Malai-Masam is a month of two Full-Moons.

‡ Sravana Poornima is the Full-Moon day preceding the New-Moon of the month denoted by the location of the Sun in Leo. It is called Sravani from its coincidence with asterism Sravana.

§ Proshtapadha Poornima is the Full-Moon preceding the New-Moon of the month denoted by the location of the Sun in Virgo. It is called Proshtapadha from its association with asterism Purvaproshthapadha.

Sravana Pournami associated with the asterisms Mula, Purvashada and Utharashada should be avoided. By doing Upakarma on that day, one would lose the effect of a year's recitation of the Vedas. Upakarma performed on a day ruled by the two asterisms, Utharashada and Sravana, will cause the same adverse effect; nor must it be performed on a day ruled by Purvashada or Revathi. Upakarma on this day affects both the Guru and the Sishya.

Adhyayana-Karma (the duty of reciting the Vedas) being of the utmost importance, according to Manu, Gautama considers that the First Upakarma should also be performed in the month of Sravana.

The annual performance of Upakarma is an important sacrament even to those who have already started it. They should invest themselves with the sacred thread, "Upaveetham," on that day.

To dispel the evil effects of an eclipse, occurring in the month of Sravana, Prayaschittha has been ordained. In case of lunar eclipse, the Prayaschittha consists in the performance of Homa to the chanting of six Riks, "Somo-Dhenoo" etc. to be concluded by the "Pranava" Mantra. For * solar eclipse, Homa, to the recitation of the Mantras "Suryo-Devim" "Udhvayam Thamasaspari," "Ah-sath-yena"—"Ah-dhe-voyathi" etc, should be performed before commencing Upakarma.

If Pournami (Full-Moon) ends and Prathamai begins 12 ghatikas after sunrise, Upakarma and Gayathri Homa should be performed on that very day. If, however, the same thing occurs before the Sanghava Kala (within 12 ghatikas after sunrise) Upakarma alone should be done on that day and Gayathri Homa on the next. This is the rule relating to Upakarma.

*Obviously, solar eclipse in the month of Sravana is considered inauspicious for the performance of Upakarma.

Yajur-Vedis—(1) The Full-Moon day governed by the three asterisms Utharashada, Sravana and Sravishta in the solar or lunar month of Sravana, and that governed by the asterisms Sathabis, Purvabhadrapadha and Utharabhadrapadha in the solar + or lunar month of Badhrapadha are appropriate days for the Upakarma of Yajur-Vedis.

Even if the Full-Moon (of the solar month of Sravana i.e., from the New-Moon of Ashada to the New-Moon of Sravana) synchronise with eclipse or Sankaranthi, it is an appropriate day for Upakarma, Adhyayanam, i.e., the recitation of the Vedas, being the essential. It may also be performed when Jupiter or Venus is combust. If both the planets be combust on that day, Upakarma should be put off. If the one be in exaltation, in his own or friendly house, and the other in combust, the latter should have Santhi (propitiation) prior to Upakarma, according to Brihaspathy.

Eclipses, Rajya-Kshayam, Athimasam and Andha-Poornami are not proper times for Upakarma.

Andha-Poornami—This word denotes lunar eclipse at twilight time or one that occurs when Jupiter and Venus are combust.

Chinna-Poornami—This word signifies lunar eclipse at the moment of the Sun's entry into the first point of a house.

If lunar eclipse does not terminate before dawn, but prolongs into the next day, Upakarma should not be performed on the day that then commences.

† The twelve lunar (Chandra) months of a year are Chythra, Vysakha, Jyeshtha, Ashada, Sravana, Badhrapadha, Aswayuja, Krithika, Margasira, Pushya, Magha and Parguna. The twelve corresponding solar (Soura) months are Mesha, Vrishabha, Mithuna, Kataka, Simha, Kanya, Thula, Vrishchika, Dhanus, Makara, Kumbha and Meena. A lunar month takes its name from the ruling asterism on the Full-Moon of that month.

INITIATION IN A MANTHRA.

CHAPTER X.

The nature of planetary influences at the time of Initiation in a Manthra is described below:—

The effects of learning a Manthra vary according to the month in which the initiation takes place. Chythra produces great misery ; Vysakha brings gain of gems ; Jyeshta is fatal ; Ashada seriously affects relations ; Sravana indicates exalted status ; Badhrapadha leads to loss of children ; Aswayuja shows well-being ; Krithika favours mental development ; Margasira produces evil ; Pushya inclines to ruin the intellect ; Magha tends to intellectual growth ; Palguna makes the disciple liked and loved by all.

The most fruitful asterisms for starting to learn a Manthra are:—Rohini, Ardhra, Punarvasu, Pushya, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Jyeshtha, Mula, Utharashada, Sravana, Sravishta, Utharabhadrapadha and Revathi.

Avoid the Thithis,—Chathurthi, Ashtami and New-Moon ; reject Tuesday.

• • Movable signs are good ; Common signs are neutral ; Fixed signs are useless for this function.

The 8th house from the rising sign at the time of initiation should be vacant.

No Manthra should be commenced during the months of Ashada, Badhrapadha, Margasira and Magha which are known as Pithur-Masa. The other months are auspicious.

The "asterism of the individual at birth" (Jennia-Nakshathra) and the 10th and 19th asterisms therefrom. the Sankaranthi day, i.e., the day of the Sun's transit from one sign into another, are beneficial, as also Wednesday.

Before starting to learn a Manthra the devotee should make use of the following diagram in order to understand whether the Manthra that he is to recite will produce the desired result, i.e., whether he will attain Siddhi—the gifts of the Deity which he seeks to obtain by means of the Manthra.

Beginning with the first letter of the individual's name which should be inserted in cage 1, each of the succeeding fifty letters of the Sanskrit alphabet should be set within the cages one after another in the order of 1, 3, 11, 9, 2, 4, 12, 10, 6, 8, 16, 14, 5, 7, 15, 13,

Siddha Siddham	Siddha Saddhyam	Saddhya Siddham	Saddhya Saddhyam
Siddha Ari	Siddha Swasiddham	Saddhya Ari	Saddhya Swasiddham
Ari Siddham	Ari Saddhyam	Swasiddha Siddham	Swasiddha Saddhyam
Ari Ari	Ari Swasiddham	Swasiddha Ari	Swasiddha Swasiddham

This diagram, it will be seen, consists of four squares each square containing four cages.

Directions: — Note the Square containing the first letter of your name. This square is called Siddham; the next square to the right, is called Saddhyam; the 3rd square is Swasiddham; the 4th square is known as Ari. Again, mark the Cage which contains the first letter of your name. This Cage is known as Siddha-Siddham; the next Cage in order (to the right) is called Siddha-Saddhyam, the 3rd Cage is Siddha-Swasiddham; the last Cage is known as Siddha-Ari—square Siddha contains these 4 cages.

The names of the cages contained in the three remaining squares, Saddhyam, Swasiddham and Ari, can be determined in a similar way. You will thus have Saddya-Siddham, Saddhya-Saddhyam, Saddhya-Swasiddham and Saddhya-Ari cages in Square Saddhya. In the Square Swasiddha, you will have the following cages:—Swasiddha-Siddham, Swasiddha-Saddhyam, Swasiddha-Swasiddham and Swasiddha-Ari. In the Square Ari you will have Ari-Siddham, Ari-Saddhyam, Ari-Swasiddham and Ari-Ari. As pointed out above, the individual should only mark the cage containing the first letter of his name and determine the names of the cages in order, proceeding forward from the cages of Siddham (the square which contains the first letter of his name) to those of other squares.

This over, you should proceed to note the cage in which the first letter of Manthra is seen.

Cages of Square Siddha—Should you find it in the cage Siddha-Siddha, the significance is that you should repeat the Manthra as many times as are required by the Manthra Sastras. Should you find the letter in the cage Siddha-Saddhyam, you will have to recite the Manthra twice as many times.

Located in Siddha-Swasiddha, the letter denotes that it is enough to repeat the Mantra half as many times.

The letter, found in Siddha-Ari, denotes that the repetition of the Manthra would ruin the members of the family.

Cages of Square Saddhya—If the first letter be found in Saddhya-Siddha, it signifies much painstaking ; and the Manthra should be repeated many times ; if it be in Saddhya-Saddhya, the Manthra will do no good ; if it be in Saddhya-Swasiddha, the Manthra should be recited as ordained by the Sastras ; if it be Saddhya-Ari, the learning of the Manthra will cause ruin to kinsmen.

Cages of Square Swasiddha—If the first letter of the Manthra be in the cage Swasiddha-Siddham it will be enough to repeat the Manthra half the required number of times ; if it be in cage Swasiddha-Saddhyam, the full directions, given for the practice of the Manthra, should be followed ; if it be in Swasiddha-Swasiddha, the fruition will be prompt ; if it be in Swasiddha-Ari, the servants will die.

Cages of Square Ari—If the first letter of the Manthra be in cage Ari-Siddha, the son will die ; if it be in Ari-Saddhya, it will kill the daughter ; if it be in Ari-Swasiddha, the wife will be hurt ; if it be in Ari-Ari, the individual himself will be ruined.

Exception:—In the case of the Manthras for Narasimha Moorthy, Aadhithya (the Sun) Aadhi-Varaha Moorthy, or the Devi, such as Parah Prasadham and Navaavarnam, or Sapindakshari-Manthra, the test of the squares may be dispensed with.

Notes:—A Manthra, as contemplated in this Chapter, is a formula of mystical sounds the mental repetition of which, according to the rules, invokes the blessings of the Deva or the Devi, as the case may be, to whom it is sacred and assigned. It is different from "a hymn or a ritualistic formula" which is the definition given by English lexicographers.

THE STUDY OF THE VEDAS. ETC.

CHAPTER XI.

To start the much-esteemed study of the Vedas, choose the following asterisms, which are favourable:—Mrigasirsha, Ardhra, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi. Anuradha, Sravana, Sravishta and Sathabis.

The following asterisms are neutral:—Aswini. Rohini, Utharapalguni, Utharashada, Utharabadhrapadha and Revathi. The remaining asterisms should be avoided.

Some writers include Aswini among the first of favourable asterisms.

Among Thithis, Sapthami and Thrayodhasi are neutral; Prathamai, Chathurthi, Ashtami, Navami, Dhwadhasi, Full-Moon and New-Moon days should be avoided.

The other Thithis are excellent.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the moments when Mercury, Jupiter and Venus are the lords of the rising Navamsa are good.

Sunday and Monday and the moments when the Sun and the Moon are the lords of the rising Navamsa are neutral.

Avoid Saturday and Tuesday and the Amsas and associations of Saturn and Mars.

Common signs are auspicious; Movable signs are neutral; Fixed signs are not to be considered.

There should be no planet in the 8th house from the rising sign, at the time of commencing Veda study. Some writers hold that the 4th house also should be unoccupied.

Chathurthi, Sapthami and Thrayodhasi should be avoided if the duration of any of these extends till midnight. In such a case, the recitation of the Vedas should be suspended till midnight ; otherwise, the student's recollection will become weak.

Pradhosham :—If Chathurthi lasts till nine Ghatikas in the night, what is known as Pradhosham is formed.

Sapthami, continuing till midnight, forms Pradhosham.

Pradhosham is fatal to the study of the Vedas.

Some writers consider that the existence of Thrayodhasi till the end of the first quarter of the night forms Pradhosham.

If Thrayodhasi ends by midnight, the only appropriate Karma for that day would be the worship of Siva ; any other function will be fruitless. No study of the Vedas should be made between the hour and a half before sunset and midnight provided that Thrayodasi exists for a ghatika or half after nightfall.

In this case the study of the Vedas should be suspended for three days. This rule is intended for beginners. In the case of others, suspension of study for a day will suffice.

During times of mental distress, of heavy rain, of thunder, of eclipses, and of earthquake ; at sight of fireball ; and after Upakarma, recitation of the Vedas should be stopped for three days.

A hare, a Chandala or a sheep passing between the Guru and his disciple during study is a bad omen. If this should happen, the study should be suspended for six months. If a cow, a frog, a mongoose, a crow, a rat, a dog, cock or cat pass between the teacher and the disciple the study should be stopped for three days.

Avoid study of the Vedas on the following days:—The days of the Sun's transit into Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn, i.e., the first days of the months of Chythra Ashada, Aswayuja and Pushya, as also on the Ekaadhasi days of the bright fortnights of the months of Ashada and Krithika (Ashada-Sukla-Ekaadhasi and Krithika-Sukla-Ekaadhasi), Munvadhi and Yugadhi days

The following are Munvadhi days:—The Thrithiyai and Full-Moon days of the month of Chythra; the Full-Moon day of the month of Jyeshtha; the Dhasami and Full-Moon days of the month of Ashada; the Ashtami day of the dark fortnight (Krishna Paksha) and the Full-Moon day of the month of Sravana; the Thrithiyai days of the month of Badhrapadha; the Navami of the bright fortnight (Sukla Paksha) of the month of Aswayuja; the Dhwadhasi and Full-Moon days of the month of Krithika; the Sapthami days of the month of Magha; Full-Moon and New-Moon days of the month of Palguna.

The Yugadhi days are:—(1) The Thrithiyai of the bright fortnight of Vaisakha, (2) the Navami of the bright fortnight of Krithika, (3) the New-Moon day of Magha (4) The Thrayodhasi of the dark fortnight of the month of Badhrapadha.

SAMAVARTHANAM.

CHAPTER XII.

[Prior to the actual ceremony of marriage, the bridegroom has to go through a number of small functions, such as Vrutham (observance of religious fast) and Snaanam (bath) etc, in token of renouncing his Brahmacharya life and taking to that of a Grihastha. This preparation is denoted by the word, "Samavarthanam."]

The rules for the selection of an auspicious time for Vrutham are the same as those for Tonsure.

The following asterisms are good for the Snaana (bath) Karma:—Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sravana, Utharabadhra-padha and Revathi. Asterism Swathi is commended by some astrologers. The other asterisms should be avoided.

Sunday, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are auspicious for the Snaana; Saturday and Tuesday are unfavourable.

The signs Taurus, Gemini, Virgo, Libra, Capricorn and Pisces produce good; the other signs prove beneficial for Snaana when occupied by a benefic planet.

The fruitful Thithis are:—Dhwithiyai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Sapthami, Dhasami and Ekadhasi. Thrayodhasi is also excellent. Some writers commend Dhwadhasi as auspicious. Shashti is considered favourable to kings.

Avoid Rikthai, Prathamai, Ashtami, Full-Moon and New-Moon days. There should be no planet in the 8th house. The Snaana Karma should be done just prior to the marriage.

DECISION OF MARRIAGE.

CHAPTER XIII.

TO DETERMINE THE SUITABILITY OF A MATCH.

The planetary conditions for determining the suitability or otherwise of the bridegroom to the bride and vice versa are delineated in this Chapter.

There are ten "Considerations" necessary to the forming of a correct judgment as to the suitability of a proposed matrimonial union. These are 1. Dhinam, 2. Ganam, 3. Mahendhram, 4. Sthree-Dheergham, 5. Yoni, 6. Rasi, 7. Rasyadhipathi, 8. Vasyam, 9. Rajju and 10. Vedhai.

1. Dhinam—Count the asterisms from the asterism of the bride to that of the bridegroom (both inclusive).

The first, viz, the asterism at birth, is "Jenma"; the 2nd asterism signifies "Sampath"—fortune; the 3rd denotes "Vipath"—disaster; the 4th favours "Kshema"—well-being; the 5th produces "Prathyara"—obstruction; the 6th shows "Sadhaka"—aid; the 7th inclines to "Vadham"—slaughter; the 8th tends to Maithra—friendship; the 9th leads to "Parama-Maithra" intimate friendship. The asterism of the bridegroom should be the 2nd, 4th, 6th or 8th from that of the bride. If it be the 3rd, the 5th, or the 7th, it shows disagreement. Of the second ‡ "Pariyaya" the 1st quarter of the 3rd, the 4th quarter of the 5th, and the 3rd of the 7th asterism should be avoided. The other quarters of these asterisms are good. The asterisms of the 3rd "Pariyaya" produce no evil.

The asterism of the bridegroom should not be the 27th, in order from that of the bride. The adverse effects arising from such a position will, however, be diminished if the two asterisms belong to the same sign. If the asterisms belong to different signs the effect will be bad.

Another asterism to be avoided is the 22nd, counting from the Janma-Nakshathra of either. This position of the asterism is described as "Vadha-Vainasika" the evil effects of which are set forth by Sage Kasyapa.

A man and a woman born under any of the following pairs of asterisms will form an unsuitable match and their union will be unhappy:— Krithika and Aslesha; Aslesha and Swathi; Chithra and Purvasadha; Anuradha and Sravishta; Sravishta and Bharani; Sathabis and Krithika.

A couple born under any of the following pairs of asterisms will make a happy match:—Ardhra and Utharapalguni; Purvapalguni and Anuradha; Chithra and Pushya; Punarvasu and Hastha. The last pair favours the progress and development of the family.

Asterisms Jyeshtha and Sathabis incline to ruin the family. Utharapalguni and Mrigasirsha, Hastha and Mula—these two pairs tend to cause death and pecuniary loss respectively.

If the asterisms of the bridegroom and the bride be Rohini and Magha, or Purvabadhrapadha and Rohini, they will have many sons; if they be Aswini and Punarvasu, or Swathi and Utharashada, the couple will give birth to daughters; if they be Revathi and Ardhra or Jyeshtha and Utharapalguni there will be rancour between husband and wife; if they be Visakha and Magha, wicked sons will be born; if they be Visakha and Sravana, the husband and wife will become enemies; if they be Aswini and Sravana, the husband and wife will live apart; if they be Utharabadhrapadha and Mrigasirsha widowhood must be predicted; if they be Utharashada and Revathi, there will be enjoyment; if they be Mula and Purvabadhrapadha there will be prosperity; if they be Purvashada and Utharabadhrapadha, there will be mutual affection; if they be Bharani and Pushya, the husband and wife will live in affluence.

† This is an exception to the rule given in the previous page under Dhinam. Utharapalguni, for instance, is the 7th asterism from Ardhra; Anuradha, Pushya and Hastha are respectively the 7th asterisms from Purvapalguni, Chithra and Punarvasu.

COMMON JANMA-NAKSHATHRA.

In many cases, the Janma-Nakshathra of the bridegroom and the bride may be one and the same ; if such Janma-Nakshathra be any of the following, it would be excellent:— Rohini, Ardhra, Magha, Hastha. Visakha, Sravana, Utharabādhrapadha and Revathi.

If the common Janma-Nakshathra be any of the following, the effect would be neutral:— Aswini, Krithika, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Purvapalguni, Utharapalguni, Chithra, Anuradha. Purvashada and Utharashada.

If the Janma-Nakshathra be any of the following, the match should be considered unsuitable, and marriage avoided:—Bharani, Aslesha, Swathi, Jyeshtha, Mula, Sravishta, Sathabis, and Purvabādhrapadha.

If the Janma-Nakshathra belong to two signs, the stellar quarter of the bridegroom should be the earlier. If it be otherwise, it will cause harm to the couple.

If the Janma Nakshathra of the bridegroom and the bride belong to the same sign, that of the bridegroom must be prior to that of the bride ; otherwise, it is inauspicious.

Exception— Among asterisms that belong to one and the same sign, the following should be left out of consideration:—Bharani and Krithika, Sravishta and Sathabis, Pushya and Aslesha.

• The asterism of the bridegroom may rightly be the next, in order, to that of the bride, if the asterism of the latter be any of the following:—Aswini, Krithika, Mrigasirsha, Magha, Hastha, Swathi. Purvashada and Sathabis.

Janma-Nakshathra belonging to two Signs—If the bridegroom and the bride have a common Janma-Nakshathra belonging to two signs, the stellar quarter belonging to the first sign should be that of the bride. Any of the remaining three stellar quarters of the other sign may be that of the bridegroom. If the stellar quarters be equally divided between the two signs, the sign for the first two should be that of the bridegroom.

2. Ganam:—The following asterisms belong to Deva Ganam: Aswini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Swathi, Anuradha, Sravana and Revathi.

Manushya Ganam—The asterisms of Manushya Gana are:—Bharani, Rohini, Ardhra, Purvapalguni, Utharbadhra padha.

Rakshasa Ganam—The asterisms of this group are:—Krithika, Aslesha, Magha, Chithra, Visakha, Jyeshtha, Mula, Sravishta and Sathabis.

If the Ganam of the bridegroom and of the bride be the same it signifies suitability; it is excellent. If their Ganas be Deva Gana and Manushya Gana respectively, it is of middling quality; if they be of Deva and Rakshasa Ganas, it is very bad; the association of Manushya with Rakshasa Gana is fatal.

If the asterisms of the bridegroom and the bride be Manushya Gana and Rakshasa Gana respectively, the marriage will prove harmful to both.

Exception—The adverse effects of Rakshasa Gana will diminish if the asterism of the bride at birth be beyond the 14th from the asterism of the bridegroom.

3. Mahendhra—The Janma-Nakshathra of the bridegroom should be the 4th, 7th, 10th, 13th, 16th, 19th, 22nd or 25th asterism from that of the bride. This promotes well-being and prolongs life.

4. Sthree-Dheergham—The asterism of the bridegroom should be beyond the 13th asterism from that of the bride to satisfy this point of suitability. Some writers hold that it is enough if the said asterism be beyond the 7th.

5. Yoni—This word literally means the organ of reproduction in the female animal creation. The genital characteristics ascribed to asterisms constitute another point in which there should be agreement in the horoscopes of the bridegroom and the bride:— Aswini and Sathabis—Horse; Bharani and Revathi—Elephant; Pushya and Krithika—Sheep; Rohini and Mrigasirsha—Serpent; Aslesha and Punarvasu—Cat; Magha and Purvapalguni—Rat; Utharapalguni, Utharashada and Utharabhadrapadha—Cow; Swathi and Hastha—Buffalo; Visakha and Chithra—Tiger; Jyeshtha and Anuradha—Deer; Mula and Ardhra—Dog; Purvashada and Sravana—Monkey; Sravishta and Purvabhadrapadha—Lion.

Monkey and Sheep, Deer and Elephant, Horse and Buffalo, Cow and Tiger, Rat and Cat, Serpent and Rat, Serpent and Mongoose, Dog and Deer—these are mutually hostile—so, inauspicious. To show suitability the asterisms of the couple should be of the same Yoni. If different, it is neutral; hostile Yonis should be avoided.

6. Rasi—The Jenma-Rasi (the sign occupied by the Moon at birth) of the bridegroom should not be the 2nd from the Jenma-Rasi of the bride; in other words, the Jenma-Rasi of the bride should not be the 12th, in order, from the Jenma-Rasi of the bridegroom for this position proves fatal. The converse should be the case; the Jenma-Rasi of the bride should be the 2nd from the Jenma-Rasi of the bridegroom. This tends to prolong life.

If the Jenma-Rasi of the bridegroom be the 3rd from the Jenma-Rasi of the bride, there will be misery. The converse of this position shows suitability and the couple will have a happy life.

If the Jenma-Rasi of the bridegroom be the 4th from the Jenma-Rasi of the bride, in other words, if the Jenma-Rasi of the bride be the 10th from that of the bridegroom, they will become poor. If the position be the converse of this they will grow rich.

If the Jenma-Rasi of the bridegroom be the 5th from that of the bride, there will be widowhood; the converse of this position secures immunity from widowhood. She will be a Sumangali—one in married life.

If the Jenma-Rasi of the bridegroom be the 6th from that of the bride, loss of sons must be predicted; the converse favours birth of sons.

If the Jenma-Rasis of the bridegroom and the bride be diametrically opposite to each other in the Zodiac, the couple will have a long and happy life.

Exception—Even if the Jenma-Rasi of the bridegroom be the 2nd from that of the bride, the effect will be good if such Jenma-Rasi be an even sign. [In this case, the Jenma-Rasi of the bride is the 12th sign from that of the bridegroom]. If it be an odd sign, it will do harm.

Where the Jenma-Rasi of the bridegroom is the 6th from the Jenma-Rasi of the bride, it will be felicitous, if the two Rasis be any of the following pairs:—Aries and Virgo; Sagittari and Taurus; Libra and Pisces; Aquarius and Cancer; Leo and Capricorn; Gemini and Scorpio.

7. Rasyadhipathi—Mars is the lord of Aries and Scorpio. His friends are Mercury and Venus. The other planets are his enemies.

Venus is the Lord of Taurus and Libra. All the planets except the Sun and the Moon are her friends.

Mercury is the lord of Gemini and Virgo. All save the Sun, are his friends.

The Moon is the Lord of Cancer. Mercury and Jupiter are her friends.

The Sun is the Lord of Leo. Jupiter is his only friend.

Jupiter is the Lord of Sagittari and Pisces. All except Mars are his friends.

Saturn is the lord of Capricorn and Aquarius. Jupiter is his enemy.

8. Vasyam.—Leo and Scorpio are concordant to Aries; Cancer and Leo are concordant to Taurus; Virgo, to Gemini; Scorpio and Sagittarius, to Cancer; Libra, to Leo; Gemini and Pisces, to Virgo; Capricorn, to Libra; Virgo and Cancer, to Scorpio; Pisces, to Sagittari; Aquarius and Aries, to Capricorn; Aries, to Aquarius; Capricorn to Pisces. The Jenma-Rasi (the sign occupied by the Moon at birth) of the bridegroom should be concordant to that of the bride, or vice versa in which case there will be harmony between the couple.

9. Rajju.—There are five divisions of asterisms under this head:—

1. Padha Rajju—Aswini, Aslesha, Magha, Jyeshtha, Mula and Revathi.

2. Ooroo Rajju—Bharani, Pushya, Purvapālguni, Anuradha, Purvashada and Utharabadhrapadha.

3. Nabhi Rajju—Krithika, Punarvasu, Utharapālguni, Visakha, Utharashada and Purvabadhrapadha.

4. Kanta Rajju—Rohini, Ardhra, Hastha, Swathi, Sravana and Sathabis.

5. Siro Rajju—Mrigasirsha, Chithra and Sravishta.

If the asterisms of the couple come under Padha Rajju, they will travel in foreign countries; Ooroo Rajju causes loss of property; Nabhi Rajju shows loss of offspring; Kanta Rajju signifies the death of the woman; Siro Rajju, the death of the man. Therefore, the asterisms of the couple should not be in the same division. Thus the sages interpret Rajju.

10. Vedhai.—The following sets of asterisms are mutually repellent. There should be no marriage between a man and a woman, whose asterisms are found in the same set:—Aswini and Jyeshtha—Bharani and Anuradha—Krithika and Visakha—Rohini and Swathi—Ardhra and Sravana—Punarvasu and Utharashada—Pushya and Purvashada—Aslesha and Mula—Magha and Revathi—Purvapalguni and Utharabhadrapadha—Utharapalguni and Purvabhadrapadha—Hastha and Sathabis—Mrigasirsha, Chithra and Sravishta.

Exception. Rajju, Vedhai, Ganam and Rasi—the adverse effects arising from these need not be considered, if (1) the lords of the Jenma-Rasis of the man and the woman be the same, (2) they be friendly planets and (3) if their Jenma-Rasis be diametrically opposite signs of the zodiac.

Dhinam, Ganam, Yoni, Rasi and Rajju, are the five chief points in which there should be agreement in the horoscopes of the bridegroom and bride. Of these, Dhinam and Rajju are first in importance. Dhinam is particularly so to Brahmanas; Ganam, to Kshathryas; Rasi, to Vaisyas; and Yoni, to Sudras.

Agreement in respect of Dhinam, Ganam etc.—Dhinam gives good luck; Ganam brings wealth; Mahendhram develops attachment. Sthree-Dheergham promotes welfare; Yoni gives birth to many sons; Rasi; shows growth of family; Rasyadhipathi indicates prosperity in corn; Vasyam favours development of posterity; Rajju inclines to felicity in married life and immunity from widowhood; Vedhai gives many sons.

Of these ten "Considerations," to determine suitability, the horoscopes of the man and the woman must agree in respect of at least five. If that be not so, one must be guided by omen (Sakhunam) in the matter of judging the suitability or otherwise of a proposed marriage.

Female Asterisms—Bharani, Ardhra, Aslesha, Magha, Purvapalguni, Utharapalguni, Chithra, Swathi, Visakha, Jyeshtha, Purvashada, Utharashada, Sravana and Sravishta.

Hermaphrodite Asterisms—Mrigasirsha, Sathabis and Mula.

Male Asterisms—Aswini, Krithika, Rohini, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Anuradha, Purvabhadrapadha, Utharabhadrapadha and Revathi.

It is excellent if the asterisms of the man and the woman be respectively male and female. If it be otherwise it will produce no good. If the asterisms of the man and the woman be hermaphrodite and female, hermaphrodite and male, both male or both female, the influence will be of middling nature.

Nakshathra Gothram—Divide the 28 asterisms, including *Abijith into seven sets of four each. The 1st set represents the Gothra of Mareechi; the 2nd represents Vasishta Gothra; the 3rd set is Angiras Gothra; the 4th is Athri Gothra; the 5th is the Gothra of Sage Pulasthiah; the 6th is that of the Sage Pulaha; the 7th is Grutha Gothra.

The Gothras of the man and the woman should be different. If it be the same, it will produce evil.

The Castes of the Signs—Signs Cancer, Pisces and Scorpio belong to Brahma caste; Libra, Leo and Sagittari are of Kshathrya caste; Aries, Gemini and Aquarius are of Vaisya caste; Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn are of Sudra caste. There should be no marriage between a man of a lower caste and a woman of a higher.

* Abijith—This is an asterism formed by the 4th quarter of Utharashada and the 1st quarter of Sravana. For details see Intro.

Will there be Marriage ? If, at the time of this horary ‡ question, the 3rd, 5th, 7th, 10th or 11th house, from the rising sign, be occupied by the Moon and aspected by Jupiter, marriage may be predicted.

Shall I find a Bride ? If at the time of this question Libra, Taurus or Cancer be the rising sign, occupied or aspected by any benefic planet, the answer should be in the affirmative. If at the time of the query waning Moon occupies an even sign, from the rising sign, with the eighth house aspected to malefics, the answer should be in the negative.

How long will the Couple live ? If at the time of such query about a marriage, the 5th, 6th or 8th house from the rising sign be occupied by the Moon, the prediction should be that the couple (if the marriage, in question, should take place) will die in 8 years. If the rising sign be occupied by Mars, with a benefic in the 7th house at the time of the query, the woman will turn out a bad character, or her children will pass away and her husband (if the marriage, in question, should take place) will die in eight years.

If, at the time of enquiry, the Moon occupies the rising sign, with Mars in the 7th house, the death of the husband (if married) after the 8th year of marriage should be predicted.

If the 5th house from the rising sign, at the time of enquiry, be occupied by a malefic, in debilitation, aspected by inimical planets, the woman (if married) will either lose her sons or will be immoral.

‡ This is another branch of astrology. It is the science of foretelling the result of a business or circumstance from the position and aspect of the heavenly bodies at the moment of propounding a question.

CELEBRATION OF MARRIAGE.

CHAPTER XIV.

The rules for fixing the time for celebrating a marriage are given in this Chapter.

‡ Utharayana (the first half of the year when the Sun is in the northern circle between Capricorn and Gemini) is excellent ; Dakshinayana (the second half when the Sun is in the southern circle between Cancer and Capricorn) is of middling quality.

If, in the figure of the heavens (Gochaaram) at the time of marriage, Jupiter occupies the Jenma-Rasi (the house of the Moon at birth) the 3rd, 4th, 6th, 8th, 10th or 12th house, therefrom, the bride will either die or become a widow.

The marriage should be celebrated in the 5th, 6th or 7th year of the bride when Jupiter is well-placed in a benefic sign.

The following asterisms are the best ; they favour the birth of sons :—Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Swathi, Anuradha, Mula, Utharashada, Utharabhadrapadha and Revathi. “Oordhva-Mukha” asterisms are the most fruitful, Atho-Mukha asterisms cause harm and “Thiryag Mukha” asterisms breed fever. Other asterisms affect the life of the son.

The best Thithis are:—Dhwithiyai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Sapthami, Dhasami, Ekadhasi, and Thrayodhasi. Prathamai (of the dark fortnight) Shashti, Ashtami, Dhwadhasi, Pournami (Full-Moon) are middling. All the Thithis after Ashtami of Krishna Paksha (dark fortnight) are inauspicious and will affect life.

Utharayana comprises the Months of Pushya, magha, Parguna, Chythra, Vaisakha and Jyesta. The other six months of the year belong to Dakshinayana.

The best signs are Gemini, Virgo and Libra. Aries, Capricorn, Scorpio and Pisces should be avoided. The other signs exercise middling influence.

Saturday Sunday, and Tuesday, and the Amsas and associations of Saturn. the Sun and Mars should be avoided. Choose Monday, Wednesday, Thursday or Friday and the Amsas and associations etc., of the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter or Venus.

Influence of Zodiacal Signs at the time of Marriage—If the rising sign, at the time of marriage, be Aries, the bride will become a prostitute; if it be Taurus, she will become poor; Gemini gives her good qualities; Cancer inclines to adultery; Leo bids her confine to her father's house; Virgo helps her to enhance the welfare of her husband; Libra favours her single-hearted devotion to husband; Scorpio produces grief; the 1st half of Sagittari makes her a whore; the 2nd half develops chastity; Capricorn, Aquarius or Pisces tend to adultery.

Marriage within a week after the re-appearance (Udhayam) of Venus, affects the life of the bride adversely; Marriage just prior to her becoming Asthangatha (combust) affects the life of the bridegroom.

Marriage within 8 days after the re-appearance of Jupiter adversely affects the life of the bridegroom. Marriage within 15 days prior to Asthangatha harms the bride.

PLANETS IN THE ZODIACAL SIGNS.

Influence of Planets in the Rising Sign at the time of Marriage—The Sun causes widowhood; the Moon shows danger to the life of the bride; Mars affects the life of both; Mercury brings widespread fame; Jupiter and Venus prolong life; Saturn creates poverty; Rahu or Kethu is an impediment to birth of children.

Planets in the 2nd House—Malefics in the 2nd house produce misery; the Moon in the 2nd house generates children; Mercury and Jupiter bestow enormous pecuniary gain; Venus favours the bride with a life of felicity and prevents widowhood.

Planets in the 3rd House—Planets in the 3rd house give happiness and fortune, as a rule.

Planets in the 4th House—The Sun causes adversity; the Moon tends to separation; Mars gives poverty; Mercury favours a life of felicity; Jupiter shows prosperous life and freedom from widowhood; Venus makes the woman chaste; Saturn brings in adverse circumstances; Rahu and Kethu lead the woman into bad character—so says Sage Girga.

Planets in the 5th House—If the 5th house be occupied by a benefic, the couple will have many sons; the Sun and Mars affect the lives of the children; Saturn and Rahu cause leprosy.

Planets in the 6th House—The Moon causes widowhood; Mercury helps the couple to dwell together, always; Rahu produces poverty; other planets give many sons.

Planets in the 7th House—There should be no planet in the 7th house. If there be, the adverse effects are as follow:—Jupiter makes the woman disrespectful to her husband; Mercury breeds indifference to religious formalities; Venus shows bad conduct; Mars indicates adultery on the part of the woman; Saturn affects the life of the children; Kethu gives the woman the disposition of a maniac; the Sun hastens widowhood; Rahu causes poverty; the Moon brings all miseries. For these reasons the 7th house from the rising sign, at the time of marriage, should be vacant.

Planets in the 8th House—Saturn, the Sun and Mars in the 8th house cause good ; other planets produce adverse effects.

Planets in the 9th House—All planets in the 9th house, except Rahu. Mars and Saturn tend to gratify all desires.

Planets in the 10th House—Mars causes death ; the Sun leads to consumption ; Saturn shows debauchery ; Rahu gives widowhood ; other planets are benevolent.

Planets in the 11th House—These bestow all the desired advantages on both.

Planets in the 12th House—Venus, Jupiter and Mercury are fortunate planets ; other planets deter by intimidation.

JUDGMENT ON MARRIAGE.

I give below the planetary conditions that produce beneficial Yogas—those that bestow happiness and long life.

(1) If, at the time of marriage, the rising sign be occupied by Jupiter, with the Sun in the 6th house, Venus in the 8th, and the Moon in the 10th, the individual will own carriages, conveyances, gems, excellent beds, furniture, grain and wealth.

(2) If the rising sign be occupied by Jupiter, with Venus in the 8th house, the Moon in the 4th or the 7th, the Sun in the 6th, Saturn and Mars in the 3rd house, the couple, blessed with sons and grandsons, will live a long, virtuous life in the plenitude of wealth and will have the gratification of their desires.

(3) If the 3rd, 6th, 10th and 11th houses be occupied by malefics with benefics in quadrants or trines and the lord of the 11th house in exaltation, the couple will be blessed with sons, wealth and long life.

(4) The Sun in the 10th, Saturn in the 6th, Jupiter in the 9th, and Mercury in the 12th—the couple will have sons and grandsons, will have a long, happy life and will be in the enjoyment of sound health.

(5) If Jupiter occupies the rising sign with malefics in the 6th house, Mercury and Venus in quadrants, the couple will be possessed of corn, wealth, and vehicles.

(6) If the rising sign be occupied by Mercury and Venus, with the Sun in the 11th, Mars in the 10th and Jupiter in the 5th the couple will be blessed with prosperous sons and will live in affluence.

(7) If the rising sign be occupied by Jupiter and Mercury, with malefics in the 3rd, 6th, 10th and 11th houses, and the Moon in the 2nd, the couple will have sons, long life, wealth and happiness.

PLANETARY COMBINATIONS FOR MARRIAGE.

1. Mahendhra Yoga.—Jupiter in the rising sign, Venus in the 8th house, and the Sun in the 11th form this Yoga which bestows all kinds of happiness upon the individuals if Mercury be not combust (Asthagatha).

2. Vishnu Priya.—Venus in the rising sign, Jupiter in the 10th, the Sun and Mercury in the 11th—this forms the above Yoga that makes the couple thoroughly happy.

3. Ardhanaari.—Venus in the rising sign, and Jupiter in the 11th house, the 8th house being unoccupied, make Ardhanaari Yoga which promotes mutual devotion between husband and wife.

4. Sreemathi.—Venus in the 2nd house, Jupiter in the 12th, the Sun in the 8th and Saturn in the 6th form Sreemathi Yoga under which the couple will live in happiness and affluence.

5. Samudhra Yoga.—Venus in the rising sign, Jupiter in the 4th, Mercury in the 2nd and Saturn in the 11th—this is Samudhra Yoga fruitful of all happiness.

6. Mahavishnu.—Mars in the 3rd house, Saturn in the 6th, Venus in the 9th, Jupiter in the 12th—this Yoga bestows all happiness on the couple.

7. Pushya Yoga.—Saturn in the 3rd, Jupiter in the 6th, the Sun in the 10th, Mars in the 11th—this Yoga makes the couple happy in all respects.

8. Sthavara Yoga.—Jupiter configured with Venus in the rising sign, well-dignified, forms this Yoga that promises all welfare.

9. Jaya Yoga.—Venus in the rising sign in conjunction with Jupiter—the two planets being well-dignified—makes Jaya Yoga which is extremely felicitous.

10. Vijayam. Mercury, Jupiter and Venus, well-dignified and stationed in the rising sign produce Vijayam which is really the queen of all beneficial Yogas.

Jupiter and Venus in the rising sign, with the Moon in Cancer and in his own Navamsa, give a happy married life and promote prosperity of sons. (The position of the Moon, by this rule, is obtained when the time, in question, is governed by the 4th quarter of asterism Punarvasu.)

Marriage during Utharayana generally promotes prosperity of sons and grandsons besides wealth.

Influence of the Months.—The marriage should be performed in a very auspicious month.

The months of Ashada, Badhrapadha, Margasira and Magha are not good. The other eight months are fortunate.

Marriage in the month of Pushya and Krithika endows the woman with good character ; in the month of Palguna, the woman will live in affluence and will be very wealthy ; Vysakha and Jyeshta favour a prosperous life, active sympathy with relations, a strong sense of duty to husband, and birth of sons ; Sravana, Aswayuja and Chythra are of middling quality.

Influence of the Asterisms—If the ruling asterism, at the moment of marriage, be the 2nd, 4th, 6th, 8th, or 9th from the Jenma-Nakshathra of the individual, the couple will live in fortune and acquire lands.

Asterism Magha prolongs the life of the bridegroom ; the bride will live with her sons and brothers in wealth and plenty ; Mrigasirsha produces mutual devotion dearer than life and makes them happy ; Hastha bestows pecuniary gains, and corn in plenty, and happiness besides ; Swathi and Anuradha show development of affection between the couple ; promises to enrich them with pearls, corals and gems ; Revathi promotes reciprocal sympathy and good feeling ; Rohini favours progress of sons, grandsons, and riches too. Utharapalguni, Utharashada and Utharabadhrapadha signify increasing happiness, many man-servants and maid-servants and a life, long enough to see children's children.

Adverse Yogas to be avoided—No marriage should be celebrated towards the end of a Paksha, a † Ruthu,

† The year is naturally divided into six seasons marked by temperature, moisture etc. Each season is known as a Ruthu. • Vasantha Ruthu, comprising Chythra and Vaisakha, is the spring season. Grishma Ruthu comprises Jyeshta and Ashada—the warmest time. Varsha Ruthu is the rainy season ; it comprises the months of Sravana and Badhrapadha. Sharat Ruthu is the season when plants begin to put forth leaves ; Aswayuja and Krithika are its months. Hemantha Ruthu, comprising Margasira and Pushya is the snowy season. Sisira Ruthu—Magha and Palguna months—is the season at which plants begin to spring and blossom.

¶ Ayana or of a year; during † Rikthai; when the Moon is on the wane; ‡ Vishu, Vyatheepatham and Shadaseethimukham are also inauspicious. The Prishtodhaya Rasis (Aries, Taurus, Cancer, Sagittarius and Capricorn, signs that rise by their feet) produce no good. The marriage should not be signified by the depression of Jupiter or by the asterisms, Ulkapatham § Bookampam, Nirghatham. * Dhikdhaham; or Jenma-Nakshathra, and the 3rd, 5th, 7th, 10th and 19th asterisms; therefrom, should also be avoided. An asterism, (1) just released from a malefic, (2) one through which a malefic is just passing, (3) one close to a malefic—these three asterisms are also inauspicious.

The Adverse Effects Marriage towards the end of a Paksha has a tendency to prove evil to the relations of the couple; Rikthai produces poverty; waning Moon leads to pecuniary loss; marriage towards the end of a Ruthu causes the death of the son; Vishu and Vyatheepatham indicate disease and death; Shadaseethimukham gives rise to altercations; marriage towards the end of a year signifies ruin to the individual or to his family; the end of an Ayana is also harmful; Prishtodhaya Rasis incline to cause repentance; Dhikdhaham foreshadows danger by fire; the 19th asterism and the Jenma-Nakshathra produce evil; the 3rd asterism from the latter denotes ruin to friends; the 7th asterism portends disaster.

¶ Utharayana and Dhakshinayana are the two periods of six months each into which Hindu astrological year is divided. The former denotes the period when the Sun is in his Northern Circle between Capricorn and Cancer; the latter is the period when the Sun is in his Southern Circle between Cancer and Capricorn.

* Preternatural redness visible in the horizon.

‡ Sankaranthi.

Marriage under an asterism, just passed through by a malefic, produces rancour; marriage under an asterism to be occupied by a malefic threatens to cause starvation; marriage under an asterism that is governed by a malefic brings poverty.

Marriage during eclipse under an asterism governed by Kethu brings death within six months.

The Moon in conjunction with the Sun, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus, Saturn, Rahu or Kethu, respectively produces poverty, disease, sterility, misfortune, ‡ Sa-pathneeyam, constant journey, dissension and ceaseless grief.

The month and the day of birth and Jenma-Nakshathra are inauspicious only in the case of the marriage of the first-born son and not for marriage of girls or the other sons.

Mercury, well-located in the Lagna, is powerful enough to diminish a hundred adverse effects; Venus strong in the Lagna eradicates a thousand evils; while Jupiter well-dignified in the Lagna, sinks three lakhs.

ON ATTAINMENT OF PUBERTY.

CHAPTER XV.

The character, career and destiny of a girl could be judged from the month, the Thithi, the asterism, the day and the moment of her arriving at puberty.

Influence of Months—To attain puberty in the month of Chythra portends widowhood; Vaisakha shows chastity; Jyesta promotes enjoyments of pleasure; Ashada leads to moral depravity; Sravana gives birth to sons; Badhrapadha brings wealth; Aswayuja suggests widowhood; Krithika signifies adultery; Margasira inclines to bad character; Pushya makes her a chaste wife; Magha causes loss of property; Parguna produces many children.

Influence of Days—Sunday inclines to barrenness; Monday makes the girl a chaste wife; Tuesday forebodes ruin to her husband; Wednesday gives sons; Thursday signifies good nature; Friday bestows many children; Saturday produces poverty.

Influence of the Stars—Aswini causes widowhood; Bharani gives birth to sons; Krithika inclines to loss of children; Rohini leads to happiness; Mrigasirsha shows gain of all advantages; Ardhra tends to disease; Punarvasu welcomes a pleasant life; Pushya signifies regal pleasures; Aslesha predicts death of the son; Magha helps the growth of sons; Purvaparguni foretells luck; Utharaparguni indicates comfort; Hastha produces much happiness; Chithra, ordinary happiness; Swathi breeds a good family; Visakha forebodes widowhood; Anuradha promotes well-being; Jyesta tempts to adultery; Mula inclines to prostitution; Purvashada brings affluence; Utharashada bestows happiness; Sravana favours a very noble career; Sravisha denotes many kinds of enjoyment; Sathabis produces poverty; Purvabadhrapadha gives a virtuous son; Utharabadhrapadha presages a luxurious and comfortable life; Revathi promotes chastity and devotion to husband.

Influence of Thithis—Prathamai portends widowhood; Dhwithiyai and Thrithiyai produce well-being; Chathurthi tends to the commission of adultery; Panchami gives birth to a son; Shashti causes ruin to the son; Sapthami leads to sensual bliss ; Ashtami denotes suffering from disease ; Navami makes the woman poor ; Dhasami fills her days with happiness and enjoyments ; Ekadhasi promotes love of husband ; Dhwadhasi foreshadows widowhood ; Thrayodhasi signifies a comfortable life ; Chathurdhasi favours adultery ; Full-Moon gives sons ; New-moon ruins the family.

Influence of Zodiacal Signs—Aries shows prostitution ; Taurus signifies enjoyment of several pleasures ; Gemini brings all affluence ; Cancer denotes bad character ; Leo gives sons ; Virgo welcomes fortune ; Libra shows cleverness ; Scorpio leads to adultery ; 1st half of Sagittari inclines to immorality ; the 2nd half favours chastity ; Capricorn causes dishonor ; Aquarius makes the woman wealthy ; Pisces develops ability.

Lord of the Amsa—If Mars be the lord of the rising Navamsa, the woman will become a servant ; Venus makes her poor ; Mercury bestows wealth and sensual bliss ; the Moon leads to wicked character ; the Sun brings in good sense ; Jupiter favours prosperity and fortune ; Saturn tends to poverty.

Influence of Planets in the Rising Sign--Planets occupying the rising sign at the time of puberty also affect the life and character of the woman—favourably or adversely :—The Sun portends the death of the woman ; the Moon gives birth to daughters ; Mars causes abortion ; Mercury bestows sons ; Venus and Jupiter favour long life, wealth, fortune, health and affection ; Saturn signifies enmity ; Rahu inclines to grief.

Planets in the 7th House.—All matters connected with the fortune and the husband of a woman shall be determined from the 7th house. The effects produced by planets, located in the 7th house from the rising sign, at the moment of puberty, are :—The Sun predicts widowhood ; waxing Moon foretells well-being ; waning Moon breeds consumption ; Mars affects the son ; Mercury gives birth to sons ; Jupiter favours wealth and long life ; Venus fulfils all desires ; Saturn prevents conception ; Rahu threatens to bring death.

Influence of the Days of the Week.—Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday are respectively governed by the Sun, the Moon, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn. The strength of the day corresponds to the strength of its lord. The influence of the day, and that of the planet that rules it, on the life and character of a woman, are thus set forth:—To attain puberty on a Sunday, at a moment when the rising sign is occupied, or aspected by, the Sun, signifies death ; Tuesday with Mars in the Lagna or aspecting it, causes abortion ; Saturday, with the rising sign occupied or aspected by Saturn leads to prostitution ; Wednesday, with the rising sign occupied, or aspected by, Mercury gives good sons ; Friday with the rising sign occupied or aspected by Venus favours a life of happiness, free from illness ; Thursday, with the rising sign occupied or aspected by Jupiter, bestows long life.

Influence of the Day and the Night.—The forenoon is the most auspicious time ; the noon is middling in quality ; the afternoon is bad. Similarly the early part of the night is favourable ; midnight is of middling quality ; the time between midnight and morning is inauspicious.

If the ruling asterism, at the time of attaining puberty, be inimical to the Jenma-Nakshathra of the native, or, if the rising sign, at the time, be the 8th from her Jenma-Rasi, or, if it be Chandrashtama day for her, the woman wil' suffer many griefs.

The woman, fresh from her bath, after the menstrual period, should first set her eye upon her husband alone; none else should be the object of her sight at the time. This will preserve the purity of her progeny. [The prevailing practice is, however, quite different. Women, as a rule, keep out of sight of the husband at the time.]

NISHEKAM (COPULATION.)

CHAPTER XVI.

Nishekam is the word used to denote the first sexual union between husband and wife. For this a day of beneficent planetary influence must be selected according to the Sastras. The bed chamber should be in a convenient place decorated and kept fragrant with sandal, flowers etc, and provided with water taken from sacred rivers. Above all, there should be nothing to disturb the peace of mind of the couple.

The best asterisms are Rohini, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Swathi, Anuradha, Mula, Utharashada, Sravana, Sathabis, Utharabadhrapadha and Revathi.

Aswini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Chithra, and Sravishta—these asterisms are of middling quality. The remaining asterisms should be avoided.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are auspicious days, as also the Amsas of the lords of these days viz; the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus.

Saturday, Tuesday and Sunday should not be considered. The Amsas of Saturn, Mars and the Sun should also be rejected.

All Thithis except Chathurthi, Ashtami, Navami, Chathurdhasi, Full-Moon and New-Moon days are good.

The Jenma-Nakshathra (the asterism at birth), the 10th asterism (Anu-Jenma), and also the 19th asterism (Thri-Jenma) therefrom should be strictly avoided. Dhwadhasi is equally inauspicious.

The beneficent signs are Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra and Pisces. Avoid other signs.

Ruthu-Dhinam—This is the expression used to denote the sixteen days from the first day of the menstrual period. Sexual union during the odd days will tend to produce a female child. The issue of sexual union on even days will be male. Those that wish to beget a son should prefer the even days. To indulge in sexual intercourse during the first four days of menses will lead to serious evil effects. The first day proves fatal to the husband; the second day affects the life of the woman; the third day causes abortion; the fourth day inclines to produce a poor and short-lived son, stupid, houseless, miserable and bereft of good habits. Besides all these evils, sexual union, on the fourth day, impairs the vital power of the father; and so, the first four days of the menses should be avoided. Copulation on the fifth day tends to give birth to a daughter; the sixth day favours a son who will promote posterity; the seventh day inclines to bring forth a daughter who will bear no child; the issue of sexual union on the eighth day will be a noble son; the ninth day tends to give birth to a wicked girl; the tenth day promises a praiseworthy son; the eleventh day predicts the birth of a girl having a disposition to be unrighteous; the twelfth day welcomes a virtuous son; the thirteenth day favours the birth of a virtuous woman; the fourteenth gives birth to a son rich in corn and gold; the fifteenth day inclines to bring forth a daughter that will not live long; Copulation on the sixteenth day of the menses presages the birth of a son of all-embracing intelligence. Sexual union may be indulged in only on days that bear favorable testimonies so that the progeny may be noble, sunny and prosperous.

INFLUENCE OF THE RISING SIGN.

If the rising sign, at the time of Nisheka, be an even one, occupied by the Moon, the issue will be a daughter ; if it be an odd sign, with the Moon in it, the issue will be a son.

If the Sun and Jupiter be stationed in any of the odd signs from the rising sign, at the time of Nisheka, the issue will be a son.

If, at the time of Nisheka, the Sun and the Moon or Mercury and Saturn aspect each other, the issue will be a hermaphrodite.

Saturn in the Nisheka Lagna (the rising sign at the time of Nisheka) aspected by Mars in conjunction with the waning Moon leads to the death of the woman during the period of pregnancy.

If the Nisheka Lagna and the sign occupied by the Moon be between evil planets without the aspect of benefics, the woman will either die within the period of pregnancy, or after parturition. The child will not survive the mother.

If the Nisheka Lagna be the house of Saturn or his own Navamsa, and if that planet occupies the 7th house from the Nisheka Lagna, a child will be born in three years.

Cancer, as the Nisheka Lagna, or as the Amsa occupied by the Moon, with the Moon in the 7th house from the Nisheka Lagna, promises a child in twelve years.

The Sun, the Moon, Mars and Venus, located in their own signs, with Jupiter in the Lagna or in the 5th or 9th house—this planetary position foretells the birth of a son.

If the Nisheka Lagna be Sagittarius, with the same planet occupying either that or the last Navamsa of it, aspected by Mercury or Saturn, there will be many children.

If the Nisheka Lagna be an even sign, occupied by Venus and the Moon with Mars, Mercury and Jupiter in odd signs, the issue will be Twins.

If the Nisheka Lagna be an even sign and the Moon occupies also an even sign, Mars, Jupiter and the Sun aspecting both the Lagna and the Moon from even signs, the issue will be Twins.

Hermaphrodite—Mercury and the Moon located in the Nisheka Lagna aspected by Mars lead to the birth of a hermaphrodite.

The Sun stationed in the Nisheka Lagna (even sign) aspected by hermaphrodite planets (Mercury and Saturn) produces a hermaphrodite.

Dwarf—If Nisheka Lagna be the “last Navamsa of Capricorn” (Virgo) aspected by the Sun, the Moon and Saturn, the issue will be a marvel of a dwarf.

Hunch-back—Cancer as the Nisheka Lagna occupied by the Moon and aspected by Saturn and Mars causes the birth of a hunch-back.

Cripple—Pisces as the Nisheka Lagna occupied by the Moon aspected by Mars, Saturn and the Sun tends to produce a cripple.

Leper—If the rising Navamsa, at the time of Nisheka, be Pisces, Cancer, Capricorn or Aries, occupied by the Moon, in conjunction with or aspected by Mars and Saturn, the issue will be a leper.

Blindness—The Sun and the Moon posited in the Nisheka Lagna—Leo—aspectd by Mars and Saturn predict the birth of a blind child.

Protuberant Eyes—The same Nisheka Lagna (Leo) occupied by the Sun and the Moon, aspectd by benefics (the Full-Moon, Jupiter, Venus and Mercury) as well as by malefics (Mars, Saturn, the Sun, Rahu and Kethu) causes the birth of a child with protuberant eyes.

Defective Limbs.—Mars, located in the 5th or 9th house from the N. L. aspectd by malefics, gives birth to one with defective limbs, if Jupiter be not well-dignified in any of the quadrants.

Scraggy Body.—Aries or Taurus, as N. L. aspectd by malefics, gives birth to one of scraggy body.

Leprosy.—Scorpio, Capricorn or Taurus, (as the N-L) with malefics located in, or aspecting, the 5th and 9th houses causes the birth of a child that will contract leprosy.

Leprosy, Diseases of the Stomach or of the Lungs.—The Moon located in the N. L. with malefics in the 2nd and the 12th houses and the Sun in the 7th, threatens to give birth to a child that will contract leprosy, dyspepsia, or asthma.

Adverse effect on the Husband.—If, in the figure of the heavens, at the time of Nisheka, the 7th house from the Sun be governed by Saturn and Mars, the husband of the woman will contract disease.

Abortion.—The Sun in the N. L. with Saturn and Mars in the 7th house, (2) Saturn, Mars and the Moon located in N. L., (3) the Moon, stationed in the house of Saturn or Mars and aspectd by the same planets, but not by benefics—these three planetary positions tend to cause abortion.

No feeling of grief or uneasiness should pervade the minds of the couple during Nisheka; otherwise, the result will be a dwarf, dumb, blind or miserable child.

Some astrologers lay stress on the principle that the N. L. must not be occupied by any planet; others consider that the 8th house should be vacant. It is good, therefore, that there should be no planet in the N. L. and the 8th house, therefrom.

PUMSAVANAM.

CHAPTER XVII.

This function is performed when the woman is in the family way, in the 3rd month, preferably, when symptoms of pregnancy become evident. Pumsavanam may also be celebrated in the 4th, 6th or 8th month under asterisms, Pushya or Sravana.

All Thithis except Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Dhwadhasi, Chathurdhasi, Full-Moon and New-Moon days, are auspicious.

All signs, except Gemini, Cancer and Virgo, are favourable.

Virgo, is inauspicious even when aspected to a benefic. That sign should be strictly avoided.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are fruitful, as also the Amsas of the lords of these days viz., the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus.

The 8th house from the rising sign should be vacant.

The Moon located in the rising sign or in the 12th house and the rising sign aspected to Venus are commended as very favourable.

Benefics produce good, if located in Quadrants (Kendhras) or Trines (Thrikonas). These places should not be held by malefics. The latter cause good if posited in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses.

The Moon must be well-dignified for this celebration. These rules should be considered, only when Pumsavanam is separately performed. As a rule, it is blended with Seemantham in which case the delineations for the latter should be followed.

SEEMANTHAM.

I now proceed to give the delineations for Seemantham. This must take place in the 4th, 6th or 8th ☿ solar month.

Followers of Bhodhayana and Kowsheethaka may have Seemantham in the 5th or the 7th month.

If the months, specified for this function, be inconvenient, Sage Sankha considers that it must be performed any time before delivery at all events, being an important sacrament intended for the sanctification of the pregnant woman. The ceremony is ordained only in respect to the first conception.

The following asterisms are excellent:—Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Utharashada, Utharabhadrapadha, Hastha, Sravana and Revathi. It would be well if the stellar quarter, at the time of celebration, be governed by a benefic. This strengthens the good influence of the asterism.

Some astrologers are of opinion that Aswini, Anuradha and Mula may also be commended as auspicious under unavoidable circumstances.

Avoid Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Chathurdhasi and New-Moon days. Chathurthi, Chathurdhasi and the Full-Moon days are commended as auspicious by some when the Moon is well-dignified.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday and the Amsas of the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus (lords of these days respectively) are fruitful.

Avoid Sunday, Tuesday and Saturday and the Amsas of malefics (the Sun, Mars and Saturn.)

All signs except Leo and Scorpio are beneficent. Other signs are not to be considered.

The 8th house from the rising sign at the time must be vacant.

Exception—If the lord of the 8th house from the rising sign, at the time, be stationed in a quadrant (Kendhra) aspected to benefics, the adverse effects referred to in the above rule will disappear.

The wise man will avoid Seemantham under the 3rd, 5th, 7th, 10th, 19th, 22nd and 27th asterisms, from the Jenma-Nakshathra which are inauspicious.

Chandrashtama should be avoided.

It must be observed that, as the auspicious nature of the month ranks first in importance, Jupiter and Venus produce no evil, if combust, at the time of the celebration. †Athimasam should also be avoided.

LYING-IN APARTMENT.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The place for child-birth (Soothika-Griham) should be arranged at the approach of the month of parturition.

The following asterisms are the best:—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha. Utharashada, Utharabadhra-padha and Revathi.

All Thithis except Rikthai (Chathurthi, Navami and Chathurdhasi) Ashtami, New-Moon and Full-Moon days are auspicious.

The * Sthira-Karanas such as Sakhunam, Chathushpadham, Nagam, and Kimsthughnam should be avoided, as also Vishti-Karana.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are prosperous as also the Amsas of the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus.

Malefics should be avoided and the days which they govern—Sunday, Tuesday and Saturday—and the Amsas.

Taurus, Leo, Scorpio and Aquarius are fruitful signs; Gemini and other Common signs are middling; the Movable signs, Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn should not be considered.

The apartment chosen for the birth of the child must be comfortable to the pregnant woman.

* Sakhunam occurs in the latter half of Chathurdhasi; Chathushpadham and Nagam occur in the two halves of the New-Moon respectively; Kimsthughnam occurs in the first half of Prathamai of the bright fortnight. For explanation of Vishti etc., See Ch. 33.

AGRICULTURAL WORK.

CHAPTER XIX.

The rules for choosing the most auspicious time for the commencement of agricultural work which is indispensable to the subsistence of the world are set forth below:—

The first step in this matter is to select an auspicious day on which the owner may set his foot on his land for the purpose. Then follow ploughing and other operations.

The best asterisms under which the owner may enter into his land to start agricultural work are:—Bharani, Ardhra, Pushya, Magha, Utharapalguni, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Utharashada and Utharabhadrapadha.

All odd Thithis (Prathamai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Sapthami, Navami, Ekadhasi and Thrayodhasi) except Navami are favourable. The even Thithis except Dhwithiyai and Dhasami should be avoided. Some astrologers condemn ‡ Badhrai.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday are auspicious. Saturday also is recommended by some.

TILLAGE.

Taurus, Virgo and Scorpio produce good. The days of benefic planets produce good; those of malefics show evil. Sign Leo or any other, held by the Sun, or, any asterism governed by him, is favourable. Having entered the land on an auspicious day the owner may start ploughing.

‡ Badhrai is the word used to denote Dhwithiyai, Sapthami and Dhwadhasi Thithis. See Chapter 33.

The beneficent asterisms are:—Rohini, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Anuradha, Mula, Utharashada and Utharabaddhrapadha. Aswini, Mrigashirsha, Magha, Chithra, Swathi, Visakha, Sravana, Sravishta and Sathabis are also considered auspicious by some astrologers. For commencing tillage choose the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 19th, 20th, 24th, 25th and 26th * asterisms from the one occupied by the Sun on the day in question. All other asterisms produce evil.

All Thithis except Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Dhwadhasi, Chathurdhasi Full-Moon and New-Moon days are good.

To start ploughing on Navami causes damage to crops; Chathurthi leads to their destruction by insects; Chathurdhasi tends to cause danger to the life of the owner.

There should be no malefic planet in the rising sign, at the time, lest the landlord may be adversely affected.

The fortunate signs are:—Taurus, Gemini, Cancer Capricorn and Pisces. Avoid Aries, Leo, Scorpio and Aquarius. The remaining signs are of middling quality.

The Influence of the Zodiacal Signs.—If, at the time of starting, the rising sign be Aries, it proves fatal to the cows; Taurus, Gemini and Cancer promise a good harvest, Leo leads to damage of crops; Virgo favours a proper yield; Libra predicts luxuriant growth; Scorpio threatens to cause damage to the crops by fire; Sagittarius promotes fertility; Capricorn gives an abundant harvest; Aquarius causes fear of thieves; Pisces denotes prosperity.

* Some of these asterisms have also to be avoided, for while being favorable to tillage they afflict either the bullocks or the landlord. See para 6 of page 102.

Choose the bright fortnight (Sakla-Paksha) and avoid the dark fortnight (Krishna-Paksha).

For ploughing for the first time choose a time (1) when the Moon holds a watery sign (2) when the rising sign is occupied by Jupiter and Venus (3) when the ruling asterism is Rohini and a benefic is the lord of the rising Navamsa (4) when the rising sign is Taurus during the forenoon governed by asterism Rohini.

Start and proceed to plough eastward or northward. And, for the first day, stop with cutting one or three or five furrows.

Quadrupeds with broken horns or hoofs or with tails cut and those of brown colour should not serve for tillage. Dark or red-coloured ones should be put to the task.

To meet with a serpent among the furrows while ploughing signifies that the land will soon be alienated; to see a tortoise denotes that the profits from the land will certainly go up a thousandfold. If ashes, charcoal, husk, bone, hair, tooth, or tile be found, pour a mixture of ghee and milk in the furrows and resume ploughing.

Avoid the six asterisms from the one occupied by the Sun, for they cause affliction to the bullocks; asterisms thirteen to eighteen, therefrom (both inclusive), affect the landlord adversely; the other asterisms are good.

SOWING.

Seeds must be sown at the appropriate seasons. The most fruitful asterisms are:—Rohini, Pushya, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Swathi, Visakha, Anuradha, Mula, Utharashada, Sravana, Sathabis, Utharabadhrapadha and Revathi. Aswini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu and Sravishta have middling influence. The other asterisms should be avoided.

Roots—To sow seeds of roots the following asterisms are good:—Bharani, Krithika, Magha, Purvapalguni, Visakha, Mula, Purvashada and Purvabhadrapada.

Flower and Fruit—For sowing seeds of flower plants and fruit-bearing creepers the following are beneficent asterisms:—Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Jyeshtha and Revathi.

Fruitful Stellar Yogas:— Bharani governs Solanum Indicum and Solanum Jacquini. Aswini favours the growth of betel-nut trees; Rohini is a fruitful asterism for trees; sugar-canes flourish under Punarvasu; Chithra protects all varieties of grain; Swathi governs paddy; Anuradha is a productive asterism for sesamum; Mula brings up all roots and creepers; black-grain crops do very well under asterism Sathabis; and for the teeming growth of paddy Sravana is the best asterism.

Cocoanut—To plant seedlings of cocoanut, choose sign Aquarius governed by Venus in the Rasi and the Amsa figures.

Pumpkins—The seeds must be sown at a time when Venus rules the rising sign and the 5th Navamsa of Pisces (Scorpio). There will then be an abundant crop of huge pumpkins.

All Thithis except Prathamai, Dhwithiyai, Chathurthi, Shashti, Sapthami, Navami, Ekadhasi and Chathurdhasi and all Karanas except Vishti, Chathushpadham, Nagam, Kimsthughnam † are auspicious.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the Amsas governed by the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus are beneficent.

Seeds and Their Days—Sasya (paddy) seeds should be sown on a Sunday when the rising sign, at the time, is occupied by the Sun ; seeds of flower plants, such as thrive in water, should be sown on Monday when the rising sign, at the time, is occupied by the Moon ; ragi seeds should be sown on Tuesday when the rising sign, at the time, is occupied by Mars ; Palmyra seedlings and the varieties of the palm, such as the betel, Coco etc., should be planted on Wednesday when the rising sign is occupied by Mercury ; seedlings of long-lived fruit trees should be planted on Thursday when the rising sign, at the time, is occupied by Jupiter ; seedlings of Flower trees should be planted on Friday when the rising sign, at the time, is occupied by Venus ; seeds of Black Grains should be sown on Saturday noon when the rising sign, at the time, is occupied by Saturn.

Agricultural work started on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will prove quite profitable. Sunday, Tuesday and Saturday are favourable only to a particular kind of agricultural work.

The best signs are:—Taurus, Cancer, Leo, Capricorn and Pisces ; Libra, Gemini and Aquarius have common influence ; the other signs will do no good.

Malefics in the 3rd, 6th or 11th houses produce good. They must not be in other houses.

The Moon in the 2nd, 3rd, 4th 5th, 7th, 10th and 11th houses from the rising sign, at the time, does much good.

There must be no planet in the 8th house. Venus in the 7th house is also inauspicious.

To determine the day for sowing a Field.—Note in the first place the asterism ruled by Venus on the day in question. The three succeeding asterisms, therefrom, blight the crops ; the next three asterisms prevent earing, and produce blasted stalks ; the next twelve asterisms favour luxuriant growth, and one of them should be chosen ; the penultimate six asterisms produce empty grains ; and under the last three the plants perish.

If these directions be carefully followed, all agricultural operations will be abundantly repaid.

HARVEST.

CHAPTER XX.

To start reaping the crop, the most favourable asterisms are;—Bharani, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Ardhra, Pushya, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Visakha, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sravana, Utharabhadrapadha and Revathi.

Of Thithis, avoid Chathurthi, Ashtami, Navami, Eka-dhasi, Dhwadhasi, Chathurdhasi and New-Moon. † Sthira Karanas (Sakunam, Chathushpadham, Nagam and Kimsthugnam) and Vishti Karanas should be positively avoided. The remaining Thithis and Karanas are good.

Signs belonging to benefics and the days governed by them are felicitous.

To Commence Harvest :—Choose sign Pisces under the asterism Bharani ; sign Scorpio under the asterism Sravana ; sign Cancer under the asterism Visakha—for, these planetary positions promote prosperity and strengthen you to prevail over your enemies.

Aries and Cancer afford a happy time for gathering fruits. Begin no work of this kind after nightfall. All signs will benefit, if Jupiter be located in the 4th house from the rising sign at the time of starting this work.

Avoid Jenma-Nakshathra and the 10th and the 19th asterisms therefrom. To start work under these asterisms will result in loss.

THE IN GATHERING OF CROPS.

The produce of agriculture may be gathered in at any time during the year excepting the months of Sravana and Badhrapadha. The best asterisms are:—Bharani, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Purvapalguni, Ardhra, Punarvasu, Pushya, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Swathi, Anuradha, Mula, Utharashada, Sravana, Utharabadhrapadha and Revathi.

Saturn located in the 4th house, from the rising sign, at the time, is a benefic for this business.

All Thithis, except Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Dhwadhasi, Chathurdhasi and New-Moon, are good. Sthira Karanas—Sakunam, Chathushpadham, Nagam and Kimsthughnam—and Vishti Karanas should be strictly avoided. Nitya Yogas produce good.

Monday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday are the best as also the Amsas and signs of the lords thereof, viz., the Moon, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn. Wednesday and the Amsa of Mercury are neutrals.

Avoid Tuesday and Sunday and the Amsas of Mars and the Sun.

Fixed signs bestow much good; Common signs cause profit as well as loss. No collection of grain should be commenced when the rising sign is a Movable one.

Benefics occupying the rising sign, or the 4th, 5th, 7th, 9th and 10th houses, therefrom, and malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses produce good.

The signs occupied, to be next occupied, or just vacated by malefics should be left out of consideration; those occupied by benefics should alone be chosen.

Jupiter and Saturn occupying or aspecting a fixed Navamsa and governing any of the ‡“Oordhwa-Mukha” asterisms afford a very prosperous time for gathering grains.

Here the author describes a small ceremony before commencing to gather corn. The ceremony consists in scattering all round the fields a mess of cooked rice and curd to propitiate the Deities that preside over the grown product of the field. This over, the work of gathering should proceed silently—the people at work should not talk to one another. (The object of this rule seems to be to safeguard the produce against contamination by the offensive odour emanating from some mouths and the spurting of saliva.) The practice should be let to a virgin take the corn, first of all, and put it into the hands of a pregnant woman who must preserve it.

FORTUNATE PLANETARY YOGAS.

(1) A fixed sign (Rising Sign at the time) aspected by Saturn with Jupiter in the 7th house forms an excellent Yoga for starting to gather in corn. This planetary position favours growth and progress.

(2) Dhanya Parvatha Yoga.—The day ruled by asterism Māgha, in the month of Magha, or that ruled by Utharapalguni in the month of Palguna, at a time when the rising sign is Taurus—this makes Dhanya Parvatha Yoga.

‡ Oordhwa-Mukha Asterisms are :—Rohini, Ardhra, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Utharashada, Sravana, Sravishta, Sathabis and Utharabhadrapada.

(3) Dhanya-Meru.—Saturn occupying the rising sign, at the time, Jupiter in the 7th, the Moon in the 7th house from the Sun—this is an equally valuable Yoga the effect of which is to endow the landlord with a mountain of property in grain.

(4) Another felicitous time is after mid-day when the rising sign is occupied by Saturn or by Gulika—this adds to the grain store.

(5) Saturn aspecting the rising sign (fixed) at the time, with Jupiter in the 7th forms another favourable Yoga.

(6) Still more auspicious is the time when the rising sign is occupied by Jupiter, with the Moon in the 12th and the Sun in the 6th house.

(7) Dhanya-Parvatha Yoga—Asterism Pushya in the month of Pushya and asterism Sravana in the month of Sravana—these also form Dhanya Parvatha Yogas.

(8) Dhanyarnava Yoga—If, at the time of gathering in corn, the rising sign be occupied by Jupiter, the 4th house by the Moon, the 11th by the Sun and the 7th by Saturn, what is known as Dhanyarnava Yoga is formed. Under its influence the grain property of the landlord will go on swelling in abundance like the billows of the ocean.

EXPENDITURE OF CORN.

The best asterisms for expenditure of corn are:—Aswini, Mrigashirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Purvaparguni, Utharaparguni, Utharashada, Sravana, Sravishta, Purvabhadrapadha, Utharabhadrapadha and Revathi. If grain be expended on days ruled by these asterisms the store will flourish increasingly.

The asterisms to be avoided are:—Bharani, Krithika, Rohini, Ardhra, Chithra, Swathi, Jyeshtha, Mula, and Sathabis. Under no circumstances can grain be interfered with on these days. The influence of the remaining asterisms (Aslesha and Magha) is middling.

Any Saturday ruled by a beneficent asterism and a Thithi and any time, thereon, when the rising sign is the house of Jupiter, is very auspicious for expenditure of corn. The stock will increase.

No grain should be expended on Chathurthi, Ashtami, Navami, Chathurdhasi and the New-Moon. The remaining Thithis do good.

Some astrologers commend Rikthai as good for expending corn.

† Sthira Karanas (Sakunam, Chathushpadham, Nagam, Kimsthughnam) and Vishti Karanas should be avoided, as also Sunday, Tuesday and Friday, and the Amsas of the Sun, Mars and Venus. The other days are good. Some writers consider Friday felicitous and commend also the Amsas of Venus as such.

Fixed signs have a beneficent influence; Common signs have middling influence; Movable signs should be left out of consideration. Malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses and benefics in squares or trines, the 8th house being vacant, do much good.

TO LAY UP TREASURE.

CHAPTER XXI.

To lay up treasure, all Thithis except Rikthai, Full-Moon and New-Moon are auspicious.

The following asterisms are the best:—Mrigasirsha, Ardhra, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sravana, Sravishta, Sathabis and Utharabhadrapadha.

Sthira Karanas (Sakunam, Chathushpadham, Nagam and Kimsthughnam) and Vishti Karanas should be avoided.

Nitya Yoga, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and the Amsas and signs of the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus are favourable.

Fixed signs have beneficial influence ; Common signs have middling influence.

Malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses, benefics in quadrants or trines bestow all prosperity.

There should be no planet in the 8th house.

Jupiter in Virgothama position with Mercury and Venus in quadrants is an extremely lucky planetary position for collecting and depositing gold. The store will then increase a millionfold.

Equally felicitous is the time when the rising Navam-sa is occupied by the Moon in her main exaltation with Jupiter in the 7th house.

A very fortunate planetary condition under which gold, grain and gems may be gathered and deposited is when the rising sign is occupied by Saturn. Jupiter located in the rising sign gives prosperity.

Jupiter, in the rising sign, Venus in the 2nd, Mercury in the 11th and the Moon in the 10th house—this is the best planetary position which renders the store firm against failure.

To take on Servants etc.—To employ servants and to deposit money choose the time on a Thursday when the rising sign is occupied by Jupiter with the Sun in the 11th and Saturn in the 6th house. Everything will prosper immensely.

Metals—To store lead, bronze and iron, Venus located in the rising sign, with the Moon, Jupiter in the 10th house, is a prosperous planetary position.

To treasure gold, silver, copper, brass, iron, pearl, coral, emerald and diamond choose favourable asterisms from the list given above in this chapter.

Fragrant Substances—If at the time of collecting camphor, sandal and odoriferous woods such as Devadar, and garlands, the rising sign be occupied by Jupiter with the Moon in the 12th house, the stock will become inexhaustible.

Library and Records—To form a Library or to collect records, the most fruitful time is when Mercury is in his main exaltation, or occupies the rising sign on a Thursday in exaltation—the Library and records will prosper rapidly.

Silver—For making and storing silver wares, the most felicitous time is that when the ‡ rising sign is occupied by Venus on a Saturday, when the Moon is in asterism Rohini (in her exaltation in Taurus), Jupiter aspecting Aquarius.

The silver wares will increase in quantity a hundred-fold if, at the time of collecting them, the rising sign be governed by Venus, in exaltation, with Jupiter in the 7th and the Sun in the 5th house.

TO TAKE POSSESSION OF LAND.

To gain possession of any land your right to which is contested, scoop out and carry away a handful of earth from that land, at a time when the rising sign is Cancer, when the fourth quarter of any of the asterisms, Bharani, Ardhra, Visakha, or Hastha rules.

A very auspicious time for taking possession of a land is that when the rising sign and the Navamsa thereof are occupied by the Sun and Kethu—these two planets must be together in the rising sign as well as in the Navamsa Chakra, for the time. The land so obtained will permanently remain yours.

The best asterisms are:—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigashirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Swathi, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sravana, Sravishta, Sathabis, and Utharabhadrapadha. Avoid Rikthai and Vishti Karana.

To Buy Land and Cattle—Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday are good. The lords of these days are the Moon, Mars, Mercury and Saturn respectively. The lord of the day, in question, should occupy the rising sign at the moment of the transaction.

To Buy Sheep—The most prosperous time is that on a Thursday ruled by asterism Pushya when the rising sign is Aries. Sheep purchased at this time multiply a thousandfold.

Krithika, Ardhra, Magha, Aslesha, Swathi and Anuradha are good, only for buying cattle; not for selling which will end in loss.

Loan on Pledge—Things given or pledged and money lent for interest, under asterisms Sadharana, Vajra and Theekshana do not return.

Loan or Gift of Gold—He who parts with his gold, at a time when the ruling asterism is Krithika, Magha, Mula, Sathabis, Utharapalguni, Punarvasu, or Jenma-Nakshathra will be reduced to destitution. The one that receives the metal will flourish.

The “Sadharana” asterisms are:—Visakha and Krithika.

The "Vajra" asterisms:—Bharani, Magha, Purvapalguni, Purvashada and Purvabadhrapadha.

The "Theekshana":—The group of asterisms denoted by this word are:—Ardhra, Aslesha, Jyeshtha and Mula.

The "Laghu":—This word is used to denote the asterisms, Aswini, Pushya and Hastha.

The "Sthira":—Rohini, Utharapalguni, Utharashada and Utharabadhrapadha.

The "Chara":—Punarvasu, Swathi, Sravana, Sravishta and Sathabis.

The following asterisms cause good results in all transactions, buying, selling etc:—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Ardhra, Punarvasu, Pushya, Magha, Purvapalguni, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Visakha, Jyeshtha, Mula, Utharashada, Sathabis and Utharabadhrapadha and Revathi.

The following signs produce the same effect:—Taurus Gemini, Leo, Libra and Scorpio.

Of Thithis, all have the same effect except Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Dhwadhasi and Chathurdhasi.

To buy or sell a Cow—To buy or sell † cows, the proper asterisms are:—Aswini, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Swathi, Visakha, Jyeshtha, Sravishta and Revathi. One's property in cows will increase by the transaction started under these asterisms.

DINNER OF NEW GRAINS.

CHAPTER XXII.

[After commencing the harvest it is customary, among the Hindus, to take home the first sheaf of corn and make a repast of the same in celebration of the event. The time for such rejoicing is delineated in this chapter.]

The following asterisms are considered the most fruitful for this purpose:—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithira, Swathi, Visakha, Anuradha, Mula, Utharashada, Sravana, Sravishta, Sathabis, Utharabadhrapadha and Revathi.

The remaining asterisms should be avoided.

All Thithis, except Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Dhwadhasi, Chat^h-ardhasi, Full-Moon and New-Moon days produce good. Avoid Vishti Karana.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the Amsa and † Dhrekkanā of the lords of these days—Mercury, Jupiter and Venus—have a very beneficent influence on a meal composed of the fruits of the new crops.

The following signs should be chosen:—Taurus, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Sagittarius, Capricorn and Aquarius. Gemini has a middling quality. Avoid Aries, Scorpio, and Pisces. The last sign is however the most felicitous for a meal of the first crops, according to Devaratha.

Flowers.—To make use of the flowers of the season for the first time, sign Aries is the best.

Fruits.—To taste the first crop of fruit choose the time ruled by the sign Pisces.

Leaves.—For a meal of leaves, greens etc., the most favourable is the time when the rising sign is Scorpio.

See that the 9th and 10th houses from the rising sign, at the time of taking the meal, are unoccupied ; otherwise, it will have an adverse effect on prosperity.

No meal should be taken at a time when the 8th or the 12th house from the rising sign is held by the Moon.

Malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses produce good. There should be no malefic planet in any of the other houses.

This festival should be universally observed every year. The months of Ashada, Margasira and Magha are alone inauspicious. The other months promote felicity.

TO PUT ON NEW CLOTHES.

CHAPTER XXIII.

The following asterisms are the best :—Aswini, Rohini, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Visakha, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sra-vishta, Utharabhadrapadha and Revathi.

The remaining asterisms are inauspicious.

Stellar Influence on the Wearing of New Clothes.— Aswini brings rewards from royalty ; Bharani causes danger to wife's life ; Krithika exposes the person to fire accidents ; Rohini bestows all wealth ; Mrigasirsha causes danger to clothes by rats ; Ardhra affects longevity ; Punarvasu favours plenty of wealth and corn ; Pushya engenders all prosperity ; Aslesha breeds disease ; Magha shows danger to life; Purvapalguni causes affliction by disease; Utharapalguni indicates wealth of habits; Hastha brings fine, soft articles of dress; Chithra bestows various kinds of apparel; Swathi welcomes exquisite feast; Visakha favours mental happiness; Anuradha creates kinship; Jyeshtha inclines to cause damage to the clothes; Mula troubles the grain; Purvashada portends disease; Utharashada predicts many additional articles of dress; Sravana tends to cause eye-disease; Sravishta shows increase of corn; Sathabis creates fear of poison; Purvabhadrapadha leads to royal displeasure; Utharabhadrapadha favours many sons; Revathi signifies gain of gems. In this way each of the twenty seven asterisms exercises its influence on the wearing of new apparel.

Dhwithiyai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Sapthami, Dhasami, Ekadhasi and Thrayodhasi are the best Thithis.

Chathurthi, Navami, Chathurdhasi and New-Moon days should be strictly avoided. Other Thithis have medium influence.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the Amsas of Mercury, Jupiter and Venus produce good.

Sunday and Monday have middling effect. The remaining two days should be avoided, Influence of the Days of the Week.—Sunday portends disease; Monday is likely to cause the cloth to be bathed in tears; Tuesday creates risk of fire accidents to clothes; Wednesday gives rise to all prosperity; Thursday predicts an amplitude of wealth and corn; Friday welcomes several kinds of prosperity; Saturday denotes the likelihood of deep grief.

All signs except Aries, Leo, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Aquarius and Pisces are felicitous.

Influence of Zodiacal Signs.—To wear a cloth when the rising sign is Taurus brings benefit through corn; Gemini and Virgo signify pecuniary gain; Capricorn has but common influence ; Aries is a bringer of deep grief ; Leo has a tendency to cause dishonor ; Aquarius shows trouble by disease ; Scorpio tends to loss of property ; Sagittarius tends to create royal displeasure ; Pisces signifies fear of contracting disease.

TO WEAR A NEW ORNAMENT.

CHAPTER XXIV.

The following are fruitful asterisms for putting on a new jewel made of gold:—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sravana, Utharabhadrapada and Revathi. To wear a new jewel, for the first time, under any of these asterisms promotes welfare.

The best Thithis are:—Prathamai, Shashti, Panchami, Dhasami, Ekadhasi and the Full-Moon. The other Thithis should be avoided.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the Amsas of the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus are auspicious ; the other planets and the other days should not be considered.

Taurus, Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius and Pisces produce good.

The days ruled by fortunate Yogas (Siddha Yoga or Amritha Yoga) are good for wearing a new jewel.

Benefic planets should be in quadrants or trines and the malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses at the time of wearing a jewel. The 8th house should be vacant.

That time is the best for wearing a jewel made of gold, when Jupiter occupies the rising Navamsa in exaltation with Mercury and Venus in the 4th house. It is stated that a gold jewel worn at this time will be followed by thousands of such ornaments.

Choose a Saturday governed by asterism Rohini and make a gold jewel, during the interval known as Amirthaghatika, and put on the jewel on a Saturday of the same asterism and at the same time thereon. The moment is considered so fruitful that the individual will soon become possessed of many ornaments, and immense wealth that may know no diminution. He will also lead a happy life.

If, at the time of wearing a gold jewel, the rising sign be occupied by Jupiter in exaltation or if that sign be the house of Jupiter with the Sun in the 11th house, the jewels will increase a millionfold.

To wear a new cloth, a new jewel, or for using a new vehicle, choose the time when the quadrant or trine occupied by Venus, is her own house, or her house of exaltation or her friendly sign.

The Moon in her degree of main exaltation occupying the rising sign with Jupiter in the 7th house at the time of wearing a jewel, welcomes an enormous increment of wealth and jewellery.

Put a gold ring on the fore-finger and another on the thumb at a time when the rising sign is Aries, with the Sun in the 10th degree thereof—the 10th degree of Aries is the main exaltation of the Sun.

Mercury and the Moon governing the same quarter of asterism Mrigasirsha is an auspicious planetary position for wearing rings on the fingers of the hand or the leg.

New ornaments of the head should be worn, for the first time, when the Moon is in the 3rd degree of Taurus at a time when the rising sign is the same; or when the rising sign is Cancer with Jupiter in the 5th degree thereof.

Jewels set with precious stones must be worn at a time when Jupiter and Venus are in their † Moola-Thrikona houses.

When wearing a new apparel or a new jewel, watch your breath. If the breath flows through the left nostril, the time is auspicious.

A car, a musical instrument, an umbrella, an ornament, a Chamara, gold or bronze vessels and thrones—all these should be made use of, for the first time, according to the directions laid down for wearing new clothes.

TO LAY FOUNDATION.

CHAPTER XXV.

To lay the foundation for the construction of a building etc., at the four cardinal points (North, South, East and West) the following four pairs of asterisms are respectively prosperous:—Aslesha and Krithika, Chithra and Visakha, Pushya and Magha, Utharashada and Sravana.

† The Mula-Thrikona Signs of Planets are:—

Planets.					Signs.
Sun	Leo.
Moon	Taurus.
Mars	Aries.
Mercury	Virgo.
Jupiter	Sagittari.
Venus	Libra.
Saturn	Aquarius

Jyeshtha, Badhrapadha, Margasira and Palguna are prosperous months to lay the foundation of the kitchen, the cowstall or the rice-mill,—any place for husking paddy.

A person whose Ascendant, at birth, is between Scorpio and Aries (six signs) should commence building at the eastern part; one born under any sign between Aquarius and Cancer (six signs) should do so at the southern part; one born under any sign between Taurus and Virgo (six signs) should choose the western part; one born under any sign between Leo and Capricorn (six signs) should start at the northern part.

Vasthu-Purusha—This Deity that presides over house-building sleeps on his left with his head to the East, during the months of Badhrapadha, Aswayuja and Krithika, with his head to the South during Margasira, Pushya and Magha months, with his head to the West during Palguna, Chythra and Vysakha months; and with his head to the North during Jyeshtha, Ashada and Sravana. No building should be erected on the locality covered by his head, his legs, his hands and his back. To build on the ground covered by his head will prove fatal to the father of the individual; to do so on that covered by his legs will affect the lives of his wife and children; to build on the ground covered by his hands and back will cause fear of thieves. The best section to build on is the ground covered by the stomach of Vasthu Purusha which gives rise to all prosperity.

The following asterisms are the best.—Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Mula, Utharashada, Sravara, Utharabadhrapadha and Revathi.

Aswini, Hastha, Chithra, Sravishta and Sathabis—these asterisms have middling influence. The other asterisms should be avoided.

To build in the East.—To build a house in the eastern quarter, choose the asterisms Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu and Pushya.

To build in the South.—To build a house in the southern quarter, Magha, Swathi, Hastha and Utharapalguni are fruitful.

To build in the West.—To build a house in the western quarter, Utharashada, Sravana and Mula are the most prosperous asterisms.

To build in the North.—To build a house in the northern quarter, Sravishta, Utharabhadrapadha, Chithra and Sathabis are the most fortunate asterisms.

To build in all Quarters.—Asterism Revathi is good to start building a house anywhere.

Town-Planning.—To lay the foundation for building a town, the best asterisms are Aswini, Chithra and Revathi.

Military Quarters.—Asterisms Utharabhadrapadha is excellent for beginning the construction of soldiers' quarters or cantonment.

Granary.—To start erecting a granary, Utharapalguni, Utharashada, Anuradha, Rohini, Sravana and Magha are the most felicitous asterisms.

Restaurant etc.—The construction of eating-houses, hostels, refreshment rooms and choultries should commence under asterisms Bharani, Ardhra, Jyeshtha, Mula, Krithika, Visakha, Magha, Utharashada and Purvapalguni.

Dining Hall.—Hastha is a fortunate asterism for starting the construction of a dining hall.

Bed Chamber.—Asterism Mula is auspicious for laying the foundation of a bed chamber.

For Lamp.—To construct a place to install a lamp in, begin under asterism Krithika.

Oven.—To set up an oven, commence under asterism Revathi. It is good to start construction on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday or Friday ruled by a beneficent asterism agreeable to the wife of the individual. See that the rising sign, at the time, is governed by a benefic, and the 8th house is unoccupied.

Dormitory.—The construction of a sleeping apartment should be started under the asterisms Purvapalguni and Swathi.

Water Troughs.—To construct a water trough or to set up any receptacle for holding water, Anuradha, Mula and Revathi are successful asterisms.

The Design.—The design of the house should be as follows:—On the eastern side of the house gymnasium; on the south-east side, granary; on the southern, the dining hall; on the south-west, the lying-in room; on the western, the bed chamber; on the northwest, the place of worship; on the northern, the treasury; and on the north-east, the kitchen.

All odd Thithis except Navami are good. Of the even Thithis, Dhwithiyai, Shashti and Dhasami are auspicious.

The day chosen for laying the foundation of a building must be governed by a fortunate Yoga (Siddha Yoga or Amritha Yoga.)

Learned astrologers recommend Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday as auspicious for laying the foundation of a house. The other days are rejected.

Fixed signs are the best; Common signs occupied by benefics have middling influence; Movable signs, and Common signs without benefics in them should be avoided:

Oordhwa-Mukha Lagna, (a sign just vacated by the Sun) is auspicious. Atho-Mukha Lagna, (the sign occupied by the Sun) even when occupied by a benefic, should be avoided. Thiryagh-Mukha Lagna, (the sign next to the one occupied by the Sun) is good, if aspected by a benefic planet.

Benefic planets in the rising sign and in the 2nd, 9th and 12th houses promote well-being. Malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses produce good, while any planet located in the 8th house causes disaster. Some astrologers hold that the 12th house must be vacant.

The Pillars, Beams and Interior Door-ways etc. should be set up under Sirodaya asterisms; roofing and the construction of the doorway may be commenced at a moment auspicious for house-building. According to some ancient astrologers, the auspicious time for the disposition of the pillars, lying-in-room, door-way, beams and interior door-ways is the same as that indicated for laying the foundation, they being the chief appurtenances to a house.

The Door-frame :—This, artistically carved, should be fixed at a time when the rising sign is a Fixed one. Any of the following asterisms may be chosen:—Rohini, Mrigashirsha, Utharapalguni, Chithra, Anuradha, Utharashada, Utharabhadrapadha and Revathi. The Thithi, asterism, the day and the rising sign (fixed) should all be carefully chosen, for the moment of fixing the door-frame has an important bearing upon the prosperity of the master. An auspicious moment promotes it.

Common signs are good for furnishing the house with doors and for roofing it.

The Doors.—To fix the doors choose Wednesday or Friday ruled by any beneficial Thithi, a Common sign and any of the following asterisms:—Aswini, Pushya, Hastha (Movable asterisms); Rohini, Utharapalguni, Utharashada and Utharabhadrapadha (Fixed asterisms.)

Outer Pillars.—The pillars on the pials of a house must be put up at a time when the rising sign, the rising Navamsa and the sign occupied by the Moon are Fixed signs belonging to, and aspected by, benefics.

The timbers required for the building should be piled up eastward or northward. They must all be new, as no old materials (those that once formed the structure of another house) should be employed. The pillars, and the interior doorways must be an odd number.

The stalls for cows and buffaloes must be located in the north-west part and the sheep-fold in the south west.

THE DAIRY.

To begin the use of the churning dasher choose the time when the rising sign is that of the Moon (Cancer) and the ruling asterism a Movable one. (Aswini, Punarvasu, Pushya, Hastha, Swathi, Sravana, Sravishta and Sathabis are movable asterisms). Such a beginning will bring growth and prosperity to the cattle and generate curd in profusion:

To set up the pole to hold the revolving dasher in position by means of chains, Monday is the most auspicious and the time when the rising sign is occupied by the Moon.

The operation should be started at a time when the rising sign is occupied by the Moon, governing a beneficial asterism and Navamsa.

To Milk the Cow.—The Moon located in the rising sign, and governing a favourable asterism and Navamsa is good for commencing to milk the cow. The yield will increase.

To Lathe Articles—To cut or shape articles with the lathe, commence at a time when the rising sign is Leo occupied by the Sun, on a Sunday, when the Moon passes through asterism Revathi, and when the lord of the rising Navamsa is Saturn or Mars.

To Melt Butter—To melt the butter for the first time choose asterism Jyeshtha or Krithika, on a Wednesday, when the Moon is placed in the Navamsa of a benefic planet. Any Monday ruled by asterism Visakha is auspicious for melting the butter from buffalo or sheep's milk.

THE DURABILITY OF A HOUSE.

The duration of existence of a dwelling house or other building, in a state of prosperity, should be determined from the moment at which the foundation stone is laid.

The Yogas that protect the house against decay and ensure its continuance in a state of happiness are set forth in this chapter:—

To stand for 8 decades—To build a dwelling house or an edifice that will stand for eighty years in a prosperous condition, lay the foundation stone thereof at a moment when the 10th house from the rising sign is occupied by the Moon, the 4th by Jupiter and the 11th by Mars and Saturn.

To stand for a Century.—The foundation should be laid (1) When Jupiter is located in the rising sign, Mercury in the 7th house, Saturn in the 3rd, the Sun in the 6th and Venus in the 4th; (2) when the rising sign is held by Venus, the 10th house by Mercury, any quadrant by Jupiter and the 11th house by the Sun.

To stand for Two Centuries—The house will continue in a state of happiness for two hundred years the foundation stone whereof is laid at a moment when the rising sign is ruled by Venus, the 5th by Jupiter, the 3rd by the Sun and the 6th by Mars.

To stand for Six Centuries—A dwelling house, a village or a town, the construction of which is started under any of the following planetary positions will have golden days for a period of six hundred years :—(1) The Moon in the rising sign, Jupiter in the 7th and Mercury in the 10th house (2) Venus in the 10th house, Jupiter in the 7th and Mercury in the rising sign which should be a fixed one.

To stand for Eight Centuries.—To construct a dwelling house that will last for eight hundred years, blessed as a house of the Gods, lay the foundation of it at a moment when the rising sign is occupied by Venus with Jupiter in the 7th house which must be a fixed sign.

To stand for Ten Centuries.—To lay the foundation of a temple or of a dwelling house at a moment when the rising sign is ruled by the Sun, the 7th by Jupiter, and the 10th by the Moon, predicts the existence of the house or temple for a thousand years in a state of affluence.

The destiny will be the same respecting a house or temple the construction of which is started at a moment when Venus is stationed in the rising sign, Jupiter in the 7th and the Moon in the 10th.

Mercury occupying the rising sign, Jupiter the 7th and the Moon the 10th house—this planetary position, at the moment of starting the construction foretells similar stability.

Yet another planetary position that bestows the same good fortune on the house or the temple, started under it, is:—Jupiter in the rising sign (fixed), Mercury in the 7th and the Moon in the 10th.

Any of these four planetary positions, at the moment of laying the foundation, will establish the house or temple, in question, in prosperity for a period of thousand years.

ALL ABOUT THE HOUSE.

The floor of a dwelling house or a bungalow should be smeared with a mixture of cow-dung and water every Monday and Friday, and on the New-Moon and Full-Moon days, days of eclipse, the first day of every month, the conjunction of Venus and the Moon—on all these days the floor should be smeared with cow-dung. The floor should be swept clean each morning.

To clean and whitewash the walls, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are auspicious. Avoid inauspicious days and Chathurdhasi Thithi. White-washing on these days tends to cause the extinction of the building.

The flooring should be renewed once a year or every six months. No repairs should be started under the asterisms:—Krithika, Magha, Pushya, Purvapalguni, Hastha, Mula and Revathi, when any of these is governed by Mars. If this rule be not observed, the house will be exposed to fire accidents and the life of the son to danger.

To repair the Roof.—Do not commence repairs to the roof on Tuesday morning under a fiery sign occupied by Mars; otherwise, the house will take fire. The roof of the house should be repaired at a time when Venus is located in the rising sign and Jupiter in a quadrant. The building will then be safe against fire and storm. The most auspicious time is that when the rising sign is occupied by a benefic with the Moon in any of the aquatic signs. (Taurus, Cancer, Libra, Scorpio, Aquarius, Capricorn and Pisces) on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday or Friday. The house, so repaired, will be immune from fire accidents.

A house roofed on Friday at a moment when the rising sign is Taurus or Libra (aquatic signs) occupied by Venus, will never take fire.

A house roofed on Monday when the Moon is in Cancer (Aquatic sign) will never be subject to accidents by fire.

Raja Yoga—Jupiter in combination with any of the following asterisms on a Thursday forms what is known as Raja Yoga which is considered a very fortunate time for starting the construction of a house. This planetary position leads the owner of the house to a position of royalty and bestows upon him a righteous son:—Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Aslesha, Utharapalguni, Purvashada, Utharashada, Sravana and Utharabhadrapada.

The wood of the trees of the following descriptions should not be employed in the construction:—

(1) A very shady tree, (2) a tree standing on the road side or within a temple (3) one having a hole, (4) a tree blasted by lightning or beaten down by storm or rain, (5) a rotten tree, (6) a sweet tree (7) one affected by fire or standing in the cremation ground, (8) one that has fallen down with a crash (9) one that is growing in the temple of Kali (10) one situated in a pasturage (11) one that serves as prop to another Vilvam, Thundukam, Sleshmalakam, Kongu—these trees, being dear to the Gods, should be considered too sacred for men who should, by no means, employ them in the construction of a house. Otherwise, the issue will be disastrous.

Timbers once employed in the construction of a house and dismantled are dubbed “Salyam.” So a structure that includes such materials tends to cause ruin to the owner, his wealth and his family.

A house devoid of doors or of roof or one in which there is no worship of the Gods, wherefrom no bounty is given and where the hungry are not fed will become the haunt of devils and will breed trouble.

From the Point of View of the Ascendants:—Persons whose Ascendants are Cancer, Pisces or Scorpio will do well to build a house facing East; those born under Capricorn, Virgo or Taurus will prosper in a house facing South ; a house facing West will be found excellent by those whose Ascendant is Aquarius, Gemini or Libra. Such a dwelling will bestow wealth on the occupants. Those whose Ascendants are Sagittari, Leo or Aries will flourish in every respect in a house facing North.

The Entrance.—Divide the plot into nine sections ; the fourth section from the left should form the main entrance to the house.

For a house facing East:—Divide the plot into eight sections. These respectively signify, in order, dissatisfaction, weakness, pecuniary gain, royal favour, enormous wealth, physical weakness, abundant happiness, deep grief, intimidation.

For a house facing South:—Divide the plot similarly into eight sections. These indicate danger to life, bondage, endearment, protection, gain of seeds, mental affliction, fear of disease, disability.

For a house facing West:—The eight sections denote loss of sons, growth of enemies, increase of affluence, pecuniary gain, well-being, misfortune, love, sorrow.

For a house facing North:—The eight sections produce, in order, insult to wife, want of strength, harm, gain of seeds, monetary gain, increase of prosperity, acquisition of all fortune, disease.

The construction of, and entry into, a house should not be commenced when the wife of the owner is pregnant and when Jupiter and Venus are combust. If this rule be not observed, the issue will be disastrous to the wife.

Laying the foundation stone, Ornamentation, Agricultural Work, Education, Coronation—all these should be commenced under the Janma Nakshatra (one's asterism at birth) or under the 10th asterism therefrom.

The Indicator.—Divide the house into sixteen squares. The four central squares are known as “Braamham;” the square in the North-East is sign Pisces; the other squares begin with Aries as shown in the diagram below. Of these squares, the foundation laid in squares Aries, Leo or Sagittari will protect the relations; squares Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn signify preference from royalty: Squares Gemini, Libra and Aquarius favor prosperity of sons and grandsons; squares Cancer, Scorpio or Pisces have an adverse effect upon the family.

Pisces. North-East	Aries. East	Taurus. East	Gemini. South-East
Aquarius. North	Braahmam		Cancer. South
Capricorn. North	Braahmam		Leo. South
Sagittari. North-West	Scorpio. West	Libra. West	Virgo. South-West

THE OPENING CEREMONY.

CHAPTER XXVI.

“Grahapravesam”—the Opening Ceremony—must be performed in Sukla Paksha and within the first 10 Thithis of Krishna Paksha, in the forenoon or at noon.

The best asterisms are:—Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sravana, Sathabis, Utharabhadrapadha and Revathi.

The best Thithis are:—Prathamai of the dark fortnight, Dhwithiyai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Sapthami and Dhasami ; and Ekadhasi and Thrayodhasi of the bright fortnight.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are auspicious and the Amsas of the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus, the respective lords of these days. Saturday is neutral. The other days and planets should be avoided.

The rising sign at the moment should be a Fixed one. Common signs have middling quality. Movable signs should not be considered.

Any Movable sign is, however, good if, at the moment, the rising Navamsa of that sign be Taurus which is a very fortunate sign.

Influence of Zodiacal Signs from Jenma-Rasi—Grahapravesam when the rising sign is your Jenma-Rasi foretells immunity from disease, if the Jenma Rasi be a fixed sign ; the second house, therefrom, protends illness and decline of wealth ; the third signifies pecuniary gain ; the fourth shows trouble to the relations ; the fifth gives trouble to the son ; the sixth brings ruin on the enemies ; the seventh is adverse to the wife ; the eighth causes cruel malady ; the ninth foreshows trouble through the king ; the tenth favours attainment of the object ; the eleventh promotes affluence, the twelfth multiplies comfort and fortune by itself, even when bereft of other dignities. If, however, the sign be occupied by a benefic planet, at the moment, it is unquestionably the most felicitous sign. Some astrologers advocate the performance of this function, even at night, at a moment when the rising Navamsa, or the rising sign itself, is occupied by a benefic. The influence of each zodiacal sign is described in the chapter on Travel.

It is inauspicious to celebrate this function when Venus is located in the opposite direction, or on your left. Venus, occupying her own, or her friendly house, or her house of exaltation never exercises an adverse influence.

The 8th house from the rising sign, at the moment, should be vacant, for any planet located therein will produce harm.

The time chosen for Grahapravesam, Marriage, Nishekam, Pumsavanam and Seemantham should be favorable to the wife of the individual.

CORONATION.

CHAPTER XXVII.

The time for Crowning a Sovereign is indicated in this chapter. The author thus sets forth his ideal of kingship:-- Born of a worshipful family, under Raja Yoga, and gifted with all regal qualities, a knowledge of all the virtues, and the wisdom to guide the nation, well-trained in horsemanship and in the use of weapons, filled with devotion to God and to Brahmanas, served and respected by ministers of great eminence, a speaker of truth, the king must be one who has controlled his lower impulses, one endowed with the spirit of supreme courage, self-sacrifice and self-denial.

Choose the bright half of the lunar month and a day, therein, bereft of all adverse qualities. In the forenoon there should be recitations, from the Vedas, of benedictory verses by Brahmanas upon whom liberal gifts of gold should be bestowed. This over, the king must put on his golden Crown, resplendant with all kinds of gems, amidst the rapture of music, cōch and bugle. The king must then make his salutation to Maha Vishnu, to the priests and the elders and equip himself with all the paraphernalia of royalty.

The best asterisms for coronation are :—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Oothirapalguni, Hastha, Anuradha, Oothirashada, Sravana, Oothirabadh-rapadha and Revathi.

All odd Thithis of the bright half of the lunar month except Navami are good. Of the even Thithis, Dhwithiyai and Dhasami are good.

All Rasis (signs) except Libra, Scorpio, Virgo and Capricorn are good.

There should be no planet in the 8th house.

Malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses produce pecuniary gain and promote the well-being of the landlord.

For Audience.—To pay your respects to the king choose any of the following asterisms :—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Anuradha, Sravana, Sravishta and Revathi.

Fixed signs are the best.

Any Thithi of the bright half of the lunar month, except Chathurthi, Navami and Chathurdhasi (Rikthai) is commendable.

Sunday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the Amsas of the Sun, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus are very fruitful.

A very fortunate moment to wait upon the king is when the rising sign is that of Mercury occupied by Jupiter in " Virgothama" position.

Having chosen a Fixed sign, the only thing is to see that the sign occupied by the Moon at the time is "Vasya" (Concordant) to your Janma-Rasi, and that the asterism ruled by the Moon is "Vasya" to the Janma-Nakshatra of the sovereign.

RIDING.

To seat oneself on horseback or any other conveyance, the following asterisms are the best:—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Utharashada, Sravana, Utharabhadrapada and Revathi.

All Thithis except Prathamai, Shashti, Ekadhasi and the Full-Moon and the days of the week except Sunday and Tuesday are good.

To put on Arms and Weapons etc—To wear arms and weapons, both offensive and defensive, choose any of the following asterisms:—Aswini, Bharani, Krithika, Ardhra, Aslesha, Magha, Purvapalguni, Chithra, Jyeshtha, Sathabis and Revathi.

Of Thithis, Chathurthi, Navami and Chathurdhasi are fortunate. Badhrai (Vishti) Karana, Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and the signs and Amsas of the Sun, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn produce good results.

TO RECEIVE TRIBUTE.

A king should receive tribute for the first time under any of the following asterisms:—Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Sravana, Sravishta and Sathabis.

Jupiter, Mercury and Venus and their signs and Amsas as well as their days of the week are very felicitous. Tributes received by the king in accordance with these rules enhance the prosperity of the State.

Avoid Prathamai, Chathurthi, Ashtami, Navami, Chathurdhasi, the New-Moon and the Full-Moon.

Aries, Scorpio and Aquarius are evil signs.

The 8th house from the rising sign at the time should be vacant.

The Time for Interview—The one who pays the tribute should choose any of the following asterisms to pay his respects to the king:—Mrigasirsha, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Anuradha, Sravana and Sathabis, Chathurthi, Navami and Chathurdhasi should be avoided. Choose any of the remaining Thithis and a Fixed sign on Sunday, Wednesday, Thursday or Saturday.

ELEPHANT AND OTHER ANIMALS

To buy, tame or make use of an elephant the prosperous asterisms are:—Aswini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Magha, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Anuradha, Utharashadha, Sravana, Sravishta, Utharabhadrapadha.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the signs and Amsas of the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus are good for mounting an elephant or for training him.

Sirodhaya signs (Gemini, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio and Aquarius) aspected by benefics should be chosen.

To place the goad on the elephant choose Capricorn or Aquarius and the Navamsa of a benefic on a Saturday ruled by any of the asterisms specified above.

The Stable—To lay the foundation for the construction of a stable for the elephant, the most auspicious time is when the Sun is in exaltation, or in his own house, Jupiter, Venus or the Moon well-placed in the rising sign and the Moon located in the Navamsa of a benefic.

To buy a Horse—To buy or break in a horse any of the following asterisms is good:—Aswini, Krithika, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharabhadrapada, Hastha, Swathi, Visaka, Anuradha and Sravishta.

To mount a Horse—These asterisms are fortunate for mounting a horse. They bestow happiness and fortune.

Mares are governed by Sathabis ; horses, by Aswini. These two Asterisms are fortunate for purchasing and training, respectively, a horse and a mare.

To buy Sheep—Choose the first half of Krithika and Pushya which govern them.

For buying elephants the second half of Bharani or Revathi which govern elephants is excellent.

Elephants, horses and cows etc., should be purchased, brought into the stable and employed on auspicious days under the rising sign and Amsa of a benefic. This contributes to enhance the welfare of the owner.

Village, Town etc Defined—That quarter of a village which is monopolised and inhabited by holy learned Brahmanas is called Agraharam. If people of other classes also live in the same propitious place, the whole territory is styled a Village. "Nagaram" is the designation of a place closely inhabited by people of different classes and artisans, and provided with temples for public worship. "Pathanam" is the term applied to a more extensive area inhabited by people of various creeds and classes, noted for wealth and commerce and situated on the bank of a river or on the coast of a sea.

The Quarters of a Nagaram etc.—The Eastern part is assigned to potters ; the western side to sellers of meat ; oil-mongers live on the northern side ; those that deal in flowers dwell on the north eastern. Sudras live here and there, and artisans anywhere ; outside the city the painters thrive ; and the depressed classes in the south-west.

TO INSTALL A DEITY.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

The ceremony of installing a Deity should be done in the first half of the year—when the Sun is in his northern course. Avoid the month of Magha. The wise man should perform the function at a moment when the rising sign is propitious and fruitful to him, when Jupiter and Venus are well-dignified and devoid of adverse qualities, when they are seen in their brilliance in the sky and when the Moon is prosperous, ruling a benefic asterism, in the bright half of the lunar month (Sukla Paksha).

The following asterisms are excellent:—Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Hastha, Swathi, Utharashada and Utharabādhrapadha.

Aswini, Chithra, Anuradha, Mula, Sravana and Sravishta are of middling quality.

All odd Thithis except Navami are auspicious. Of the even Thithis, Dwithiyai, Shashti and Dhasami will do good.

The Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus are benefics; their signs and Navamsas and the days of the week ruled by them, their † Dhrekkanas and their Horas give prosperity.

Choose Fixed signs. To install a female Deity, a Common sign is commendable. Movable signs should be avoided under any circumstance.

The Moon in her exaltation (Taurus) at the time is important as it will conduce to the well-being of the Yajaman—the donor who is responsible for the endowment. Debilitated, she brings poverty; located in a friendly sign, she helps to promote the good offices of friends, and pecuniary gains: in inimical signs she multiplies enemies.

If, at the time of installing a Deity, the rising sign be occupied by the Sun, Mars, Rahu, the Moon and Saturn, the village or part of the town concerned will suffer devastation.

Malefics in the 2nd house from the rising sign at the moment of installation deprive the Yajaman of his wealth. Benefics accompanied by the Moon, in the same house, endow him with more.

Planets in the 3rd house bestow and improve happiness.

Malefics, in the 4th house, give trouble; benefics, except the Moon, cause increased well-being.

Malefics, in the 5th house, affect the sons; benefics bestow sons, a charitable disposition and promote welfare. The Moon in the 5th house disturbs happiness.

Malefics, in the 6th house, bring about the defeat of enemies; Jupiter, therein, multiplies them; the Moon and Venus, therein, tempt the individual to relinquish his position.

The Sun in the 7th house threatens to kill the Yajaman; Saturn, therein, ruins his well-being; Mercury brings danger to the life of the son; Mars produces peril of fire accidents; Venus tends to convert the temple into a haunt of devils; Jupiter and the Moon favour pecuniary gain and gain of seeds.

There should be no planet in the 8th house lest the family may perish.

Benefics in the 9th house signify prosperity to the endowment; Malefics in the same house, in conjunction with the Moon, adversely affect wealth, happiness and the institution itself.

Malefics in the 10th house denote the decay of the institution; benefics located there in conjunction with the Moon promote prosperity in sons and friends.

Planets, in the 11th house, bestow sons, wealth, happiness and longevity.

The 12th house must be vacant; if occupied by any planet, the Yajaman will be reduced to poverty. Jupiter and Mercury in the 12th house, however, increase his wealth.

Avoid the ceremony at the following periods:—The end of the Ayana (half-year,) the end of the year, of a Thithi, and of an asterism. "Vedhai" asterisms, Vyathipatham, eclipses, *Sunya month, Sunya days and Sunya Rasi *Shadaseethi-Mukham, the day on which is seen "Parivesham" (the halo round the Sun or the Moon) and the day on which the Sun is not visible.

YATHRA TRAVEL.

CHAPTER XXIX.

I shall now state the rules relating to Travels.

Influence of Signs and Planets - Do not start on a journey when the Sun is in Pisces, Cancer or Scorpio. The Sun should be in other signs at the time of starting. A person must not enter upon a journey under the middle part of the signs Leo and Cancer; otherwise he will contract disease and will have no peace of mind for seven years. He must avoid also the time when Mars, Venus and Mercury are retrograde or combust.

Pakshas - Choose the bright fortnight (Sukla Paksha) having regard to the planetary position at the time. Avoid Krishna Paksha (the dark half of the lunar month).

* See Chapter 33.

The best asterisms are:—Mrigasirsha, Pushya, Hastha, Anuradha, Sravishta, Sravana, Revathi and Aswini.

Rohini, Punarvasu, Utharapalguni, Chithra, Mula, Utharashadha, Sathabis possess a middling quality.

Put off the journey if the ruling asterism, at the time, be any of the following:—Bharani, Krithika, Ardhra, Aslesha, Magha, Purvapalguni, Swathi, Visakha, Jyesta, Purvashada and Purvabhadrapadha and your asterism at birth. Of these, the following asterisms are auspicious for journey beyond the Ghathikas (of their total duration) specified against each:—Krithika 13 Ghatikas, Bharani 7, Magha 14, Purvapalguni, Purvashada and Purvabhadrapadha 16, Swathi, Aslesha, Visakha, Ardhra, Jyesta and the Jenma-Nakshathra, 14.

Thithis—Dwithiyai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Sapthami, Dhasami, Ekadhasi and Thrayodhasi of the Sukla and Krishna Pakshas are good.

Prathamai, Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Dwadhasi, Chathurdhasi as also the Full-Moon and the New-Moon should be avoided.

The Days—Wednesday, Thursday or Friday and the time when the rising Navamsa is that of Mercury, Jupiter or Venus, (the lords of those days) are commendable. The other days and the Navamsas of the lords of those days are inauspicious.

The fruitful signs are:—Taurus, Cancer, Leo, Libra, and Sagittari. Other signs are not to be considered.

Stellar Influence.—Journey during asterism Ardhra causes misery; Aslesha produces grief on account of hunger; Purvashada leads to physical injury; Swathi and Visakha denote suffering from wounds; Bharani and Magha portend danger to life; Krithika causes needless roaming; Purvabhadrapadha brings many troubles; Jyesta causes severe fever ; Purvapalguni threatens to make safe return impossible. One should not start on a journey under any of these asterisms.

To start on a journey during Vyathipatham impairs health ; to do so at Sankaranthi signifies rambling ; to do so on a day of eclipse portends confinement.

Significance of Weather. If, at the time of starting, you oppose yourself to the wind the journey will be beset with troubles.

Journey at the time of the appearance of Parivesha (the halo round the Sun or the Moon) causes suffering from hunger and thirst.

Journey on a cloudy day (when the Sun is not visible) portends helplessness ; rain at the time makes the return journey difficult.

Influence of Thithis.—Prathamai denotes troubles ; Dhwithiyai favours achievement of object ; Thrithiyai welcomes wealth ; Chathurthi causes misery ; Panchami brings affluence ; Shashti leads to frustration of all purposes ; Sapthami shows success ; Ashtami breeds sickness ; Navami signifies danger to life ; Dhasami shows fulfilment of the object ; Ekadhasi keeps away all causes of fear ; Dhwadhasi tends to failure of business ; Thrayodhasi gives happiness and success ; Chathurdhasi foretells eye-disease and disappointment ; New-Moon day leads to defeat and the Full-Moon day to destitution. To set out on a journey on Prathamai and Chathurdhasi days of the bright and dark fortnights, respectively, is likely to cause loss of property ; it tends to render return from the journey difficult. Some astrologers predict a similar effect of a journey begun on Shashti, Ashtami or Dhwadhasi.

The Days of the Week.—To start on a Sunday causes waste ; Monday produces disability ; Tuesday brings fever and other illness ; Wednesday creates fear : Thursday favours gain in various ways ; Friday welcomes success and gain of wealth ; Saturday tends to loss of money and danger to life.

The Zodiacal Signs.—To set out at a time when the rising sign is *Aries causes danger to life ; Taurus signifies success, Gemini indicates evil ; Cancer favours gain of lands ; Leo gives comfort ; Virgo breeds fever ; Libra shows a successful journey ; Scorpio leads to suffering from wounds ; Sagittarius bestows conquest over enemies ; Capricorn denotes confinement ; Aquarius portends battery on the way. †Pisces inclines to cause fear of theft.

Influence of Signs from the Jenma-Rasi.—Success will attend a journey commenced at a moment when the rising sign is the Jenma-Rasi of the individual ; the second sign, therefrom, gives the pleasure of the company of relations ; the third bestows conveyances ; the fourth throws obstacles ; the fifth presents many difficulties ; the sixth helps to overcome enemies and gain wealth ; the seventh causes trouble, fear and inconvenience to the individual and his conveyances ; the eighth shows danger to life and adversely affects relations ; the ninth leads to sickness, unnecessary expenditure and confusion ; the tenth portends grief and death ; the eleventh favours pecuniary gain and gain of other things besides freedom from illness ; the twelfth tends to loss of money and failure.

Influence of Signs from the Ascendant.—No journey should be begun at a moment when the rising sign is the Jenma-Lagna (Ascendant at birth) of the individual. To start at that time leads to malady ; the fifth sign from the Jenma-Lagna should also be avoided for it tends to cause loss of sons and danger to life; the seventh sign, therefrom, creates pain of mind at the outset and bestows happiness in the end; the ninth sign hinders the progress of journey; and compels return, the tenth bestows money. The delineations for the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 6th, 8th, 11th, and 12th signs (from the Ascendant) are the same as those given for the same houses from the Jenma-Rasi, (Vide para supra.)

* Aries is an auspicious sign, according to Kalamrita.

† Pisces foretells rain and ultimate success, according to Kalamrita.

Influence of Oordhwa-Mukha and other Rasis—To start at a time when the rising sign is an Oordhwa-Mukha-Rasi—a sign just vacated by the Sun—helps the individual to gain the object of his desire; Thiryag-Mukha Rasi—the sign to be next occupied by the Sun—brings misfortune; Atho-Mukha Rasi—the sign occupied by the Sun—leads to loss of property.

The Influence of the Signs—‡Prishtodhaya Rasis create intimidation. † Ubhayodhaya Rasi causes deviation from the path of rectitude. Sirodhaya Rasis, *favour complete success. [The auspicious signs already indicated should be chosen in the light of this rule.]

Sulam—An Inauspicious Astrological Yoga—Jyeshtha and Sravana are inauspicious for going westward; Magha and Aswini, for going southward; Rohini and Pushya, for going westward; Hastha and Utharapalguni, for going northward; Jyeshtha, for going south-east; Purvabadhra-padha for going south-west and Rohini for going north-west; Utharapalguni for going north-east. Sulam is inauspicious for journey and should be, therefore, positively avoided.

‡ Aries, Taurus, Cancer, Sagittarius and Capricorn are known as Prishtodhaya Rasis, signs that rise by their feet.

† Pisces, a sign that rises by its head and by its feet.

* Signs that rise by their heads are Sirodhaya Rasis, such as Gemini, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio and Aquarius.

"Kaudakam" for the Days of the Week—This is also an inauspicious Yoga. It is inauspicious to go south-east on Tuesday, south-west on Wednesday; north-west on Saturday. This adverse Yoga for the days with reference to the directions specified, is known as Vara-Kandakam.

The Rasis and their Directions—One should choose Aries to go eastward; Cancer, to go southward; Libra, to go westward; and Capricorn, to go northward.

The Lord of the Ascendant at Birth—The sign of the lord of your Lagna, at birth, his friendly house and his house of exaltation are good for starting on a journey. His inimical sign and the sign of his debilitation should be avoided.

The Influence of Planetary Amsas—The Amsas of the Sun, the Moon, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn, at the moment of starting, respectively produce loss of conveyance, evil, danger by fire, gain of friendship, pecuniary gain, the enjoyment of fortune, and loss of issue.

Conveyances.—Journey eastward on an elephant; southward in a car; westward on a horse; northward in a palanquin or any other conveyance borne on the shoulders of men.

Conjunction of Planets.—To begin a journey when the Moon is in conjunction with Mercury, Jupiter and Venus tends to breed quarrel with relations; to do so when the Moon is in conjunction with Rahu is likely to affect the wife; the Moon in combination with the Sun, at the time, is likely to breed disease; the Moon, in conjunction with Saturn and Mars tends to create disappointment in all places; in conjunction with the Sun and Kethu, she has a tendency to upset everything.

A very felicitous Time—Jupiter or Venus, well placed in the rising sign at the time of starting makes the journey, both ways, immensely profitable and pleasant.

Yogini.—The location of Yogini at the time of starting is an important matter. Yogini, located behind or on the right of the traveller is conducive to success; Yogini in front of him or on the left side proves disastrous—even to Indra.

The following Table shows the points of the horizon governed by Yogini during the bright and dark halves of the lunar month :—

Sukla-Paksha.	Krishna-Paksha.	Directions.
Prathamai, Ekadhasi ...	Shashti... ..	East.
Thrithiyai, Thrayodhasi.	Ashtami	South-East.
Panchami, Full-Moon...	Dhasami	South.
Chathurthi, Chathur-dhasi.	Navami	South-West
Shashti... ..	Prathamai, Ekadhasi ...	West.
Sapthami	Dhwithiyai, Dhwadhasi.	North-West.
Dhwithiyai, Dhwadhasi	Sapthami	North.
Ashtami	Thrithiyai, Thrayodhasi	North-East.
Navami	Chathurthi, Chathur-dhasi.	Sky.
Dhasami	Panchami and New-Moon.	Earth.

The Traveller's Zodiac.—The day is divided into eight parts of an hour and a half each. Each part is called a Yamam. Only eight planets are reckoned with for purposes of this chapter, and they are the Sun, Mars, Jupiter, Mercury, Venus, Saturn, the Moon and Rahu. Sign Pisces is the beginning of this circle in which these eight planets move backwards in the order in which they are given. The lord of the day in question, namely, the planet denoted by the day of the week, is located for the first Yamam in Pisces which, as stated above, is the commencement of this Zodiac. He moves backwards to Aquarius, for the second Yamam. The Movable signs are not occupied. So, crossing Capricorn, he occupies Sagittari in the 3rd Yamam; Scorpio, in the 4th, Virgo, in the 5th, Leo in the 6th, crossing the movable sign Libra; Gemini, in the 7th and leaving Cancer, occupies Taurus in the 8th. The remaining planets occupy in the order in which they are mentioned the Fixed and Common signs from Pisces backwards. In this way, every one and a half hours the eight planets move, in their order, along the ecliptic backwards occupying only Fixed and Common signs.

Let us, for instance, determine the planetary position, as per this rule, during the first one and a half hours on Sunday. The Sun being the lord of that day, is placed in Pisces, the starting sign. The other planets occupy the other divisions of the circle in the order given, as in ‡Fig. 1. crossing the Movable signs (Capricorn, Libra, Cancer and Aries).

Fig. 1.

The Yathra Chakra for the 2nd Yama will begin with Rahu in Pisces, the Sun in Aquarius, Mars in Sagittarius, Jupiter in Scorpio, Mercury in Virgo, Venus in Leo, Saturn in Gemini, the Moon in Taurus.

To work out the Yathra Chakra for the first period of Wednesday. As per directions given above, Mercury, the lord of Wednesday, must occupy the starting sign Pisces; the next, in order, is Venus who must be located in Aquarius; after her is Saturn who should be placed in Sagittarius, not in Capricorn, because it is a Movable sign. The Moon should occupy Scorpio; Rahu should be in Virgo; the Sun, in Leo; Mars, in Gemini; and Jupiter, in Taurus as in Fig. 2. Jupiter, Mars, the Sun, Rahu, the Moon, Saturn and Venus are respectively the lords of the 2nd 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th periods:

Sat.	Moon		Rahu

The facts to be borne in mind in drawing a Yathra Chakra are (1) that the 8 periods are governed by 8 planets (2) that they move backwards, (3) that the starting sign is Pisces, not Aries, and (4) that the Movable signs are left unoccupied.

The same rule should be applied to locate the lords of the eight Yamams of the night.

To start on a journey at a moment when the lord of the Yama governs the direction ‡ in which the individual has to travel gives conquest over enemies, however powerful they might be. The planetary directions are shown in this circle :—

Nakshathra Purusha :—The first three asterisms from the Jenma-Nakshathra constitute its face ; the next four, its eyes ; the next four its neck ; the next six, its hands ; the next two, its sides ; the next eight, its legs.

‡ Planetary Directions:—The Sun is the Regent of the East, Venus, of the South East, Mars, of the South ; Rahu, of the South-West, Saturn, of West ; the Moon, of North-West, Mercury, of the North ; Jupiter, of the North-East. These are the planetary regions.

Do not start on a journey under an asterism which at the time is governed by Mars ; otherwise, that part of the body governed by the asterism will be hurt by a weapon.

To go on a journey under the asterisms, Purva-palguni, Purvashada and Purvabadhrapadha, Barani, Jyeshtha, Aslesha and Ardhra is likely to cause danger to the life of the individual beyond the tenth mile.

Thithi Sulam:—Prathamai and Navami are inauspicious for going eastward ; Dhwithiyai and Dhasami, for going northward, Thrithiyai and Ekadhasi, for going south-east ; Chathurthi and Dhwadhasi, for going south-west ; Panchami and Thrayodhasi, for going southward ; Shashti and Chathurdhasi, for going westward ; Sapthami and Full-Moon, for going north-west ; Ashtami and New-Moon, for going north-east.

Sulam for the Days of the Week.—Monday and Saturday are inauspicious for going eastward ; Thursday, for going southward ; Sunday and Friday, for going westward ; Tuesday and Wednesday, for going northward. These days are not throughout inauspicious for commencing a journey in the directions specified. Monday and Saturday are auspicious beyond the 8th Ghatika after sunrise ; Thursday is auspicious beyond the 22nd Ghatika after sunrise ; Sunday and Friday, beyond the 15th Ghatika ; Tuesday and Wednesday, beyond the 12th Ghatika.

Chandra Kandakam.—This is also an unfortunate Yoga. Aries, Leo and Sagittarius ; Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn ; Gemini, Libra and Aquarius ; Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces—these four sets of Thrikona or triangular signs are inauspicious for going West, North, East and South, respectively, if the rising sign, at the time, be occupied by the Moon. This is known as Chandra Kandakam.

*Sulam is not a lucky astrological Yoga, and the prospective traveller should not oppose himself to it.

Asterisms and their lucky Directions.—To go east, asterism Pushya is the best ; Mrigasirsha is of middling quality. To go south, Hastha is the best ; Chithra is next in merit. To go west, Sravana is the best ; Anuradha ranks next. To go north, Sravishta and Aswini are the best ; Sravana is of middling quality.

Thithis and Directions—Do not go (1) eastward during *Nandhai; (2) southward, during Badhrai; (3) westward, during Jayai; (4) northward during Poornai ; and (5) anywhere on the New-Moon day and during Rikthai.

The Days of the Week.—To go eastward on Tuesday, southward on Monday and Saturday, westward on Wednesday and Thursday, and northward on Friday, is certain to give success.

Do not go (1) eastward, when the rising sign is occupied by the Sun, (2) south-east, when the 11th or 12th house from the rising sign is occupied by Venus, (3) southward, when the 10th house is occupied by Mars, (4) south-west, when Rahu is posited in the 8th or 9th house, (5) westward, when Mercury holds the 7th house, (6) northwest, when the Moon is located in the 5th or 6th house, (7) northward, when Mercury is in the 4th house, and (8) north-east, when Jupiter is stationed in the 2nd. Neglect of these rules will surely cause disaster.

‡ The three main Gunas of Time and Signs of the Zodiac—Signs Pisces, Virgo, Cancer and Sagittarius are considered adverse to Sathwic periods ; Taurus, Scorpio, Libra and Aries to Rajasa period ; and Gemini, Leo, Aquarius and Capricorn, to the Thamasa. See Table on page 150.

Multiply the Thithi, the day of the week and the asterism by 2, 3 and 4, respectively and divide the product by 6, 8 and 6 respectively. If these figures be exactly divisible, it is a bad day for the journey. If there be a remainder, the day may be considered fortunate. If the first figure alone be exactly divisible, it indicates malady; if the second figure be so, the person will suffer intimidation; if the third figure be so, there will be affliction. If all the figures be exactly divisible, it portends disaster.

Illustration :—Is it auspicious to set out on Friday, ruled by asterism Pushya and Panchami Thithi? Here, the number, denoted by the Thithi is 5; Counting from Sunday, Friday is the 6th day of the week; Asterism Pushya is the 8th from Aswini. As per the rule, the figures 5, 6 and 8 should be multiplied by 2, 3 and 4 respectively, and the three products divided by 6, 8 and 6 respectively. As none of the figures is exactly divisible, the day is auspicious.

Count the asterisms from the one ruled by the Sun, to that ruled by the Moon, and divide the total number by 7. If the remainder be 2 or 6, the journey will involve needless movement from place to place. If 3 or 0 be the remainder, the individual will be exposed to the risk of receiving blows; remainders 1, 4 or 5 are excellent and will make the journey profitable.

PANCHAKAM.

Add 15 to the total obtained by the addition of the Thithi, day, asterism and the rising sign, at the moment of starting, and divide the total by 9. If the remainder be 5, illness must be predicted. Add 12, instead of 15, to the said total and divide the resultant by 9. If 5 be the remainder, there will be a likelihood of danger by fire. Add 10 instead of 12, to the same total and divide it by 9 if 5 be the remainder, it indicates trouble from royalty. Add 8, instead of 10, to the total, and divide it by 9; if 5 be the remainder, fear of thieves will be likely. Add 4, instead of 8, to the total, and divide the resultant by 9.

If 5 be the remainder, the issue will be disastrous. 5 is therefore a "bad" remainder and should be avoided. Other remainders make the journey profitable.

THE RIGHT TIME FOR TRAVEL.

In the light of the foregoing rules, it is by no means easy to select a day thoroughly favourable in respect of Thithi, day of the week, asterism, the rising sign and the Amsa. A description of some of the beneficial Yogas that make a journey fruitful is therefore set forth below:— Just prior to departure at the auspicious moment, the Brahmanas, deities, the astrologer, the relatives (elders) and the family priest should be the eligible objects of reverence and bounty according to one's means. All success will attend him who sets out, offering his salutation to Narayana who is the Spirit and Central Light of the Sun. Clean, well-dressed, and perfumed with sandals and scents, the prospective traveller should begin his journey with the consent of his wife and others. This will give him success. The mind should be free from all feelings of anger, sorrow, miserliness or dejection.

If the breath of the body flows through the right nostril, take the starting step on your journey with your right foot first. If the breath flows through the left, use the left foot first.

Do not go eastward or northward when the breath flows through the left nostril, and westward or southward when it flows through the right; otherwise, there will be fear of thieves and of risk to life.

To go into the house when the respiration is through the right nostril, and to leave it when it is through the left—this is a very good rule.

See that the Moon is strong and well-dignified and free from malefic aspects at the time of starting, and you will attain your object without difficulty or impediment.

One should not even think of starting when † day and night are of equal length.

Good Days for Starting—A journey started under any of the following planetary conditions is certain to prove successful:—

1. The Moon in (Cadent) the 3rd, 6th, 9th or 12th house, and Jupiter located in square to the rising sign.

2. Start under asterism Anuradha, sojourn on the way for the whole duration of asterism Jyeshtha and resume the journey at the commencement of asterism Mula.

3. Start under ast. Mrigashirsha, sojourn on the way for the whole duration of ast. Ardhra and Punarvasu and resume the journey at the commencement of ast. Pushya.

4. Start under ast. Hastha, sojourn for the whole duration of Chithra and Swathi, on the way, and resume the journey at the commencement of Visakha.

5. Start when the rising sign is occupied by the Moon with Jupiter or Venus in a quadrant.

6. Jupiter well-placed in the rising sign and the Moon anywhere except in the 8th house, gives success over enemies, besides making the journey profitable if the latter be located in the 6th house from the Lagna in the Navamsa figure.

7. The Moon in the 7th, and Venus and Mercury in the 4th—this makes the journey easy and peaceful.

†The vernal equinox and autumnal equinox, occurring about March 21 and September 23, are the only two days in a year, when day and night are of equal length. It is the time when the Sun's centre in crossing the equator coincides with that of the equinoctical points. The Autumnal signs are Libra, Scorpio and Sagittarius and the Vernal signs are Aries, Taurus and Gemini. At each equinox, day and night are of equal length. To set out at equinox is likely to have a disastrous issue.

8. Venus governing the rising sign, Mercury the 2nd and the Sun the 3rd—this gives victory over enemies and success in the undertaking.

9. Mercury in the 4th house, Jupiter in the 2nd or 7th or in trine—this will eradicate all adverse effects as Rama did the Rakshasas.

10. Jupiter, in the rising sign, completely dispels the influence of malefics in the 8th house and bestows success.

11. Jupiter, Venus or Mercury, well-dignified in trines or quadrants, produces good—So says Brahma Deva.

12. Benefics, stationed in the 2nd and 11th houses from the rising sign, with the Sun in the 10th house, prove the journey successful and profitable, in all ways, and favour a safe return from the journey in good health.

13. Jupiter, stationed in the rising sign, malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses, and Venus anywhere except in the 7th, fill the journey with good luck all along the line.

A General Rule:—Begin no journey when the quadrants from the rising sign, at the time, are unoccupied by benefics, or are occupied by malefic planets; if the quadrants be governed at the time by malefics and benefics together, the result will be of middling quality.

For Ladies:—Ladies should not set out on a journey (1) when the Sun is in Cancer, Virgo or Aquarius, (2) on Friday or Wednesday, (3) on Prathamai day, (4) under asterism Utharapalguni, Utharashada and Utharabadhra-padha, (5) when, in the journey, they have to oppose themselves to Venus or when she is placed on their left side. Women should have regard to these points in addition to the foregoing rules.

In times of famine or of political turmoil, for going to a marriage or for the purpose of attending a sacrifice, and for movements from one part of a town or village to another, the location of Venus in the opposite direction has no evil influence.

In the case of a journey of, or less than, two $\frac{1}{2}$ Crosas, or extending to over twelve Yojanas, the location of Venus need not be considered.

To propitiate Venus and put down the adverse effects due to her location in the opposite quarters, gifts of a white horse, white cloth, genuine pearl and silver to Brahmanas are recommended.

Exception.—The location of Venus as referred to above has no adverse effect whatever on a journey undertaken with the object of protecting children, the sick or the forlorn; nor when the wife goes to her husband's accompanied by him.

The wife proceeding to her husband's for the first time should not, however, oppose herself to Venus.

Those that belong to Kasyapa, Vasishta, Bharadhwaja Athreya, Angeerasa, Bhargava, and Srivathsa Gothras are not affected by such location of Venus.

The adverse quality will, however, sink, if Venus be in her own or friendly house, though in the opposite direction. A person should not go on a journey in the 6th or the 8th month of his wife's period of pregnancy; the month of Ashada should also be avoided.

Parasthanam—In case of emergency when no auspicious moment may be found at the desired time a person may start and proceed a few steps, equipped for the journey, and put up in the nearest place available, or, leave there his cloth, his stick, umbrella, rosary, books, looking glass, bed or seat or vehicle or anything else in token of his departure, and thereafter proceed within a week. If rain or storm should intervene a fresh Parasthanam should be made.

4 Hasthas „	1 Dhandah.
2000 Dhandahs „	1 Crosa.
4 Crosas „	1 Yojana.
An inch is the length of 8 paddy grains placed breadthwise.

Good Omens—The following are good omens which foreshow success:—A virgin, cow, gems, flower, curd, horse, Brahmanas, creepers, flaming fire, a pair of water-pots, bull, lotus, sandal, grain, fried rice, food, dead body, prostitute, white garland, chamaras, weapons, consecrated rice, (saffron-colored rice) sesamum, chintz, a young woman with her baby, a calf with the cow, the sound of conch and other musical instruments, pieces of flesh, ghee, or milk. To meet with any of these coming in front of one on the way indicates happiness. The hearing of such sounds as "go," "be happy," "conquer," "leave," "deliver" or "start" at the time of departure are also good omens.

Evil Omens—The following are evil omens:—Whey, one rubbed over with oil, with dishevelled or plaited hair, a crumpled nose, an ascetic, oil-monger, red flowers, wet clothes, a hog, hare, snake, salt, tripping, tearing of clothes, stumbling down or weeping. To see any of these coming in front on the way forebodes evil, and the person must put off his journey, in such a case. The hearing of such expressions as "come," "stop," "If I simply say "go," you walk off," are also bad omens.

The cry of quarrel or of lamentation is also a destructive omen. If you see a snake or a cat on the way, put off the journey for six months; if you see birds, put it off for three days; if you hear a sneeze, stop for a day; if you meet with a hare think not of that journey as long as the Sun and the stars endure. A single Brahmana is evil itself incarnate; two predict early success; three portend failure; a group of Brahmanas promise good. A single Sudra is a good omen; two or more present only too bad an omen.

Sneezing at the time of journey forebodes no good. The sneezing of a cow portends a gory spectacle and a life-long Nemesis. The sneezing of a buffalo shows disaster. If you hear a disagreeable voice, at the time, you will do well to halt a while, do five or six Pranayamas and then proceed ; should you hear a repetition of the voice, then stop and do sixteen Pranayamas and resume the journey. If you hear the same a third time put a stop to the journey.

These omens should be observed and interpreted only till the completion of the first Crośa on the journey.

Here the author describes the standard complexion of the four great castes for purposes of omens. Brahmanas, copper colour ; Kshatriyas, bronze colour ; Vaisyas, brown ; Sudras, dark complexion. A Brahmana passing on the left side is an omen that gives success in the long run ; A Kshatriya doing the same shows success in due course ; a Vaisya doing the same signifies prompt success ; A Sudra doing the same indicates absence of obstacles and achievement of object. These interpretations will hold good only if the individual in question possess the complexion attributed to him.

Dogs -To behold a dog making water on rubbish, stick or a block of wood portends pecuniary loss and intimidation.

Influence of Zodiacal Signs at Home-Coming—It is inauspicious to come back home, after a journey, on the 8th day, or in the 9th month of starting. Aries, as the rising sign, at the time of coming back into your house, shows further travels ; Taurus gives comfort and affluence ; Gemini brings riches ; Cancer takes away all property ; Leo bestows a long happy life ; Virgo foretells dalliance with many ladies ; Libra breeds many diseases ; Scorpio portends many dangers ; but if occupied by a benefic the sign denotes much gain ; Sagittarius gives increase of corn ; Capricorn causes loss of things, house, treasure etc ; Aquarius signifies prodigious wealth ; Pisces predicts a long happy life.

Cow—For taking a cow from one place to another the following asterisms are the most fortunate:—Bharani, Krithika, Rohini, Aslesha, Magha, Purvapalguni, Utharapalguni, Chithra, Visakha, Sravana, Sathabis, Utharabhadrapada and Revathi. Some writers condemn Rohini.

A cow should not be started on her journey under asterism Punarvasu, for that will cause a defect in her leg; Anuradha produces eye-disease; Swathi brings malady. Thus the learned have stated.

Friday, Wednesday Chathurdhasi, Full-Moon and New-Moon days are inauspicious for starting on a journey, or for the construction of a cow-stall, if those days coincide, respectively, with Sravana, Rohini, Chithra, Utharapalguni, Utharashada and Utharabhadrapada.

For journeys by boat or by steamer all the foregoing rules should be observed.

TO INVADE A COUNTRY.

A king who sets out when the rising sign is governed by Venus, the 11th house by the Sun, and the 4th by the Moon, will subdue his enemies as the lion subdues the herd of elephants.

A king who sets out (1) when the rising sign is Pisces, occupied by Venus, (2) when the rising sign is Cancer, with the Moon located in Taurus, will carry destruction into the army of his foes, even as Sri Krishna sent death into the Rakshasa woman Boothalai.

A king who starts when the rising sign is Cancer, occupied by Jupiter, and the Moon in the 11th house, will come down upon his enemies and slaughter them as dreadfully as Paramasiva did the Thripurasuras.

A king who begins journey when the benefics are in quadrants or trines, with the Sun or the Moon in the 11th, will be able to drive his enemies before him as completely as the Sun dispels darkness.

A king who starts when Venus governs the rising sign, holding her Virgothama position, will annihilate his enemies as meditation upon Mahavishnu does all sins.

A king who starts when benefics are in quadrants or trines, located in their Virgothama positions, will drain the strength of his enemy as surely as the waters of the Ganges wash away the sins of people.

CONCERNING DISEASE.

CHAPTER XXX.

Influence of Ast. at the Commencement of a Disease—Fever that begins under Aswini will shake off in nine days ; under Bharani, it is cured in five days ; under Krithika, seven days ; under Rohini, twenty one days ; A malady that begins under Mrigasirsha will cure in five or nine days ; under Ardhra, it is likely to prove disastrous in five days or three fortnights ; under Punarvasu and Pushya the patient will recover in 7 nights and eight days respectively ; Aslesha proves dangerous in eight days or in the long run ; Magha shows the same result in ten nights or before the next return of the Moon to the same asterism ; Purvapalguni gives relief in twenty one days ; Utharapalguni, in nine days ; Hastha, in seven nights ; Chithra, in eight nights or, before the succeeding Chithra ; Swathi cures in ten nights or three fortnights ; Visakha, Anuradha, Jyeshtha, Mula, Purvashada and Utharashada take twenty five, ten, twelve days, ten nights, eight nights and one month, respectively ; Sravana and Srayishta cure in eight and ten nights respectively ; Sathabis and Purvabhadrapadha signify development of disease in six or twelve days ; Utharabhadrapadha cures in a fortnight ; Revathi takes eight days.

The commencement of a malady on a Sunday, Tuesday and Saturday coinciding with Chathurthi, Navami and Chathurdhasi respectively, and ruled by (1) Ardhra, Aslesha and Magha, (2) Swathi, Jyeshtha and Bharani, (3) Purvapalguni, Purvashada and Purvabhadrapadha, respectively is likely to have a disastrous issue. The issue will be the same of diseases that commence on Chathurthi, Navami, Chathurdhasi, Shashti, Ashtami, Dhwadhasi and the New-Moon days.

Diseases that commence under Sakunam and other Sthira Karanas and Vishti Karana do much harm.

A malady that sets in under Jenma-Nakshathra or under the 3rd, 5th, 7th, 10th and 19th asterisms therefrom will cause much loss and distress.

The Critical Time.—The following are critical periods for patients in declining health:—Chandrashtama, Daktha Yoga, Jenma-Nakshathra and the 22nd asterisms therefrom, the 88th stellar quarter from that occupied by the Moon at birth, Tuesday, Saturday and Sunday, Vishanadi (Thyajyam) and twilight time.

TO TAKE TREATMENT.

CHAPTER XXXI,

Medical treatment should begin under the following asterisms:—Aswini, Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Utharapalguni, Utharashada, Utharabhadrapadha, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Sravana, Sravishta, Sathabis and Revathi.

The best time for taking medicine is:—Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday ruled by Hastha, Aswini, Chithra and Punarvasu, at a time when the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus occupy their own Virgas, a movable sign or the Amsa of a movable sign. This moment is specially favourable for the treatment of fever.

Those suffering from typhoid or enteric should choose Sunday coinciding with Chathurthi, Navami or Chathurdhasi and ruled by Ardhra, Bharani, Visakha or Anuradha.

Ugra Yoga.—Medical treatment should begin under "Ugra-Yoga" The following combinations produce Ugra-Yogas:— (1) Thrithiyai or Ashtami, coinciding with asterism Rohini, (2) Chathurthi or Ashtami with asterism Utharapalguni, (3) Panchami with Sravana, (4) Shashti with Mrigasirsha, (5) Sapthami with Revathi, (6) Navami with Krithika, (7) Dhasami with Pushya, (8) Thrithiyai or Dhwadhasi with asterism Anuradha, (9) Ekadhasi with Krithika or Magha, (10) Dhasami with Rohini and (11) Thrayodhasi with Utharapalguni.

Treatment for Venereal Disease.—A New-Moon day ruled by *Kshipram, Ugram and §Chara asterisms is a fortunate time for treating venereal complaints in both sexes. Choose sign Aries or Cancer.

Rheumatism.—To commence treatment for rheumatic affections, choose Thursday ruled by the asterisms Sravana, Aslesha or Aswini on Thrithiyai, Ashtami or Thrayodhasi day.

Biliousness.—For diseases due to biliousness, the fortunate time for medical treatment is Prathamai, Shashti or Ekadhasi, on a Thursday, ruled by asterism Swathi, Mula or Pushya. The rising sign at the time of taking medicine should be a Movable.

For disorders in respect to the bile, the patient should commence treatment on Dhwithiyai, Shashti or Dhwadhasi, on a Friday, ruled by Punarvasu, Revathi or Swathi. Choose a Movable sign.

* See Chapter 33 for Kshipram and Ugram.

Wind and Phlegmatic Complaints.—The patient should begin treatment on Tuesday ruled by Bharani, Krithika or Ardhra and under a Movable sign.

Gonorrhoea.—Choose a Wednesday of Chathurdhasi, Navami or Chathurthi, ruled by Chara, Ugra or Kshipra asterisms, Leprosy.—A fortunate time for starting treatment of leprosy is Tuesday, Saturday or Sunday coinciding with Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami or Chathurdhasi and ruled by Mrigasirsha, Chithra and Sravishta ; Pushya, Anuradha and Utharabhadrapadha ; Krithika, Utharapalguni and Utharashada, at a time when the rising sign is Aries, Leo, Scorpio, Capricorn or Aquarius (signs of malefics) with a malefic located in the 8th house.

Ascites.—To commence treatment of ascites choose a Tuesday governed by Bharani, Krithika, Ardhra, Aslesha, Visakha, Magha or Jyeshtha.

Phthisis.—The treatment should commence on a day ruled by a † “Sadharana” asterism aspected by a planet, in retrograde ; the Thithi, at the time, should be free from Vishti Karana.

Leprosy, Phthisis, Pyrosis and Epilepsy.—The treatment should begin under a Common sign. A Movable sign, if occupied by the Sun and the Moon, will do good. Fixed signs should be avoided.

Surgical and other Treatments.—The application of all external remedies, such as pigments, steam, etc and, operations with surgical instruments should commence on Tuesday or Saturday when Mars is powerful, when the 8th house is unoccupied, and when the ruling asterism is Ardhra, Jyeshtha, Aslesha or Mula, coinciding with Chathurthi, Navami, or Chathurdhasi. Aries, Cancer, Virgo, Taurus—any of these signs should be chosen.

TO PREPARE MEDICINES.

Sunday, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and the Virgas and signs of the Sun, the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus are good. Shashti, Ashtami, Chathurthi, Chathurdhasi, Navami are good Thithis ; Dhwithiyai and Dhwadhasi should be avoided ; Prathamai, Shashti and Ekadhasi are also commended by some writers as good. All Sthira Karanas and Nithya-Yogas are good. Vishti should be rejected. Movable signs are the best ; fixed signs should be avoided ; Common signs are neutral. The 6th, 7th, and 8th houses, from the rising sign, should be vacant ; if occupied, the issue will be disastrous.

Rasayanam.—The preparation of “Rasayanam”‡ should be started on a good day ruled by a good Thithi, a good Yoga, a good Navamsa, a good asterism and a good rising sign aspected by a good planet.

Sarva Roga Prasamana—(Panacea).—Saturn, Mars and the Sun stationed in the rising sign or in square to it present a very good time for commencing the preparation of Sarva Roga Prasamana, a remedy for all diseases.

BATH.

Having completely recovered, the patient must have a bath. The best asterisms for this purpose are Aswini, Bharani, Krithika, Mrigasirsha, Ardhra. Pushya, Purvapalguni, Hastha, Chithra, Visakha, Mula, Purvashada and Purvabhadrapadha.

Avoid “Chandrashtama,” the Jenma-Nakshathra and the 3rd, 5th, 7th, 10th, 12th, 14th, 16th and 22nd asts, from the latter.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and the Virgas and signs of Mars, Mercury and Jupiter are good. To repeat the bath choose a Sunday and the sign and the ‡ Electuary.

Virgas governed by the Sun. Saturday and the signs and Virgas of Saturn are neutral. Avoid Chathurthi, Ash-tami, Navami, Chathurdhasi and New-Moon days.

Benefics in trines or in squares, with malefics posited in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses, afford a very happy time for bath after recovery from illness.

OIL-BATH.

The rules for oil-bath are given in this connection.

Oil-bath on Sunday and the other days of the week will produce burning sensation in the heart, fair complexion, untimely death, wealth, poverty, danger, longevity and happiness, respectively.

Oil-bath on Dhwithiyai, Thrithiyai, Panchami, Sapthami, Dhasami and Thrayodhasi bestows strength, wealth, longevity and sons. One must have an oil-bath on Dhasami; a bath without oil on that day mitigates life, intelligence and reputation.

Oil-bath on Prathamai, Chathurthi, Shashti, Navami, Chathurdhasi and New-Moon days has an adverse influence on life, intelligence, strength and reputation. If, however, one must have an oil-bath on those days, the evil effects will diminish by mixing a little ghee with the oil.

The asts., Jyeshtha, Utharapalguni, Sravana, Ardhra, Jenma-Nakshathra the 10th and the 19th asterisms therefrom and Sankaranthi are inauspicious for oil-bath, as they affect wealth and life adversely.

Thrithiyai or Panchami, on a Thursday ruled by asterism Swathi gives health, wealth and strength.

Thrithiyai, Panchami, Dhasami and Thrayodhasi bestow children, longevity, wealth. A day is more powerful than a Thithi. The influence of an asterism is four times that of a Thithi ; that of a Karana, six times ; that of a day, eight times. Tuesday and Friday are felicitous for women's oil-bath.

TO PAY UP DEBTS.

CHAPTER XXXII.

Have regard to Anuradha or Aswini and pay your creditor at a time when the Moon holds the rising sign. This combination is known as Maithra Muhoortha. Even if you pay but a small fraction of your dues at that time you will be able to discharge all your debts though they might be incalculable.

Mark the location of Gulika in the rising sign (at the time of discharging debt) on a Tuesday, Saturday or Sunday, coinciding with Navami, Chathurdhasi and Chathurthi respectively. Even if you discharge a small portion of your debts at that moment you will be free from all liabilities in a short time. This auspicious moment gives conquest over enemies.

Vishti Karana ruled by Gulika on Sunday, Tuesday or Saturday, coinciding with Chathurthi, Navami or Chathurdhasi is a very unfortunate time for starting to liquidate a debt. The debts will never be extinguished ; on the other hand, the debtor's house will become the property of the creditor.

A Movable sign on a Saturday accompanied by Prodhosha presents another felicitous time for discharging all debts.

Rahu, placed in the rising sign coinciding with Vyatheepatha Yoga on a day of eclipse is a very bad time for lending or borrowing. As a rule, any payment towards discharging a debt should be made under a favourable asterism, with a malefic located in the 8th house from the rising sign at the time.

EXTERMINATORY YOGAS

CHAPTER XXXIII.

The following are the delineations of the evil influences of the many of planetary and stellar positions which should be avoided in starting anything calculated to bring profit or happiness.

The first nine Asterisms from the Jenma-Nakshathra (the ruling Asterism at one's birth) are respectively characterised as (1) Jenmam—birth; (2) Sampath—fortune; (3) Vipath—danger; (4) Kshema—well-being; (5) Prathayara—obstacles; (6) Sadhaga—help; (7) Vadha—slaughter; (8) Maithra — friendship; (9) Parama-Maithra — intimate friendship.

Pariyaya.—(Cycle) This word is used to denote a set of nine asterisms from the Jenma-Nakshathra. The first nine asterisms constitute the first Pariyaya; the second nine asterisms constitute the second; the third nine asterisms ending with the 27th asterism from the Jenma-Nakshathra constitute the third.

To each of the second 9 asterisms—from the 10th to the 19th, forming the second Pariyaya—the same qualities are attributed as to those of the first 9. They are also ascribed to the 9 asterisms of the 3rd Pariyaya that ends with the 27th asterism from the Jenma-Nakshathra.

The influence of the first Pariyaya.—Jenma causes failure of health and business; "Sampath" denotes fortune; "Vipath" signifies danger; "Kshema" shows health and well-being; "Prathyara" manifests obstacles; "Sadhaga" welcomes help towards the attainment of the object, hard though it be; "Vadha" portends slaughter; "Maithra" brings joy like a true friend; "Parama-Maithra" bestows easy victory—thus the quality of each asterism of a Pariyaya is what is denoted by its name.

The Second Pariyaya.—The strength of the first asterism, (the 10th asterism from the Jenma-Nakshathra) of this set is only one half of what is attributed to the "Jenmam" of the first Pariyaya. The quality of the 19th asterism is just one half of what is attributed to the 10th asterism. The 3rd, 5th and 7th asterisms (of the 2nd Pariyaya) are not, however, as "bad" as the 3rd, 5th, and 7th asterisms of the first:—the first quarter of the 3rd, the fourth quarter of the 5th and the third quarter of the 7th asterism should alone be avoided.

The Third Pariyaya.—The asterisms of this Pariyaya, as such, have no adverse qualities.

Vainasika.—This word denotes the quality of the 22nd asterism from the Jenma-Nakshathra. It indicates ruin and should, therefore, be avoided. The 88th "Naksathra-Padha" (stellar quarter) from that at birth is also inauspicious.

Chandrashtama.—The location of the Moon in the 8th house from the Jenma Rasi, at any time, forms the adverse Yoga known as "Chandrashtama". Nothing auspicious or important to one's welfare should be started during that period.

The 27th Asterism.—The 27th asterism from the Jenma-Nakshathra is inauspicious. Death-day anniversary, marriage, shaving, and journey should not be performed by the Dhwijas on the day ruled by that asterism.

Unfavorable Asterisms.—Nothing new or important should be started under any of the following asterisms, as they do not produce happy results:—Bharani, Krithika, Ardhra, Aslesha, Magha, Purvapalguni, Jyeshtha, Purvashada and Purvabhadrapada; and the Jenma, Anujanma and Thri-Janma asterisms, ie., the Janma-Nakshatra, the 10th and the 19th asterisms therefrom respectively.

Unfavorable Thithis.—Chathurthi, Navami, Chathurdhasi, Shashti, Dhwadhasi, Full-Moon. Prathamai of the bright fortnight, Ekadhasi, Dwadhasi, Thrayodhasi, Chathurdhasi and the New-Moon of the dark fortnight should be avoided. Shashti, Sapthami, Ashtami, Navami and Dhasami of the dark fortnight are neutrals.

The Days of the Week.—Of Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday the day-times are “bad.” The Virgas and the lords of those days, viz., Saturn, the Sun and Mars produce evil even when posited in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses from the rising sign. Signs of Mars and Saturn are, as a rule, unfortunate.

The following nine Yogas are “bad.”—Vyaghatham, Parigham, Vajram, Vyatheepatham, Vyadhriti, Gandam, Athigandam, Sulam, Vishkambam, Vishti, Chathushpadham, Nagam, Kimsthughnam, Sakhunam—these five Karanas are powerful for executing acts of violence but do not favor deeds of benevolence or virtue.

Dhina-Mrithyu.—The first quarter of Sravishta, Hastha; (2) the second quarter of Visakha and Ardhra, (3) the third quarter of Utharabhadrapada and Aslesha, (4) the fourth quarter of Bharani and Mula are known as Dhina-Mrithyu—an evil Yoga powerful only if it occurs during day-time.

Dhina-Roga.—First quarter of Aslesha, Utharabhadrapada, (2) the second of Bharani and Mula, (3) the third of Utharapalguni and Sravana, (4) the fourth of Swathi and Mrigasirsha are known as Dhina-Roga, the evil influence of which exists only if it occurs during day-time. Dhina-Mrithy and Dhina-Roga are however devoid of evil if they occur during night.

ASEEVISHAM.

The 2nd, 6th, 9th, 11th, 13th, 18th and 27th asterisms from the one in which New-Moon ends are Aseevisham. This Yoga is inauspicious beyond remedy.

EKARGALA.

This evil Yoga, powerful only during the day-time, interferes in affairs started under the nine Yogas, Vishkam-bam, Vyatheepatham, Soolam, Parigham, Gandam, Athigandam, Vajram, Vyaghatham, Vaidhrithi which are respectively governed by the nine asterisms Aswini, Aslesha, Mrigasirsha, Magha, Mula, Anuradha, Pushya, Punarvasu and Chithra. Note the ruling Yoga at the time of starting any affair and its relative asterism. Place this asterism at top of the diagram, marking the succeeding asterisms in their order. If the two asterisms at the two ends of a line happen to be those governed by the Sun and the Moon on the day in question, the Yoga known as Ekargala is formed. [Suppose, for instance, a business is started under the Yoga, Parigham. The relative asterism being Magha it is placed at the top of the following diagram and the succeeding asterisms should be marked in their order. Suppose the Sun is in Aswini and the Moon governs Mula on the day in question; these two being on the same line Ekargala is formed. If the asterisms ruled by the Sun and the Moon fall on different lines there will be no Ekargala. Anything commenced under Ekargala, during the day-time, will have a disastrous issue, for, as already stated, the influence of this Yoga prevails only during the day-time].

SHADASEETHIMUKHA.

This is also an adverse Yoga formed variously with reference to the location of the Sun in a Movable, Fixed or Common sign. The 5th Navamsa of a movable sign occupied by the Sun, the 7th Navamsa of a fixed sign occupied by the Sun, and the 9th Navamsa of a common sign occupied by the Sun—each of these presents an unfavourable Yoga known as Shadaseethimukha. When this Yoga occurs the first 60 Ghatikas of that period should be left out of consideration. [Shadaseethimukha occurs in the 1st quarter of ast. Bharani, in the 4th of Rohini, in the 3rd of Punarvasu, in the 4th of Pushya, in the 3rd of Purvapalguni, in the 2nd of Chithra, in the 3rd of Swathi, in the 2nd of Jyeshtha, in the 1st of Utharashada, in the 2nd of Sravana, in the 1st of Purvabhadrapadha and in the 4th of Revathi, when the Sun is in Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius and Pisces, respectively.]

Blind Asterisms. Omit the stellar quarters (Nakshathra-Padhas) from Purvabhadrapadha to the ruling asterism at the time in question. Divide these stellar quarters by 27. Remainders from 1 to 6 represent blind asterisms; remainders 7 to 15 represent asterisms blind of one eye; 16 to 27 are asterisms with two eyes.

Blind Thithis.—These are determined with reference to the Ekadhasi of the dark fortnight. The 9 Thithis from that are blind; the next 3 have one eye; the next 6 have two eyes; the next three have one eye; the next six have two eyes; the last three have one eye.

Blind Rasis. Aries, Taurus and Leo are blind during day-time; Gemini, Cancer and Virgo are blind during night.

The “blind ones” are destructive; those that have “one eye” produce no good; those that have “both eyes” bestow success. If the “one-eyed” be strong, it is also fruitful.

Deaf Rasis.—Libra and Scorpio are deaf signs in the morning; Sagittarius and Capricorn become deaf in the evening. Sign Cancer and Virgo are deaf at mid-day.

Lame Rasis.—Aquarius and Pisces are “lame” at twilight times.

The “blind” is an impediment; the “deaf” brings loss of property; and the “lame” has an adverse effect on longevity. These three should therefore be avoided.

Sakata Yoga.—The location of the Moon in the 6th, 8th or 12th house from Jupiter forms what is known as Sakata Yoga. This yoga is inauspicious.

Karthari Yoga.—This also is a destructive Yoga formed when the 2nd and 12th houses from the rising sign are ruled by a pair of malefics in retrograde.

SOONYAM.

This characterises certain asterisms, Thithis and signs of each month. It is an exterminative Yoga and nothing auspicious or important should be started under the asterisms, Thithis and signs affected by the Yoga. The Soonya Yogas for the 12 months are:—

Chythra—Ashtami and Ekadhasi : Rohini and Aswini: Aquarius.

Vysakha—Dhwadhasi : Chithra Swathi, Utharashada : Pisces.

Jyeshtha—Thrayodhasi : Punarvasu : Taurus.

Ashada—Shashti : Puvapalguni and Sravishta . Gemini.

Sravana—Full-Moon : Purvashada : Aries.

Badhrapadha—Sapthami: Revathi and Sathabis: Virgo.

Aswayuja—Navami : Purvabadhrapadha : Scorpio.

Krithika—Panchami : Magha, Pushya, Mrigasirsha and Krithika : Libra.

Margasira—Dhwithiyai : Anuradha, Utharabadhra-padha and Visakha : Sagittarius.

Pushya—Prathamai : Hastha, Ardhra and Aslesha : Cancer.

Magha—Chathurthi and Dhasami : Sravana and Mula ; Capricorn.

Palguna—Chathurdhasi : Jyeshtha and Bharani : Leo.

Soonya Rasis for Thithis—Rasis are affected by Soonya Yoga with reference to particular Thithis :—

Prathamai—Libra and Capricorn.

Dhwithiyai—Sagittarius and Pisces.

Thrithiyai—Capricorn and Leo.

Chathurthi—Aquarius and Taurus.

Panchami—Virgo and Gemini.

Shashti—Aries and Leo.

Sapthami—Sagittarius and Cancer.

Ashtami—Gemini and Virgo.

Navami—Scorpio and Leo.

Dhasami— Do. Do.

Ekadhasi—Sagittarius and Pisces.

Dhwadhasi—Libra and Capricorn.

Thrayodhasi—Taurus and Leo.

SOOLAM.

The first seven asterisms from Krithika constitute Soolam in the eastern direction; the next seven, in the southern direction; the next seven including *Abijith, in the western direction; the last seven, in the northern direction.

† The asterism located opposite to the one governed by the Sun or the Moon at eclipse signifies Maha-Soolam.

Soolam and Maha-Soolam defined above are evil Yogas.

Graha Soolam—The seven days prior to those governed by the Moon at eclipse and the seven after them constitute Graha-Soola, an unfortunate Yoga.

An asterism ruled by a planet and the asterisms prior, and next, to that asterism are inauspicious. ‡ Asterisms governed by malefics produce bad luck.

Malai and Visha Masas.—A month without a Full-Moon is known as Visha-Masa; and one with two Full-Moons is Malai-Masa. Nothing of importance should be started in those months.

* For particulars about this asterism see Introduction.

† The asterism specified here is the 15th from the one governed by the Sun or the Moon on the day of eclipse. So, the adverse Yoga indicated will prevail about a fortnight after the phenomenon—on the day ruled by the said 15th asterism.

Samsarpam.—A month without a Sankaranthi is called Samsarpam; a month with two Saṅkaranthis in it is described as Amhaspathi. These are evil Yōgas too.

Sthoolam.—Count the asterisms from the one ruled by the Sun to ast. Mula. The last of the same number of asterisms reckoned from Mula is denoted by the term Sthoolam which is not lucky.

Kantakam.—Count the asterisms from the one ruled by Mars to ast. Mula. The last of the same number of asterisms from Mula is denoted by the term Kantakam.

Kantaka Sthoolam.—Count the asterisms from the one ruled by the Sun to ast., Mula and add this number to the number of asterisms from the one ruled by Mars to Mula. The last of this total number of asterisms from Mula signifies Kantaka-Sthoolam. This is a blending of the two foregoing rules. This produces a very destructive Yoga. Remedial forces and powerful beneficial influences do not diminish its harmful effect.

Jwalitham.—The 5th, 7th, 10th, 14th, 25th and 16th asterisms from the asterism governed by Mars are denoted by the word Jwalitham—an evil Yoga. The 5th, 7th, 15th and the 21st asterisms from that governed by the Sun, and the 7th, 14th, 16th and 25th asterisms from that governed by Mars, the 8th, 18th and 24th from that governed by Mercury are all bad.

Dhwajadhandam.—The 9th asterism from that occupied by Jupiter is called Dhwajadhandam. This and the 10th asterism from the one governed by Venus, the 6th, 11th and 20th from that held by Saturn, the 5th, 11th and 13th from that ruled by Rahu are also inauspicious.

Saturn in the 5th, Moon and Jupiter in the 6th, Venus in the 7th, Jupiter in the 8th with the Moon and a malefic, Mars in the 9th, Mercury in the 10th and the Sun in the 12th are unfavourable planetary conditions.

* Sankaranthi.—The 30 Ghatikas before and after Sankaranthi are inauspicious ; the 60 Ghatikas before and after Aswayuja Sankaranthi, i.e., the time of the Sun's entry into the first point of Libra, are inauspicious. The entries of the Sun into the other cardinal Movable signs, Aries, Cancer and Capricorn should also be noted. The three days before and after the Sun's entry into the 1st point of each of those signs should be avoided. Sankaranthi is, as already observed, the entry of the Sun into the 1st point of a sign of the zodiac ‡ Gulika.—The interval in a day governed by Saturn is known as Gulika. The twelve hours of the day are divided into 8 periods of an hour and a half each. The lord of the day, in question, governs the first and the last periods. The other six periods are ruled by the lords of the remaining days of the week in their order.

Ardhapharam.—Of the eight periods aforesaid, the 4th period of Sunday, the 3rd of Monday, the 2nd of Tuesday, the 1st of Wednesday, the 7th of Thursday, the 6th of Friday and the 5th of Saturday—each of these periods is known as Ardhapharam.

Yamaganda.—Similarly, the 5th period of Sunday, the 4th of Monday, the 3rd of Tuesday, the 2nd of Wednesday, the 1st of Thursday, the 7th of Friday and the 6th of Saturday are Yamaganda periods.

Kalan.—The 1st, 7th, 6th, 5th, 4th, 3rd and 2nd periods of Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday respectively are known as the periods of Kalan.

* Particular religious importance is attached by the Hindus to the day of the Sun's entry into the first point of Capricorn—the first day of the month of Makara when the Sun commences his northern course.

‡ Gulika is not considered inauspicious, though included in this chapter. See page 176 for Gulika and other Tables.

The three periods Ardhapraharam, Yamagandam and Kalan should be rejected as inauspicious.

Hora—(Hour) Hora is the term used to denote each of the hours into which a day is divided. The 1st Hora of the day is governed by the lord of the day; the 2nd is governed by the planet sixth in order from the lord of the 1st Hora; the 3rd, by the planet sixth in order from the lord of the 2nd Hora. Thus, the lord of each Hora, after the first is the one that is sixth in order from the lord of the previous Hora, the lord of the 1st Hora being, as stated above, the lord of the day in question. See Table on the next page.

Rahu Kalam:—This is also inauspicious. It occurs only during the day-time on the following days:—Sunday 4.30 to 6; Monday 7.30 to 9; Tuesday 3 to 4.30; Wednesday 12 to 1.30; Thursday 1.30 to 3; Friday, 10.30 to 12; Saturday 9 to 10.30. These periods are positively harmful for all good business.

S.-Sun, Ms.-Mars, M.-Moon, V.-Venus, J.-Jupiter, My.-Mercury, St.-Saturn.

The Influence of the Hora Lords—The Sun portends danger to life; Venus favours marriage; Mercury foretells child-birth; the Moon gives well-being; Saturn signifies fetters; Jupiter bestows pecuniary gains; Mars shows battle.

THE SHAD-VIRGAS.

The six Virgas denoted by this name are:—Dhrekkanā, Hora, Thrimsamsa, Navamsa, Dhwadhasamsa and Kshethra.

Dhrekkanā—This is the name of a division of a sign divided into three equal parts of 10° each. In the case of Movable signs, the lord of the 1st Dhrekkanā of a sign is the lord of the sign itself; the lord of the 2nd Dhrekkanā is the lord of the 5th from that sign; the lord of the 3rd Dhrekkanā is the lord of the 9th from that sign. In the case of a Fixed sign, the lord of the 1st Dhrekkanā is the lord of the 9th sign from the one in question; the lord of the 2nd Dhrekkanā of the sign is the lord of the sign itself; the lord of the 3rd Dhrekkanā is the lord of the 5th from the sign. In the case of Common signs, the 1st Dhrekkanā is governed by the lord of the 5th from the sign in question; the 2nd Dhrekkanā is governed by the lord of the 9th from the sign; the 3rd Dhrekkanā, by the lord of the sign itself.

Hora—Hora is the name of one half of a sign—a sign divided into two equal parts of 15° each. In the case of odd signs, the 1st Hora is governed by the Sun; the 2nd, by the Moon. In the case of even signs, the 1st Hora is governed by the Moon and the 2nd by the Sun.

Thrimsamsa—Thrimsamsa is the name of a division of a sign divided into thirty equal parts of 1° each. In the case of odd signs, the first 5 degrees constitute the Thrimsamsas of Mars; the next 5, those of Saturn; the next 8, those of Jupiter; the next 7, those of Mercury; and the last 5, those of Venus. In the case of even signs, the first 5 degrees form the Thrimsamsas of Venus ; the next 7, those of Mercury ; the next 8, those of Jupiter ; the next 5 those of Saturn ; the last 5, those of Mars.

Navamsa—Navamsa is the name of a division of a sign divided into nine equal parts. In the case of a movable sign, the 1st Navamsa is governed by the lord of the sign itself ; the 2nd Navamsa, by the lord of the second from the sign, in question, and the third Navamsa by the lord of the third from the sign and so on. In the case of a fixed sign, the lord of the 1st Navamsa is the lord of the 9th house from that sign ; the lord of the 2nd Navamsa is the lord of the 10th house from that sign and so on. The lords of the 9 houses from the 9th house from the sign in question are, in their order, the lords of the Navamsas of a fixed sign. In the case of a Common sign, the lord of the 1st Navamsa is the lord of the 5th from the sign in question ; and the lords of the 2nd, 3rd and other Navamsas of that sign are the lords of the 2nd, 3rd and other houses from the said 5th house from the sign, in question. It will be seen from the foregoing rules that Thrikona or triangular signs (1) Aries, Leo and Sagittarius begin with the Navamsa of Aries ; (2) Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn begin with Capricorn ; (3) Gemini, Libra and Aquarius begin with Libra ; (4) Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces begin with Cancer. Each sign of the zodiac contains $2\frac{1}{4}$ asterisms or 9 stellar quarters (Nakshathra-Padhas). A Navamsa therefore represents a "Nakshathra-Padha" or $3\frac{1}{4}$ degrees of the zodiac.

Dwadhasamsa—This is the name of a division of a sign divided into twelve equal parts, the parts bearing the same names as those of the signs of the zodiac. The name of the 1st Dwadhasamsa of a sign is the name of the sign itself. The twelve "Dwadhasamsas" of Aries begin with Aries ; those of Taurus begin with Taurus and end with Aries ; those of Gemini begin with Gemini and end with Taurus, and so on.

Kshethra — Mars is the lord of Aries and Scorpio ; Venus is the lord of Taurus and Libra ; Mercury is the lord of Gemini and Virgo ; the Moon is the lord of Cancer ; the Sun is the lord of Leo ; Jupiter is the lord of Sagittarius and Pisces ; Saturn is the lord of Capricorn and Aquarius.

*Note:—*These six modes of the divisions of the ecliptic are collectively known by the term “Shadvirga.” The suffix “Amsa” means a division of the ecliptic. The word Virga denotes the position of the planet in each division. The suffix “Virga” in the word Shadvirga is but a synonym for “Amsa”. A planet has ten Virgas. It may be (1) a powerful planet, (2) in exaltation, (3) in Mula-thrikona, (4) in its own house, (5) in a quadrant (6) in a trine, (7) in good Amsa. (8) in friendly house, (9) in its own Navamsa and (10) in its Athimithramsa. Some writers recommend four more divisions of the ecliptic making, in all, ten Virgas or Amsas. There are, besides, Sapthamamsa, Dhasamsa, Shodasamsa and Shashtyamsa. These modes of dividing the ecliptic constitute “Dhasa-virga.” A description of these four Amsas may not be out of place. Sapthamamsa is the name of a division of a sign into seven parts of $4\frac{2}{7}$ degrees each. It is a division of the ecliptic into 84 Amsas. The lords of the seven parts of the odd signs are respectively the lords of the seven signs of the zodiac from the odd sign and the lords of the seven parts of the even signs are respectively the lords of the seven signs of the zodiac beginning from the 7th sign from the even sign. Dhasamsa is the name of a division of a sign of the zodiac divided into ten equal parts of 3 degrees each, thus dividing the ecliptic into 120 Amsas. The lords of the ten parts of the odd signs are respectively the lords of the ten signs of the zodiac commencing from the odd sign and the lords of the ten parts of the even signs are respectively the lords of the ten signs commencing from the 10th sign from the even sign. Shodasamsa is the name of the division of a sign of the ecliptic into sixteen equal parts. This divides the ecliptic into 192 Amsas. The lords of the 16 parts of the odd signs are respectively the lords of the 12 signs commencing from the odd sign together with Bramha, Vishnu, Rudhra and Surya. The lords of the 16 parts of the even signs are the lords of the 12 signs commencing from the even sign together with Surya, Rudhra, Vishnu and Bramha. Shashtyamsa is the name of the division of a sign into sixty equal parts, thus dividing the ecliptic into 720 Amsas. The sixty equal divisions of the odd signs are:—

Kshethra is the horoscope at birth from which everything is judged. It is also called the Radical or the Rasi Chakra.

- (1) Ghora, (2) Rakshasa, (3) Deva, (4) Kubhera, (5) Rakshogana, (6) Kinnara, (7) Bhrashta, (8) Kulaghna, (9) Garaala, (10) Agni, (11) Maka, (12) Prethupureesa, (13) Apampathi, (14) Devaganesa, (15) Kala, (16) Ahi, (17) Amirtamsa, (18) Chandra, (19) Mridu, (20) Kamala, (21) Padma, (22) Lakshmi, (23) Vageesa, (24) Dhigambara, (25) Dheva, (26) Ardhra, (27) Kalinasa, (28) Kshitheswara, (29) Kamalakara, (30) Mandathmaja, (31) Mrithyu, (32) Kala, (33) Devagni, (34) Ghora, (35) Amaya, (36) Kantaka, (37) Sudha, (38) Amritha, (39) Poorna-chandra, (40) Vishapradigdha, (41) Kalinasa, (42) Mukya, (43) Vamsakshya, (44) Utpathaka, (45) Kalarupa, (46) Soumya, (47) Mridu, (48) Suseethala, (49) Damsh-trakarala, (50) Indumukha, (51) Praveena, (52) Kalagni, (53) Dhandayudha, (54) Nirmala, (55) Subha, (56) Asubha, (57) Athiseethala, (58) Sudha, (59) Payodibramha and (60) Indureka. The names of the sixty parts of the even signs are the same beginning from Indureka in the inverse order. A planet that occupies his own sign in the Hora, Dhrekkana, Navamsa, Dwadhasama, Thrimsamsa and other figures is said to be in his Virga. A planet that has two Virgas, of the ten above described, viz, powerful, exalted etc., is said to be in Parijthamsa; when it has 3 Virgas, Uthamamsa; when it has 4 Gopuramsa; when it has 5, Simhasanamsa; when it has 6, Paravathamsa; when it has 7, Devalokamsa; when it has 8, Kunkumamsa; when it has 9, Airavathamsa; when it has 10, Vaiseshikamsa.

The houses of malefics in the Shad-Virgas described above should be rejected.

Benefics Jupiter, Venus, waxing Moon and Mercury, not accompanied by malefics, are benefic planets. The other planets are malefics.

No marriage, Upanayana or other celebrations should be started when Jupiter or Venus is in debility, or in inimical sign or when they are combust, young or old. Jupiter and Venus in retrograde, or, located opposite to each other, produce a more adverse Yoga than when they are in combustion.

The following periods are unfavourable, and nothing of importance should be started during those periods:—The last two Ghatikas of an asterism, the last three days of the month, the last fortnight of the year, a fortnight prior to the disappearance of Jupiter (Vridha Jupiter) 10 days prior to the disappearance of Venus (Vridha Venus), 10 days after the reappearance of Venus (Bala Venus), 8 days after the reappearance of Jupiter (Bala Jupiter), when the Moon is Vridha, i.e., between Navami and New-Moon the seven days of the dark fortnight; when the Moon is Bala, i.e., the Prathamai day of the bright fortnight.

A marriage, celebrated during these forbidden periods will prove unhappy; journey undertaken is likely to prove unsafe; tonsure for the child tends to cut short its life; installation of a deity produces consternation; Upanayana affects the longevity of the individual; performance of sacrifice kills the Yajaman (performer); while the installation of a king subjects him to persecution by his enemies.

Chara Karanas.—There are seven movable Karanas, Viz, Bavam, (lion) Palavam, (tiger) Kowlavam, (hog) Thaitthulam, (ass) Karajam, (elephant) Vanijam (bullock) and Vishti or Badhrai (hen). Beginning with the second half of the Prathamai of the bright fortnight, these Karanas rule in succession the Thithis, completing eight circuits ending the first half of the Chathurdhasi of the dark fortnight. It follows, therefore, that each Karana rules one half of a Thithi. In this circuit, Vishti Karana governs, in its turn, the second half of Chathurthi, the first half of Ashtami, the second half of Ekadhasi of the bright fortnight and the first half of the Full-Moon, the second halves of Thrithiyai and Dhasami and the first halves of Sapthami and Chathurdhasi of the dark fortnight.

Sthira Karanas—The four Sthira (fixed) Karanas, Viz, Sakunam (bird), Chathushpadham (dog), Nagam (snake), Kimsthughnam (worm), respectively govern the latter half of Chathurdhasi, the first half, and the second half of the New-Moon and the first half of the Prathamai of the bright fortnight. These Karanas, as also the Vishti Karana, described above, are adverse periods to all good work and nothing of importance should be started on those days. They are, however, favourable to projects of a malicious nature.

Paksha Chidhra—Chathurthi, Shashti, Ashtami, Navami, Dhwadhasi and Chathurdhasi—these Thithis are “Paksha-chidhra”.

Nandhai—Prathamai, Shashti and Ekadhasi Thithis are collectively known as Nandhai.

Badhrai—This is the collective name for Dhwithiyai, Sapthami, and Dhwadhasi.

Jayai—Thrithiyai, Ashtami and Thrayodhasi Thithis are denoted by the term Jayai.

Rikthai—This comprises the three Thithis. Chathurthi, Navami and Chathurdhasi.

Poornai—This term signifies Panchami, Dhasami New-Moon and Full-Moon. Paksha-chidhra and Rikthai, should be avoided.

Oordhwa Mukha Asterisms—Pushya, Utharapalguni, Utharashada, Utharabhadrapadha, Sravana, Sravishta, Sathabis, Rohini and Ardhra—these are asterisms with faces “upturned”.

Thiryag-Mukha Asterisms—Aswini, Mrigasirsha, Hastha, Chithra, Swathi, Anuradha, Jyestha, Punarvasu and Revathi—these are asterisms “Crss-faced”.

Atho-Mukha Asterisms—Bharani, Krithika, Aslesha, Magha, Purvapalguni, Visakha, Mula. Purvashada and Purvabhadrapadha—these are asterisms with faces “down-cast”. These should be avoided.

Oordhwa-Mukha Rasis—A sign that has just been vacated by the Sun is known as Oordhwa-Mukha Rasi.

Athomukha Rasi—A sign occupied by the Sun is Athomukha Rasi.

Thiryag-Mukha Rasis.—A sign next to that occupied by the Sun is Thiryag-Mukha Rasi.

Sirodhaya Rasis.—These are Gemini, Scorpio, Leo, Virgo, Aquarius and Libra—signs that rise on their head.

Prishtodhaya Rasis.—Aries, Taurus, Sagittarius, Capricorn and Cancer—signs that rise on their feet.

The Sirodhaya and Prishtodhaya Rasis. Sign Pisces is at once a Sirodhaya and Prishtodhaya Rasi.

Prishtodhaya Rasis are considered inauspicious.

Days ruled by three asterisms or three Thithis have no influence for good; on the other hand, any affair started on such days prove too disastrous to be remedied.

This sign is of the shape of two fish lying side by side, the head of the one being close to the tail of the other.

Nothing important should be started in a village where the installation of a Deity and festivities connected therewith are celebrated.

In each household only one function or affair should be started at any auspicious moment on a single day. Two or three commenced at the same time tend to result in failure.

Mridhabam.—The asterism ruled by the Sun, the one next to it and the one prior to it—these three asterisms are signified by the term “Mridhabam” (lifeless). The seven asterisms next to these are half alive; the next one is again “Mridhabam”; the next eight asterisms are full of life; then follows a “Mridhabam”; the next seven are half alive. Of these asterisms the “Mridhabam” is thoroughly inauspicious for all good purposes.

Stellar Thyajyam. This is an interval of 4 Ghatikas in the duration of an asterism. Thyajyam for ast. Aswini occurs after the 50th Ghatika of its duration; for Bharani, after the 24th Ghatika; for Krithika after 30 Ghatikas; for Rohini, after 40; for Mrigasirsha, after 14; for Ardhra, after 21; for Punarvasu, after 30; for Pushya, after 20; for Aslesha, after 32; for Magha, after 30; for Purvapalguni, after 20; for Utharapalguni, after 18; for Hastha, after 21; for Chithra after 20; for Swathi, after 14; for Visakha, after 14; for Anuradha, after 10; for Jyeshtha, after 14; for Mula, after 20; for Purvashada, after 24; for Utharashada after 20; for Sravana, after 10; for Sravishta, after 10; for Sathabis, after 18; for Purvabhadrapadha, after 6; for Utharabhadrapadha, after 24; for Revathi, after 30.

Mula has two Thyajya periods, according to some astrologers, the one after the 20th Ghatika and the other after the 56th Ghatika of its duration.

Thyajyam for the Days of the Week.—Sunday, 30 Ghatikas after sunrise; Monday, 42; Tuesday, 41; Wednesday, 31; Thursday, 2; Friday, 22; Saturday, 20 Ghatikas after sunrise.

Thithi Thyajyam.—Thyajyam for the 15 Thithis, between the New-Moon and the Full-Moon, (from Prathamai of the bright fortnight) occurs after 24, 12, 55, 5, 54, 5, 34, 10, 21, 7, 29, 6, 13, 21 and 35 Ghatikas, respectively

Rasi Thyajyam.—The 1st Navamsa of Aries, Taurus, Virgo and Sagittarius, the 5th (middle) Navamsa of Gemini, Leo, Libra and Aquarius and the 9th (last) Navamsa of Cancer, Scorpio, Capricorn and Pisces are afflicted by Thyajyam. "Vishanadi" is another name for Thyajyam. Vishanadi of the 1st Navamsa is Bhiyangam; that of the 5th Navamsa is Gridhram; that of the 9th Navamsa is Varaham.

The influence of Thyajyam, in the first Navamsa, as per foregoing rule, prevails only on Wednesday and Saturday; that in the 5th or middle Navamsa, on Monday and Friday; that in the 9th or last Navamsa, on Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday; the Thyajyam need be considered only on the days specified; it signifies no evil on other days.

The 4 Ghatikas of Vishanadi are inauspicious. The 1st Ghatika brings ruin; the 2nd adversely affects the life of the individual; the 3rd causes total ruin; the 4th hurts the prosperity of the family.

Athimasam.—This occurs every 2 solar (Soura) years 8 months 16 days 3 Ghatikas and 55 V. Ghatikas. (A Solar year consists of 365.242264 days. Athimasam is an intercalary month formed of the aggregate days omitted in reckoning the lunar month.) Athimasam in which two New-Moons occur is not a fortunate month.

Samahatham.—The 7th and the 9th asterisms from that governed by Jupiter the 10th and the 15th from that governed by Venus, the 10th 11th, 20th and 6th asterisms from that governed by Saturn are known by the term Samahatham—inauspicious for all happy functions.

* Ulkai.—This, denotes the 10th asterism from the one governed by the Sun.

Bramha Dhandam.—This denotes the 15th asterism from the one governed by the Sun.

Dhwajam.—This term denotes the 21st asterism from the one governed by the Sun.

Parigham.—The 5th, 7th, 16th, 24th, and 25th asterisms from the one occupied by Mars are called Parigham.

Apasatham.—The 9th asterism from the one occupied by Jupiter is called Apasatham.

Soolam.—This term denotes the 8th asterism from the one governed by the Sun.

* Asani.—This denotes the 10th asterism from that governed by the Sun.

Nirhatham.—This denotes the 14th asterism from that governed by the Sun.

The above asterisms Bhookampam, Ulkai etc are inauspicious for good functions when ruled by the Moon.

The Five Adverse Elements connected with the Sun.—Dhooman, Vyatheepatham, Parivesham, Indhradhanus and Dhoomakethu are five satellites attendant upon, and revolving round, the Sun ; they impede all success in good undertakings and exercise a baneful influence on the learning, reputation and life of the individual.

The satellite Dhooman is 4 signs and thirteen degrees from the Sun, longitudinally ; Vyatheepatham, 3 signs and 15 degrees ; Parivesham, 9 signs and 15 degrees ; Indhradhanus, 10 signs and 13 degrees ; Dhoomakethu, 11 signs.

There are twenty one adverse elements which should be avoided in the selection of a fortunate time for starting anything important and involving profit, progress or pleasure. These, according to Naradha, are :—

(1) A Thithi, a day, an asterism, a Yoga, and a Karana, marked inauspicious.

(2) The rising sign and the 7th house therefrom being adversely affected.

(3) Surya Sankaranthi i.e., the entry of the Sun into the first point of a sign of the zodiac.

(4) Malefics, strong in the Shad-Virgas.

(7) Gandantham.

(8) Karthari.

(9) The Moon in the 6th, 8th or 12th house.

(10) An asterism governed by a planet.

(13) Dur-Muhoortham. (A time chosen for the execution of a malicious deed.)

(18) An asterism ruled by two malefics.

(19) Ku-navamsa ; that is, the Navamsa of a malefic.

(20) Mahapatham (Vyatheepatham).

Avoid the ten asterisms from the ruling asterism on the day of the Sun's entry into asterism Ardhra for those asterisms counteract all prospects of gain or happiness.

Sayana and Uthana Ekadhasi—The period between Sayana and Uthana Ekadhasis, i.e., the period between the Ekadhasi of the bright fortnight of the month of Jyeshtha and the Ekadhasi of the bright fortnight of the month of Aswayuja is inauspicious.

Untimely rain, wind, fog, dust-storm are bad omens, and the days of their untimely occurrence portend evil. The day during which the Sun is not visible is also adverse.

Parivesha—The halo round the Sun or the Moon is a phenomenon that signifies an unfortunate time when nothing calculated to bring profit or happiness should be begun.

Kuhoo—This occurs when the Jenma-Nakshathra, the 10th or the 19th asterism, therefrom, synchronises with New-Moon the ending moments of which coincide with Thyajyam. Kuhoo signifies an evil Yoga, to counteract the effects of which the prescribed Hōmas and prayers should be gone through prior to other functions.

These are the adverse forces in nature and a wise man should reject the moments when they prevail.

NEUTRALIZATION OF ADVERSE YOGAS.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

I proceed to delineate the stellar and planetary combinations that counteract the exterminative *Yogas detailed in the preceding chapter:—

* The astrological terms used in this Chapter are explained in Chapter 33.

Against Adverse Asterisms—The Moon well-placed in the 9th or 10th house, aspected to benefics, counteracts the evil effects caused by Jenma-Nakshathra and the 3rd, 5th, 7th, 10th and 19th asterisms therefrom.

The Sun, Jupiter or Venus, located in the 3rd, 6th, 10th or 11th house, or, the Moon in the 5th, 9th, 1st, 4th, 7th, 10th, 3rd, 6th or 11th house—this planetary condition has the same remedial effect on the adverse qualities of the asterisms mentioned above.

The moon favourably situated to the rising sign or to Jenma-Rasi holding, at the same time, her own Navamsa or her friend's, aspected to benefics, has a similar influence.

The Sun and the Moon located in the 3rd, 6th or 11th place from each other, aspected to benefics, produce the same effect if the Moon and Venus be well-dignified.

If the lord of the rising sign and that of the 10th house be friends, the adverse effects produced by the 88th stellar quarter (in the 22nd asterism) from that of the Jenma-Nakshathra, will vanish.

The 27th asterism from the Jenma-Nakshathra is auspicious for all functions except Shaving, Upanayana, Marriage, Anniversary, Journey, and Laying the foundation of a building.

The 27th asterism does not adversely affect the following functions:—Ornamentation, mounting a horse, harvest, the in-gathering of corns, installation of a deity, medical treatment, dinner of new grains, dinner and garden parties, Seemantham, worship of Vishnu, entry into a land, starting of agricultural operations, sowing ablutions.

The latter half of the 27th asterism should however be avoided, especially the last quarter of it.

Chandrashtama—Chandrashtama is of six kinds, namely, Suddham, Sobhanam, Siddham, Kaivartham, Amalam and Kshayam. Three of these produce good.

If the asterism ruled by the Moon at the time be the 5th in the second Pariyaya, it is Suddham. This portends evil; if the said asterism be the 6th, it is Sobhanam, causer of good; if it be the 7th, it is Kaivartham, an unfavourable Yoga; if it be the 8th, it is Amalam—a Yoga that counteracts all evil effects; if it be the 9th, it is Siddham that foretells success; if the asterism ruled by the Moon during Chandrashtama belong to the third Pariyaya, it is known as Kshayam which portends evil.

Chandrashtama shows no evil when the Moon is on the increase, well-placed in a benefic sign and holding a benefic Navamsa.

If the lords of the Jenma-Rasi and the 8th sign therefrom be friends, Chandrashtama loses all power for evil.

Influence of malefics—All evil effects produced by (1) an asterism governed by a malefic, (2) an asterism prior to the one governed by a malefic, (3) an asterism next to the one governed by a malefic, and (4) Gulika vanish when the malefics are aspected by powerful Jupiter, Venus or Mercury.

The aspect of, or, association with, Venus converts all evil into good.

An asterism (1) governed by Jupiter, (2) the one prior to it, and (3) that next to it does good,

Gulika—When the lord of the day is well-dignified or is posited in the rising sign, the adverse qualities of Gulika need not be considered.

Gulika located in the rising sign produces no harm, when powerful Moon occupies the rising sign holding the Navamsa of a benefic or that of the lord of the day in question.

Jupiter or Venus, stationed in the Lagna, aspected to benefics, nullify the evil effects of Gulika, Ardhaprahara, Bhujanga and Gridhra.

The favourable functions for Gulika—Harvest, the ingathering of corns, oil-bath, buying and selling (trade), making eyes on the image of a Deity, deathday anniversary, ornamentation, liquidation of debt, worship of fire, opening ceremony, perfuming oneself, medical treatment, seating oneself on an elephant or a horse, initiation, installation, worship of fire in black magic, gift of lands, the study of the Vedas—in respect of all these functions Gulika has no evil force. It is a benefic.

Ekargala.—Benefics in quadrants or trines and malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses destroy the adverse effects of Ekargala. This “bad” Yoga does not touch the following asterisms:—Aswini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Pushya, Sravishta, Chithra, Hastha and Revathi.

‡ Soolam.—The evil effects of Soolam, Athimasam, (intercalary month) Ekargala and blind asterisms prevail only in that part of the country north of the river Sone.

Aseevisham.—The following asterisms are free from this evil Yoga:—Rohini, Sravana, Hastha, Mrigasirsha, Anuradha, Pushya and Uthara-palguni-ashada-badhra-padha. Marriage, Conception, Pumsavanam and Seemantham are likewise unaffected by this Yoga.

The Moon holding the Navamsa of Jupiter and aspected by him kills the effects of this Yoga as the lion kills the elephant.

Waxing Moon located in the Navamsa of a friendly sign has the same effect, according to Naradha. Located in the Navamsa of Mercury she has a similar influence.

Even if the lord of the day be a malefic, he produces good when located in the rising sign, the 6th, 11th or 12th house.

Tuesday is not 'evil' after mid-day.

The adverse qualities of Vishti, Vyatheepatham and Vaidhrithi, Janma-Nakshathra and the 5th asterism therefrom do not prevail after midday.

Even if the lord of the rising Navamsa be a malefic, its evil effects diminish when benefics are powerful in the rising sign, in quadrants or in trines.

The adverse effects of Sunday, Tuesday and Saturday do not prevail after nightfall.

No day of the week is "bad", provided the lord thereof is strong in the figure of the heavens.

Benefics placed in quadrants dispel the evil effects of Rikthai and Vishti; if the trines be powerful they possess the same influence.

All evil influences disperse when benefics located in the rising sign and holding a benefic Navamsa are associated with and aspected by benefics on an auspicious day.

Jupiter or Venus well-dignified in a quadrant radically frustrates the evil effects of Vishti. Gulika in the rising sign, Shashti, Ashtami and the last days of the dark fortnight produce no harm when Jupiter is posited in quadrant.

Paksha-Chidhra.—The Moon occupying the rising sign and holding "Virgothama" position with Jupiter in ‡ Simhasanamsha subdues the evil effects of Paksha-Chidhra.

Jupiter or Venus occupying the rising sign or aspecting it counteracts the effects of an inauspicious Thithi, day, asterism or rising sign.

Shadaseethimukha etc.—Jupiter or Venus powerfully located in the rising sign dispel the evil effects of Shadaseethimukha, Sakatam and Asani.

The Moon in exaltation and in her own Navamsa has the same effect on Shadaseethimukha.

Sakata Yoga—The Moon in her own house, in exaltation or in the house of Jupiter dispels the evil effects of Sakata Yoga as the Sun does darkness.

The Moon in the house of Mercury or Jupiter, in Taurus or in Cancer, annihilates the effects of Sakata Yoga as Vishnu did the hordes of Asuras.

Soonyam—If the lord of the rising sign be placed in his own house, in conjunction with or aspected by Jupiter, or, if the ruling asterism be governed by Jupiter, the effects of Soonyam vanish.

Benefics located in their strength, in quadrants or trines produce the same result.

Kantakam—A planet in his own Virga or in exaltation, aspected to a benefic, is not affected by Kantakam.

A planet well-placed in his own Virga or in exaltation and aspected to a benefic produces no harm.

Andham—(blindness) If the 3rd, 6th, 10th or the 11th house from the rising sign be the house of Mercury, and if the Moon be placed in the 9th or 10th aspected to a benefic, the evil effects of Andham do not exist.

Mookham, Andham & Badhiram—Powerful Moon, Venus, Mercury and Jupiter holding the 4th, 7th or 10th house overthrow the effects of Mookham (Dumb asterisms), Andham (Blind asterisms) and Badhiram (Deaf asterisms).

The Moon in the 9th, 4th or 10th house, or, the location of benefics in the rising sign or the aspect of benefics to the rising sign has the same effect on Andham (blindness).

The bad influences connected with Panku (lameness) and Andham (blindness) Kana n (one-eyed) and Soonya-Masa prevail only in the provinces of Magadha and Gouda.

An asterism ruled by a malefic and the one on either side of it become sanctified if the malefic has the aspect of Jupiter.

Venus and the Moon in the 10th, and Jupiter (not in combustion) in a quadrant purify a sign afflicted by malefics.

The Moon aspected by Jupiter in his exaltation, occupying his own Navamsa, converts into a benefic an asterism governed by malefics or just passed over by them.

Malefics become agreeable by the aspect of benefics, as boiling water becomes agreeable to drink by contact with cold.

Thyajyam.—The following asterisms have no Thyajyam:—Ardhra, Sravana, Mrigasirsha, Swathi, Utharashada, Rohini and Anuradha.

A rising sign affected by Thyajyam becomes auspicious if the Moon be located in it, well-dignified, or, if Jupiter be stationed in a quadrant.

The Moon located in the 9th or 10th house aspected to Jupiter transcends Thyajyam.

Waxing Moon in exaltation or in her own Navamsa sweeps off the evil effects of Thyajyam as Garuda does the serpent. Waxing Moon in the rising sign or in "Simhasanamsa" has the same influence.

A sign occupied or aspected by a benefic subdues the effect of Thyajyam.

A sign coinciding with Thyajyam at the ending moments of its (sign's) duration should be rejected, if not aspected by a benefic. If, however, there be a benefic in the sign, there will be no Thyajyam.

Jupiter in exaltation and holding his own Navamsa remedies the effects of Thyajyam coinciding with the rising sign.

Kuhoo—This adverse Yoga does not touch the following asterisms:—Aswini, Krithika, Ardhra, Chithra, Pushya, Utharapalguni and Revathi.

Pradhosham—The evil influence of Pradhosham disappears when Venus and Jupiter are strong in quadrants or trines with the Moon in the 3rd, 6th or 11th house; nor does it affect Gurukkals, servants, Vaishnavites, mystics, ascetics, donors of lighted lamps, dancing girls, lyrists and dancers, in their worship of Vishnu.

Gandantham—This "evil" Yoga is nullified by the location of the Moon in her Virga, in a friendly sign, in conjunction with or aspected by benefics.

Athimasam, Samsarpam, Amhaspathy—The Sun in exaltation, or in a friendly sign, with Jupiter in his own Virga, converts these evil Yogas into benefics.

Masadhosham—The evil effects of this vanish when the Sun is in his own Navamsa aspected by benefics, as Rakshasas in the sight of Sri Rama.

Samsarpam—This does not affect marriage, Upanayanam and other functions when brilliant Jupiter occupies his own sign or sign of exaltation (Cancer).

Long and Short Months—The adverse influence of these need not be considered and any function may be started if any planet be in exaltation at the time.

Concerning the First-born—The Sun in Gemini, in conjunction with or aspected by benefics, presents a very good time even for affairs started in respect to the first-born child. Jyeshtha is not an unlucky month if the Sun be aspected by Venus and Jupiter.

A General Rule—Any function may be started in the month of one's birth, if the lord of the rising sign in the Radical and the lord of the month, in question, are placed in a friendly sign aspected to benefics.

Moudyam—(Frustration) If one of the two planets (Venus and Jupiter) be well-placed in her or his own house, in exaltation or in friendly sign, Moudyam causes no harm.

Asthangatha—Venus in combustion produces no harm when the other planet Jupiter holds the rising sign with malefics in the 3rd, 6th and 11th houses—according to Lord Paramasiva.

Venus located in the rising sign counteracts the evil influence of Jupiter when combust. When both Jupiter and Venus are combust there is no remedy for the evil influence. Asthangatha adversely affects only Brahmanas, Kshatriyas and Vaisyas. The Sudras will be affected only if both Jupiter and Venus be combust.

Samadhrishti—The adverse effects of "Samadhrishti" are nullified by the location of Venus in the Navamsa prior, or next to that held by Jupiter. "Samadhrishti" exists only when Venus and Jupiter are aspected to each other from opposite signs unaccompanied by any other planet. If such aspect takes place when one of the two planets, Jupiter and Venus, occupies Sagittarius, Pisces or Cancer, it would be a Moudyam (frustration) the evil effects of which will last for three days; otherwise, it will continue for seven days. It prevails only north of the Narbada and not south of that river. It cuts off all hopes.

Vara and Nakshathra Yogas are considered important in the province of Bengal ; in the Yamala country importance is attached to Thithi and Vara Yogas ; in Kalinga, Amsa Yoga ; in Avanthi, Vishkamba and other Yogas are observed.

Siddha Yoga destroys a hundred adverse influences ; three hundred are done away with by Amirtha Yoga ; while Sutha Yoga kills a thousand—according to Sukracharya.

Venus, well-placed in the rising sign, suppresses a thousand evil influences ; Mercury, a hundred ; Jupiter, many thousands.

Comparative Strength:—The influences and effects of Lagna, asterism, day and Thithi rank in importance in the order in which they are mentioned.

Remedial Forces:—Jupiter or Venus well-dignified in the risign sign subdue all harmful forces.

Jupiter or Venus, well-placed in the rising sign or aspecting it, has a marked influence on the adverse effects of a Lagna and the Shad-virgas of a malefic planet, or of an inauspicious day or Thithi.

The adverse elements in the Shad-virgas (Rasi, Hora, Dhrekkana, Navamsa, Dhwadhasamsa and Thrimsamsa figures, disperse like clouds before a storm when powerful Jupiter occupies the rising(sign).

Juptiter, Venus or Mercury, stationed in quadrants or trines, annihilates all malevolent influences as Vishnu does the sins of those who meditate upon Him.

Jupiter, Venus or Mercury holding a quadrant comes down upon all evil forces like a lion upon the herd of elephants

Jupiter located well-dignified in a quadrant counteracts the evil effects due to (1) the ending days of a year, (2) a half-year (Ayana) (3) a season (Ruthu) (4) a month (5) a Paksha (fortnight) (6) Lagna (Rising sign), (7) a bad time, (8) an evil omen (9) the influence of a planet unfavourably located.

Jupiter, Venus or Mercury governing the rising sign converts all evil into good. If they powerfully occupy the rising sign, a trine or a quadrant, they do away with all impediments as effectively as Jupiter.

The adverseness due to the aspect of a malefic planet is emptied of its force like river in summer, if the rising sign be in Virgothama position.

The Moon occupying the eleventh place from the rising sign dispels all evils pertaining to an inauspicious time and to Navamsas of malefics.

The Sun placed in the 11th house from the rising sign during day and the Moon during night, are powerful remedial forces, according to Sage Garga.

The Sun or the Moon in the 11th house sanctifies all Thithis, asterisms, Yogas etc.

COMBINATIONS FOR POWERFUL YOGAS.

Sunday ruled by asterism Revathi, Utharapalguni, Bharani, Mula, Sravana or Utharashada produces a Yoga that controls all evil forces even as Lord Paramasiva does the deadly poison of the Hindu Puranas.

Saturday ruled by Krithika, Rohini, Swathi and Sathabis has the same effect.

Yogas formed by combination of Thithis, Asts & days of the Week—All Thithis except Rikthai coinciding with the aforesaid Yogas produce good—a favourable time for all happy functions.

Nasa yoga (fatal)—Sunday coinciding with Thrithiyai, Chathurthi, Ashtami, Navami, Thrayodhasi and Chathurdasi and with asterisms Bharani, Mrigasirsha, Aslesha, Visakha, Anuradha, Jyeshtha or Sravishta produces this Yoga.

Visha yoga—Sunday coinciding with Panchami and with asterism Krithika produces Visha Yoga.

Siddha yoga—Monday coinciding with Dhwithiyai, Sapthami or Dhwadhasi and with asterisms Rohini, Mrigasirsha, Punarvasu, Chithra, Sravana, Sathabis, Sravishta or Purvabadhrapadha, forms this benefic Yoga.

General. Sunday ruled by Aswini, Monday by Chithra, Tuesday by Utharashada, Wednesday by Sravishta, Thursday by Utharapalguni, Friday by Jyesta and Saturday by Revathi are all unfavourable days—no good time for starting any important function or affair. Marriage will result in widowhood; journey will be attended with risk of life; education will deprive the student of the power of speech; and agricultural work will have little prospect.

Bad Combinations of Thithis and Asterisms.—Anuradha coinciding with Dhwithiyai, Oothara-palguni-ashada-badhrapadha, with Thrithiyai, Magha and Hastha with Panchami, Chithra and Swathi with Thrayodhasi, and Rohini with Ashtami form very unlucky Yogas. Nothing that is of importance to one's happiness or profit should be commenced at such times. The evil effect will manifest itself in ten months.

Bad Combinations of days, Thithis and Asterisms.—Sunday Panchami and Krithika; Friday, Shashti and Sravana; Wednesday, Sapthami and Bharani; Saturday, Ashtami and Revathi, Monday, Dhwithiyai and Chithra; Tuesday, Full-Moon and Rohini; Thursday, Thrayodhasi and Anuradha—these combinations are Visha Yogas as fatal as cobra's poison.

Mruthyu yoga.—Sunday ruled by asterism Visakha, Monday by Purvashada, Tuesday by Sravishta, Wednesday by Anuradha, Thursday by Mrigasirsha, Friday by Swathi and Rohini and Saturday by Sravana form Mruthyu Yoga which shows disaster.

Dhugtha yoga.—This is also an unfortunate Yoga formed by the combination of Thithi and day:—Wednesday and Dhwithiyai; Thursday and Shashti; Friday and Ashtami; Saturday and Navami; Sunday and Full-Moon or Dhwadhasi; Monday and Ekadhasi; Tuesday and Panchami.

Nasa yoga.—This is another harmful Yoga, as the name itself indicates, formed by the combination of days and asterisms. Pushya and Friday; Revathi and Saturday; Visakha and Sunday; Krithika and Monday; Mrigasirsha and Tuesday; Sravishta and Wednesday; Utharapalguni and Thursday.

Visha yoga.—This Yoga which is the combination of a Thithi and a day of the week proves detrimental to all undertakings:—Shashti and Monday; Dhwithiyai and Tuesday; Saphthami and Wednesday; Ashtami and Thursday; Navami and Friday.

Siddha yoga.—The following combinations produce a fortunate Yoga:—*Nandhai and Friday; Badhrai and Wednesday; Jayai and Tuesday; Rikthai and Saturday; Poornai and Thursday; asterism Hastha and Sunday; Mrigasirsha and Monday; Aswini and Tuesday; Anuradha and Wednesday; Pushya and Thursday; Revathi and Friday; Rohini and Saturday.

* For explanation of Nandhai, Badhrai, Jayai, Rikthai etc. See Chapter 33.

An auspicious day, an auspicious Thithi, and an auspicious asterism make Nithya Yoga.

THE TRANSIT SYSTEM.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

Note—The Transit System or Lunar Horoscope is based on the theory that the motions of planets from moment to moment signify good or evil. While the physical and mental qualities and the chief events in the life and career of the individual could be predicted from the configuration of the planets at the moment of the nativity and the sign of the zodiac under which the child comes into the world, the modifications and changes in the prospect due to the perennial movements of the planets are determined by the Transit System of astrology. Given the sign occupied by the Moon at the actual moment of birth and the configuration of the planets for any required time, which may be the moment of propounding a question for astrological foresight, the astrologer will be able to describe the effects of the changes in the positions and movements of the stars and planets on individual life for any period required.

The Sun—The location of the Sun (at any given time) in the Jenma-Rasi (sign occupied by the Moon at birth) signifies change of place; in the 2nd house, he bestows wealth; in the 3rd, he denotes success; in the 4th, portends dishonor; in the 5th, he shows sorrow; in the 6th, he causes ruin of enemies; in the 7th, favours travel; in the 8th, he manifests affliction; in the 9th, he breeds hatred; in the 10th, he gives gains of labour; in the 11th, he brings pecuniary gains; in the 12th, pecuniary loss.

The Moon—The Moon in the 12 houses from the Jenma-Rasi signifies respectively (1) good eating, (2) loss of wealth, (3) gain of money, (4) stomach complaint, (5) spoiling of business, (6) pecuniary gain, (7) friendship with women, (8) trouble, (9) intimidation, (10) well-being, (11) pecuniary gain, (12) loss.

Mars—Mars in the 12 houses indicates, respectively, (1) trouble by enemies, (2) loss of property, (3) pecuniary gain, (4) reconciliation with foes, (5) loss of money, (6) wealth, (7) fatigue, (8) danger to life, (9) indisposition, (10) sorrow, (11) acquisition of lands, (12) disease.

Mercury—Mercury in the 12 houses shows, respectively, (1) servitude, (2) pecuniary gain, (3) fortune, (4) progress, (5) well-being, (6) stability, (7) illness, (8) wealth, (9) disease, (10) comfort, (11) profit, (12) expenditure.

Jupiter—Jupiter in the 12 houses denotes, respectively (1) fear, (2) reward, (3) indisposition, (4) loss of wealth, (5) happiness, (6) grief, (7) fortune, (8) dissatisfaction, (9) wealth, (10) risk of losing place or position, (11) stability, (12) affliction.

Venus—Venus in the twelve houses gives respectively (1) pleasure, (2) pecuniary gain, (3) happiness, (4) pecuniary gain, (5) happiness, (6) fear of enemies, (7) grief, (8) money, (9) clothes, (10) indisposition, (11) profit, (12) money.

Saturn—Saturn in the 12 houses denotes respectively, (1) loss of money, (2) sorrow, (3) gain, (4) waste of money, (5) grief, (6) property, (7) mental affliction, (8) physical affliction, (9) loss of money, (10) mental pain, (11) pecuniary gain, (12) pecuniary want.

Rahu & Kethu—The delineations of the influence of Rahu and Kethu in the twelve signs from Jenma-Rasi are the same as those for Mars. Saturn, the Sun, Mars and Jupiter in the Jenma-Rasi and in the 8th or 12th place therefrom, portend fear of death, change or loss of position and decline of wealth.

Exception—A planet stationed in its own sign or in its sign of exaltation, in the horoscope at birth, manifests nothing unfavourable even if its position with reference to Jenma-Rasi may indicate adverseness.

b. A planet placed in its inimical sign or in its sign of debilitation at birth shows no good—even if its position with reference to Jenma-Rasi may denote something happy.

The Sun and Mars manifest their influences on their entrance into a sign; Jupiter and Venus, in the middle part of their period; Saturn and Rahu, towards the end; and Mercury and the Moon, in the course of their career.

The planets except Jupiter manifest the effect of the sign in which they are located, whether by acceleration or by retrogression. Jupiter, however, is the only planet that produces the effect of the sign prior to the one occupied by him by acceleration or retrogression as the case may be.

A planet located in his own house, in his own Virga, in exaltation, in Virgothama position and in retrogression possesses three-fold strength. Asthangatha planets and those in debilitation put forth only half their power and those in inimical signs exhibit but two-thirds of theirs.

Planetary Vedhai (Perturbation)—Note.—The strength and influence of a planet in the Lunar Horoscope are enhanced or diminished by the positions of other planets with reference to the house occupied by the Moon in the figure; so much so that a planet, well-located and possessing a benevolent tendency, manifests its opposite by the resistance of a planet or planets located in their Vedhai signs indicated in the following table. And similarly, one that is badly located loses its power for evil and produces good, its adverse effects undermined by the counteractions of planets holding their Vedhai signs. This fact should be borne in mind in calculating the power of planets for good or for evil in the Lunar Horoscope. The reciprocal disposition (friendly or inimical) of the planets that cause the perturbations should be carefully considered. The Moon and Mercury, the Sun and Saturn do not affect each other through Vedhai. Vedhai places of Rahu, Kethu, and Saturn are the same as those of Mars. See table-next page.

Vedhai Signs from the House of the Moon.

Planets.	I	II	III	IV	V	VI	VII	VIII	IX	X	XI	XII
Sun	1	2	9	3	6	12	7	8	10	4	5	11
Moon	5	1	9	3	6	12	2	7	10	4	8	11
Mars	1	2	12	3	4	9	6	7	8	10	5	11
Mercury	2	5	4	3	7	9	6	1	8	10	12	11
Jupiter	1	12	2	5	4	6	3	7	10	9	8	11
Venus	8	7	1	10	9	12	2	5	11	4	3	6

N.B.—The position of Jupiter in the 5th, 9th or 11th house from the Moon in the lunar horoscope is one that presents very good prospects to the individual. In many instances, however, predictions based on these positions of Jupiter are seldom realised. This is a matter of common knowledge and the Vedhais of planets is responsible for the disappointment.

NAKSHATHRA DHASA.

CHAPTER XXXVII. *

‡ Count the asterisms from Krithika to Jenma-Nakshathra and divide the number by nine. Remainder, 1 denotes the Dhasa period of the Sun; 2, that of the Moon; 3, that of Mars; 4, that of Rahu; 5, that of Jupiter; 6, that of Saturn; 7, that of Mercury; 8, that of Kethu; 9, that of Venus.

* The preceding Chapter is XXXVI.

‡ Indian astrologers, as a rule, adopt this mode of calculation and interpretation of the horoscope of birth—Natal or Genethliacal astrology. Each of the nine sets of triangular asterisms given below has its lord, and the lord of the Dhasa, at the INFLUENCE OF PLANETARY DHASAS.

Dhasa period of the Sun—6 years. This signifies royal displeasure, fear of enmity, danger to life, loss of wealth, death of father, eye-disease and disease of the head.

Dhasa period of the Moon—10 years. This gives the individual a bright complexion, affluence, and endows him with clothes and jewels, birth of female children, health and comfort.

Dhasa period of Mars—7 years. This indicates loss of lands, sorrow and trouble by enemies, servitude, domestic troubles and pain of mind.

Dhasa of Rahu—18 years. This portends trouble from government, danger to life and loss of property. The Dhasa tends to prove fatal to the father and portends dismissal from service and deep grief.

Dhasa of Jupiter—16 years. This foretells *Abhishekam (or similar honours,) wealth and decoration. It favours birth of children, gains of learning and a state of general felicity.

Dhasa of Saturn—19 years. This signifies deficiency of thought, dishonor and loss of wealth. It tends to expose the individual to the passion of the king besides proving fatal to his mother. It also portends grief.

moment of birth, is the lord of the asterism occupied by the Moon at the time. This system is frequently known as "Udu-Dhasa" of which the total number of years is, as will be seen, 120.

Krithika, Utharapalguni and Utharashada	... Sun.
Rohini, Hastha and Sravana	... Moon.
Mrigasirsha, Chithra and Sravishta	... Mars.
Ardhra, Swathi and Sathabis	... Rahu.

Pushya, Anuradha and Utharabadrapadha	... Saturn.
Aslesha, Jyeshtha and Revathi	... Mercury.
Aswini, Magha and Mula	... Kethu.
Bharani, Purvapalguni and Purvashada	... Venus*

* This word is often used for initiation, Royal unction, etc.

Dhasa of Mercury—17 years. This favours ease, improves trade and bestows wealth. The native receives the benefit of his education and contracts relations. It welcomes marriage and similar rejoicings.

Dhasa of Kethu—7 years. This denotes a bad state of health, fever and carbuncle. The individual is likely to lose wealth and suffer from fear of poison.

Dhasa of Venus—20 years. This period is signified by increase of wealth and of the produce of the garden and the field. There is also the prospect of much profit by means of learning. The period favours also matrimony and prospect of a good position.

* KALACHAKRA DHASA

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

Note—From a study of the foregoing pages the reader will be familiar with the Election system and the Transit system or the Lunar Horoscope. The influences and effects of the movements of planets on the existence of man are based upon the nature and characteristics of the planets themselves, among other things, and the signs of the zodiac in which they may happen to be located, not to speak of their aspects and conjunctions. There is yet another equally valuable and interesting mode of ascertaining Dhasas and prognosticating the destiny for good or for evil viz., that which is called the Kalachakra Dhasa. Here is no question of the Ascendant nor of the strength of planets nor yet of their endless variety of combinations and aspects. There is a given Revolution of Time and a stereotyped rule. If the planetary Dhasa indicated by

* This word means "the Wheel of Time".

Kalachakra process co-operate with that by the horoscope of birth there will be marked effect ; otherwise, the result will be less pronounced. The asterisms are divided into two classes, Savya and Aspasavya. The Dhasa at birth should be determined from the stellar quarter occupied by the Moon at birth, as it is the most potent under this system ; the lord of the Dhasas and their signs are ascertained from that alone and not from the Ascendant at the moment of conception or of birth.

DHASA PERIOD OF SAVYA ASTERISMS.

To work out a Kalachakra Dhasa, the first step is to note the class (Savya or Apasavya) to which the Jenma-Nakshathra belongs; then the Nakshathra-Padha or the stellar quarter, at birth, and the lord of the Dhasa pertaining to the quarter and his sub-periods. (Vide tables annexed).

EFFECTS OF THE DHASAS.

Dhasa of the Sun—This has an evil influence. It causes loss of friends, offspring and wife, besides loss of independence and disease. The parents also will be adversely affected.

Dhasa of the Moon—This gives bright bodily complexion, clothes and jewels. It promotes female offspring, health and comfort.

THE SUB-PERIODS.

(1) The sub-period of Jupiter of Sagittarius succeeding that of Mars of Aries causes fever. The sub-period of Mars of Scorpio subsequent to that of Jupiter of Pisces shows the same effect.

(2) In the sub-period of the Moon subsequent to that of Mercury of Virgo, the person will lose his mother and other relations.

(3) In the sub-period of the Sun following that of the Moon the person will contract ulcer.

(4) In the sub-period of Mercury of Gemini after that of the Sun, the person's wife shall be seized with illness.

(5) In the sub-period of Mars of Aries after that of Jupiter of Sagittari, the person loses his father and other relations.

If the signs in question be occupied by benefic planets in the horoscope of birth the effect will be good; if by malefics, the issue will be disease or death.

The Dhasa period or the remaining Dhasa period required can be arrived at by the application of the rule of three.

ON JENMA-NAKSHATHRA.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

The Signification of the Month—Count the asterisms from your Jenma-Nakshathra to the one under which the Sun enters into the first point of the sign of the zodiac denoted by the month in question. Multiply that number by seven and divide the product by eight. Remainder 1 denotes illness; 2, gain; 3, travel; 4, loss of independence; 5, fortune; 6, wealth; 7, loss of property; 0, fear of untimely death.

Multiply the said remainder by 3 and divide the product by 15, adding 5. The remainder represents the expenditure.

The Dhasa periods (for purposes of this chapter) of the Sun, the Moon, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn are respectively, 6, 17, 8, 17, 19, 21 and 10 years.

Count the signs from the rising sign at the time when the Sun enters into the first point of Capricorn to your ascendant, at birth, Multiply the total by 3 and divide the product by 8, adding 5. ON SANKRAMA OR SOLAR INGRESSES.

CHAPTER XI.

Sankrama or Sankaranthi, in common parlance, means solar ingress, that is, the entry of the Sun into the first point of a sign of the zodiac. This phenomenon takes place every month, but of all the solar ingresses, the most important are those into the four cardinal movable signs Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn.

The influence and effects of Sankaranthi are judged from the gait, bed, seat, bath, weapon, meal, conveyance, the time and place, perfumes, flowers, clothes etc, of the deity known as Sankaranthi Devi.

Sankaranthi in the forenoon signifies destruction ; at noon, grief ; in the after-noon. well-being ; and at night, prosperity.

Sankrama in the forenoon portends bad time for Kshatriyas ; at noon, for Brahmanas ; in the afternoon, for Vaisyas ; at sunset (between 4-30 and 6 P. M.) to Sudras.

Devils and apparitions are adversely affected by Sankaranthi occurring at Pradhosha time ; the Rakshasas encounter evil if it occurs at dead of night ; Sankaranthi after midnight shows ruin to dancers ; at daybreak, it affects shepherds ; and at twilight time. the Linghayats.

Sankaranthi into the sign Aries during day time creates unrest and a rise in prices.

Sayanam:—Sankaranthi into Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn.

Corals, pearls, gold, sapphire, diamond, ruby, topaz, lazuli, mica, Sooryaprabhai are her favourite ornaments for the Karanas.

Bhava and Palava, with Kowlava and Thaithula to stand upon, Sankrama Devi traverses Sakhunam and the other Sthira Karanas. Her rest and sleep signify fall in prices ; sitting shows normal condition ; standing indicates rise in the prices ; her locomotion portends famine prices.

SREEJAYANTHI.

CHAPTER XLIII.

I next proceed to give the rules for determining the Sreejyanthi day in the year. Sri Krishna was born unto Dhevaki under sign Taurus and asterism Rohini on Wednesday—Ashtami of the dark half of the month of Sravana, coinciding with Harshana Yoga.

There are two orders of Jayanthi according to sages. The one is called Suddhai and the other, Viddhai. Those whose goal is Moksha (release from birth and death, and attainment of ineffable beatitude) should follow Suddhai system and avoid the other.

Viddhai—This term denotes the combination of Saptami and Ashtami with asterisms Krithika and Rohini on one and the same day. No fasting is ordained for this day nor for the day during which Saptami ends and Ashtami begins and Rohini follows Krithika—two Ghatikas after sunrise. (The idea is that the ending moment of Saptami should be before Sooryodhaya i.e., two Ghatikas before sunrise, in which case alone fasting is considered meritorious.)

The combination of asterism Rohini with Ashtami, Navami or Dhasami without Vedhai signifies Jayanthi.

Suddhai—This denotes Ashtami and Navami synchronising with Rohini and Mrigasirsha.

In this way, in all cases in which either the month, or the year is of the essence of an auspicious time, where two Thithis occur on the same day the latter of the two should be chosen. A Thithi coinciding with Sankaranthi is unfit for all devotional affairs. It is, nevertheless, to be preferred to the Saptami ruled by asterism Krithika.

Sreejayanthi—The incarnation of Vishnu was at Moonrise on Ashtami of the dark fortnight under asterism Rohini in the month of Sravana. The birth of the Lord Krishna is known as Sreejayanthi.

Fasting on Sreejayanthi is fruitful of all kinds of blessings to the devotee. Free from all terrestrial desires and attachment, he should worship Sri Krishna on that day at Moonrise and before Paranai. Pancharathras. (Vaishnavas) Deekshithas (those who perform sacrifices) and devotees of Vishnu should partake of the same feast (Paranai) in company with other Bakthas. Those who keep fast out of pure devotion to God, free from material considerations, should have Paranai at night. Those who seek worldly advantages, through observance of Sreejayanthi, should have their Paranai at the end of the Thithi.

In the Brahma Sambitha, Pithamaha says to Naradha:— “That vow by the observance of which man attains the objects of all his desires is Sreejayanthi, or, the day of the incarnation of Lord Sri. Krishna into the world. For the destruction of the wicked who are a burden upon earth and for the protection of the virtuous, Sri-Krishna was given birth to by Dhevaki at moonrise when the Moon was in the fourth quarter of asterism Rohini, coinciding with Harshana Yoga and Kowlava Karana, on Ashtami of the dark fortnight of the lunar month of Sravana, at the time when the rising sign was Taurus. with Jupiter and Rahu in Cancer, the Sun in Leo, Mercury in Virgo, Saturn in conjunction with Venus in Libra, and Mars and Kethu located in Capricorn. To abstain from food and worship the Lord on the day of his incarnation, every year, subdues all sins. Having performed his daily ablutions, the devotee should stand in devotion before the image of the Lord, duly installed on a pedestal, and pronounce the following prayer:— “Oh! Lord of Lotus Eyes! By solemn observance of the vow of fasting and of fixing my mind on Thee on this, the day of Thy incarnation, I Thee adore. I break my fast next morning. Accept this humble token of my devotion, and give me Oh ! Lord, Thy blessings divine." Then follows the regular Pujah with offerings of sacred flowers and fruits—to be concluded by silent meditation upon Sri Krishna. Balarama (his brother), Vasudeva (father), Dhevaki (mother), Nandhagopa (foster-father) and Esodhai (foster-mother). This over, the devotee should turn to the rising Moon and offer Arghya with water of the tender cocoanut, and cooked food and address the following prayer:— "Oh ! Thou Emanation from the Ocean of Milk, Thou, born of the eyes of Athri ! may this Arghya find favour with Thee and with the Goddess Rohini, by Thy side !" These devotional services should be crowned by the worship of Sri Krishna (in the manner ordained by the Sastras) with offerings of food and the fruits of the season. Sleep being forbidden, the devotee should spend the night in meditation on the Deity. The following morning, he should entertain the devotees of Vishnu at Paranai.

CHAPTER XLIV.

At sunset on the Full-Moon day ruled by asterism Krithika when the Moon is located in Taurus and the Sun in Scorpio, every house should be adorned with lighted lamps. The Full-Moon is the fundamental significator of this festival whether the ruling asterism, at the time, be Bharani or Rohini. Any other time, (than the Full-Moon) for celebrating this festival will adversely affect the king and the country. The appropriate time for illumination is about sunset—when the Sun is on the sensible horizon.

The twilight time—the time when the Sun is less than about 18° below the horizon—is next in importance. No illumination should be started later.

Pradhosha on the Full-Moon day is also auspicious for lighting if the ruling asterism be free from Vedhai. So says Brahmadeva.

For making gifts of lighted lamps choose the interval between the Full-Moon and Prathamai provided the Moon does not decrease during the time. So says Brihaspathy. The first two Ghatikas of Prathamai are, in strength and quality, as good as Pournami (Full-Moon).

Pournami (Full-Moon) is considered free from Vedhai when its ending moments coincide with Pradhosha. It is also a fortunate time for making gifts of lighted lamps. These gifts should be made during increase of the Moon, for then it bestows prosperity on the king and his country. Gifts during decrease of the Moon produce an adverse effect.

If the last Ghatika of Chathurdhasi synchronise with the first part of Pradhosha the Pournami is considered to manifest the adverse quality of Rikthai. If, in the previous evening, Pournami has the Vedhai of Chathurdhasi the gifts should be made during Prathamai even if the Full-Moon does not prolong to the next day. If Pournami exists in the two evenings, the second should be chosen. If two Pournamis occur during the month, then also the second should be chosen.

All public buildings, such as temples, palaces, Sabahs, and holy places should also be illuminated with lamps of varying sizes, even if there be lunar eclipse on "the Full-Moon day ruled by Krithika, when the Moon is in Taurus."

Even if ast. Krithika does not co-exist with the Full-Moon, there should be illumination. The celebration of this festival, as ordained by the Sastras, bestows prosperity upon the king and the country; there will be no failure of rainfall and no epidemics. The people will live in health, happiness and contentment everywhere.

THE EKADHASI.

CHAPTER XLV.

On the cooked rice consumed on the Ekadhasi day subsist all sins such as the murder of a Brahmana.

All persons between eight and eighty years of age should abstain from food on the Ekadhasi days of the bright and dark fortnights. He who eats on the Ekadhasi days kills his parents, a Brahmana and his Guru. But † Paranai on Dhwadhasi should not be given up even for reasons of great festivity, trouble, or pollution relating to birth or death.

If, at † Arunodhaya, there is any part of Dhasami, there should be no fasting on that day.

If Dhwadhasi touches the days of Ekadhasi and Thrayodhasi Thithis, fasting should be kept on the day which is wholly Dhwadhasi, and the Paranai on the Thrayodhasi day, when Dhwadhasi ends. Even if the duration of Ekadhasi be less than that of Dhwadhasi, fasting on the latter Thithi bestows good.

Sampoorna Ekadhasi—Ekadhasi that exists two Muhoorthas* before sunrise is called Sampoorna Ekadhasi. Grahashtas should fast on this day.

A person physically unable to fast may depute his wife or his knowing son to observe Ekadhasi for his sake. The reward for fasting is only attainable by complete abstinence from food for the whole day (24 hours). People realise all their cherished desires for wealth, progeny, heaven or Moksha through fasting on the Ekadhasi day.

Death-day anniversary of father or of mother should not be performed on the Ekadhasi day; it should be put off to the next Thithi, Dhwadhasi, Sraddha (death-day aniversary) performed on the Ekadhasi day does not find favour with the Pitrus. Sraddhas should not be performed on Ekadhasi days any more than they can be on days of pollution.

† The 4 Ghatikas before Sunrise.

*A Muhoorta is 48 minutes.

A person under pollution should, as usual, have his bath on the Ekadhasi day, mentally worship Vishnu and keep fast. This rule applies also to women who should abstain from food on Ekadhasi, though they may happen to be menstruous at the time. The Paranai on the next day should be had before the end of the Dhwadhasi, however short the duration of that Thithi may be. If the duration of the said Thithi be very short, the daily mid-day religious services may be done along with those of the morning. If, under unavoidable circumstances, the Paranai has to be put off, plain water at least should be taken in lieu of food within the specified time. The Lord Sri Krishna says "He who swallows food on Utthana, Sayana and Parivarthana Ekadhasis sends Salya into my throat."

In all cases of uncertainty as to the exact day for fasting, it is better to abstain from food on Dhwadhasi day and breakfast on the next.

Those who seek material prosperity should not have Paranai on Thrayodhasi day; not so for Nish-Kama Yogis who, by abstraction of mind from all worldly desires, attain Moksha.

To Determine the position of the Moon in the Zodiac for any time:—Each sign of the Zodiac contains $2\frac{1}{4}$ asterisms. Find out from the almanac the ruling asterism at the time and its order counting from Aswini. Divide this number by $2\frac{1}{4}$; the quotient represents the number of signs passed by the Moon from Aries.
